New 15-Story El Paso Club Parking Exemption Okayed

The El Paso Club Thursday was granted exemption from a provision of the city parking code requiring off-street parking, by the City Planning Commission, after architects unveiled a sketch of a proposed 15-story building with three floors devoted to parking.

Charles Sink, Denver architect, figured the space would accommodate 168 cars, using self-parking, if final plans go through for the $2.5 million skyscraper at Platte and Tejon. Sink calculated the building would require 142 parking spaces in daytime and 117 at night, at peak use.

In effect, the planning commission granted exemption to the project already granted to enterprises in the heart of downtown which do not have to provide parking lots.

The commission really does not grant exemptions, but recommends for City Council action.

The preliminary plat of Crestmoor Park subdivision by Tudor Lane Co. and Faith Realty and Development Co., 60.1 acres south of Mount View Lane, north of Templeton Gap Floodway, east of Mallow Road and west of Alabama Street, was tabled.

"Do we have to satisfy both the city and county as far as the mines are concerned," said C. V. LeForce representing Tudor and Faith.

He said there would be "extensive drilling" to "find our cover" in case mine shafts have undermined the area.

The plat was also tabled last Wednesday by the County Planning Commission. Tabling Thursday was unanimous after Commission Chairman Wayne Broneller said the companies, county and city would get together.

Kremlin Still Wants to Settle With Red China

PARIS (UPI)—The Kremlin still wants a showdown with Communist China at an international Communist summit conference, chief Soviet party theoretician Mikhail Sulov said today.

Sulov told the French Communist party's 17th national congress that such a meeting is necessary, despite Chinese insistence that it could not and should not be held for the next four or five years.

The French party announced Thursday that it wants a Communist summit, ostensibly to iron out the theoretical problems that have split Moscow and Peking. Most observers believe the Russians hope to use such a meeting to kick China out of the Communist camp.

The Chinese Communists recently accused the Russians of trying to hold a Communist summit as early as next October and flatly said such a meeting would be used to split the international party. It rejected the meeting.

Bonanza of Oil Shale Forecast By Gov. Love

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gov. John Love tried to woo New York businessmen to Colorado Thursday with predictions of a virtual bonanza with the birth of the oil shale industry.

Love and 40 businessmen arrived here Wednesday on a "Sell Colorado" campaign. He said action already underway marked the start of realization of a dream Colorado has harbored for a generation.

Love praised the recent decision of Standard Oil Co. Ohio to buy into Huntington Hartford's Oil shale Corp., and use the Tosco process of obtaining oil from shale.

Earlier in the day, the governor addressed a luncheon of New York industrialists and Wall Streeters to extoll the blessings of Colorado's climate, resources and location.

Tear Gas Used Once Again in Cambridge, Md.

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP) — National Guardsmen had to use tear gas again Thursday night to break up a Negro demonstration in this racially divided town.

Leaders in the white community called for the immediate removal of Brig. Gen. George M. Gelston, National Guard commander, charging that he was not enforcing the modified militia law which includes a ban on demonstrating.

About 150 integrationists, most of them Negroes, left St. Luke's Methodist Church Thursday night marching and singing for the fourth demonstration in as many nights.

Gelston intercepted the marchers about one-half block from Washington street, which leads into the white section of this town of 12,600.

"This is a very serious situation in this town. People are going to get hurt. I can tell you. Please take your people home. I have committed every troop I have. Please don't even walk up Pine street," Gelston told the leaders.

Most of the demonstrators dispersed, but about 20 youths refused, and began heckling the guardsmen. A few stones were thrown, and Gelston ordered tear gas fired. It took only two cannisters a spray from a new type gas gun and the youths scattered.

Guard troops have been here since last June 12, following an outbreak of racial violence. They had been reduced to a token force of 10, but an additional 350 were brought in Monday for anticipated demonstrations in the wake of a Monday night speech here by Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace. The troops still are here.

Earlier Thursday, the mayor, city council, county commissioners and the Dorchester County legislative delegation to the Maryland General Assembly called for the immediate removal of Gelston.

In wires to Gov. J. Millard Tawes, the officials said they felt regulations "are not being

13 Rattlers Still Loose in Texas Town

EDINBURG, Tex. (UPI) — Thirteen deadly rattlesnakes were still loose somewhere in this Rio Grande Valley city today, causing residents to step lightly. Police said they were "small ones," just three feet long.

The snakes were all that was left out of a batch of 35 of the poisonous reptiles that escaped from the garage of Roger Miller Wednesday night. The other 22 were either killed or captured.

Miller, a mechanic, planned to sell the snakes to a canning firm in Laredo, Tex. The firm pays 75 cents a pound for live snakes, which are canned for eating.

Swedish Spy Says He Only Wanted Peace

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Col. Stig Wennerstrom declared today he spied for the Russians from "idealistic motives, aimed at preserving the peace and power balance of the world."

The Swedish air force officer, on trial for relaying defense secrets of Sweden to Moscow over a 14-year period, offered that reason in court.

The prosecution demanded that he be sentenced to prison for life, the highest peacetime punishment in Sweden.

A defense attorney asked that the jury, with regard to Wennerstrom's "idealistic motives" and for humanitarian reasons, set a fixed term. He suggested 12 years.

The verdict is to be pronounced June 12.

Wennerstrom, 57, has stated that he also spied against the United States and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, but the court case involves only espionage against his neutral homeland. The prosecution said he turned over 160 top defense secrets of Sweden to the Russians.

Wennerstrom was indicted on three main counts, all dealing

Clear Weather Prevails Over Most of Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There were showers and thunderstorms in scattered sections but mostly clear weather prevailed in the major part of the nation today.

The wet spots covered sections of the Great Plains, along the North Atlantic Coast and in southern Florida. Heavy showers fell during the night in northeastern Wyoming, southeastern New York and Connecticut. Thunderstorms in the Southeast dropped nearly two inches of rain in Miami and West Palm Beach, Fla. But no major storms were reported today.

It was a little cool again this morning in parts of the Northeast and the northern Rockies with temperatures in the 30s. But readings were mostly near normal in other sections of the nation. Warmer weather appeared on the way for most interior areas from Alabama and Georgia northward to Michigan.

Hot and Dry Weather Seen For Colorado

By United Press International

Unless the weatherman is way off base, Colorado will be hot and dry during the next five days—like it was Thursday and Friday.

The only possible break in the heat was the weather bureau's forecast of widely scattered afternoon and evening showers which so far have failed to materialize.

Forecasters said temperatures would average six to 12 degrees above normal during the five-day period with highs up to 95 degrees forecast for the lower Arkansas Valley.

It almost got that hot in Lamar Thursday, where a high of 94 degrees was recorded. The state's coldspot early Friday was 18 degrees at Fraser.

GAS TAX BITE

NEW YORK (UPI) — During 1964, gasoline taxes in the United States will be collected at the rate of $12,540 a minute, according to the American Petroleum Institute. The total of federal and state gasoline taxes paid by motorists is expected to hit $6.6 billion.

Rev. King Wants $15 Billion To Fight American 'Poverty'

By KATHRYN JOHNSON

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. plans to take to President Johnson a proposal for a far more gigantic attack on poverty than the President has proposed—a "bill of rights for the disadvantaged."

The Negro leader, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, said today his plan would immediately transform the conditions of Negro life—as well as conditions for millions of indigent white persons.

"I don't see any possibility of bringing the Negro into the mainstream of American life without some type of compensatory consideration to make up for all the things he has been deprived of," King said in an interview.

"Economists concerned with poverty feel we could do it with about $15 billion," King said. "The President has proposed something over $9 million, which is only a beginning.

"I plan to discuss it with the President in a month or so as a concrete proposal after it has been worked out more thoroughly."

He said his proposal is patterned after the GI bill of rights which compensates veterans for certain advantages of which they were deprived.

"We need the kind of massive assistance program that would bring aid to between 30 and 40 million poverty-stricken people in this country. Percentagewise, Negroes are among the largest numbers," he said.

But he added "it is a simple matter of justice that the United States in dealing creatively with the task of raising the Negro from backwardness should also rescue a large stratum of the forgotten white poor."

King said that through his bill the government could provide educational opportunities and grants of assistance, extend the better housing conditions as well as reduce down payments for houses, and provide medical grants of assistance, extend the Manpower Training Act, provide better housing conditions as well as reduce down payments for houses, and provide medical care.

King said the civil rights bill now before the Senate doesn't touch problems in the North.

"In the North, where Negroes have migrated in the thousands, you have a hard core of Negro poverty," he said.

Church Chiefs Are Split Over Prayers in Schools

By ARNOLD B. SAWISLAK

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two church leaders split today on the issue of amending the constitution to authorize schoolroom prayers. Two top law professors stood together against any change in the First amendment.

The churchmen and the legal experts appeared before the House Judiciary Committee as it ended a fourth week of hearings on 147 proposals to override recent Supreme Court decisions barring prayer and Bible reading as required parts of public school programs.

Dr. Daniel A. Poling of New York and Philadelphia testified in favor of an amendment "to make clear that separation of church and state does not mean exclusion of religious practices under proper non-sectarian conditions in public education."

Poling, editor of the Christian Herald, said he supported the high court's decision invalidating a government - composed prayer in New York. But he said he objected to the thrust of subsequent decisions which he said seemed to lean toward "subordinating religion to irreligion, and indeed, of supporting irreligion."

The veteran minister and author said, "surely . . . to protect those who, in their freedom, do not believe in God, we should not destroy or restrict the more than century-old commitments of practices of those who do believe."

Opposition to prayer amendments came in prepared statements from the Rev. Ben Mohr Herbster, New York, president of the United Church of Christ, and constitutional lawyers professors Paul A. Freund of Harvard University and Paul G. Kauper of the University of Michigan.

Herbster said neither he nor anyone else could speak for the entire two million members of the United Church of Christ. But he said he personally felt the proposed amendments "would seriously jeopardize the right of all parents to determine the religious faith of their children."

Specifically discussing a proposed constitutional amendment offered by Rep. Frank J. Becker, R-N.Y., and more than 50 other congressmen, Herbster said, "There will be winners and losers if the amendment ever should be adopted.

"The losers will be those of us who believe that religious views are too personal, too sacred to be determined by the state or promulgated by the state," he said in the testimony submitted to the committee.

"The winners will be those persons who believe they have a monopoly on religious truth and are willing to employ the power of the state to require all society to accept their version of the truth or to face ridicule and reprisal."

Remains of Two British Soldiers Found in Aden

By DENNIS NEELD

ADEN (AP)—The remains of two British soldiers whose heads were hacked off by rebel tribesmen are being buried in Aden today with full military honors.

The headless bodies of Capt. Robin Edwardes and Pvt. John Warburton were discovered in the Radfan Mountains 60 miles north of Aden by troops of the British-protected Federation of South Arabia, British army authorities announced Thursday night.

The shallow graves near the Yemen frontier were within a few hundred yards of where Edwardes' nine-man patrol ran into more than 100 rebels April 30. Edwardes and Warburton were killed as the patrol charged shoulder to shoulder and broke through a ring of tribesmen.

The rest of the patrol escaped. An intelligence report said the severed heads were buried just across the Yemen border in Qataba.

Four days later the British Middle East commander said the heads had been displayed on spikes in Taiz, one of Yemen's two capitals. The report shocked British public opinion.

Later U.S. officials at Taiz reported that the heads had not been displayed there. Leaders of Britain's opposition Labor party criticized the Conservative government for putting out an unverified report.

In London, Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home told the House of Commons Thursday night that the Middle East is ready to erupt into war. But he

Carpenter Tours Capsule For Undersea Living

PANAMA CITY, Fla. (AP)—Astronaut M. Scott Carpenter Thursday toured the 40-foot long capsule he will call home for eight days beneath the sea.

Sealab 1, a 62,000-pound capsule under construction at the U.S. Navy Mine Defense Laboratory, will be submerged near Bermuda in July. Carpenter and four other Navy men will enter the capsule on the 13th day of its 21-day stay 200 feet below the surface.

The Sealab project will test man's ability to live at the ocean bottom eventually for as long as 30 days.

Astronauts are interested, Lt. Cmdr. Carpenter said, "Because we hope through exchange of information gained in this pioneer experiment to move ahead mutually with respect to knowledge of space and ocean depths."

Crime Found Falling Off In Rough, Tough Chicago

By SEYMOUR M. HERSH

CHICAGO (AP)—Crime — of all things — is falling off in rough, tough Chicago.

And most of the credit for the dropping crime rate belongs to Police Supt. Orlando W. Wilson, 64, who says it's "all been easier than I thought it would be."

Wilson, a former dean of criminology at the University of California, is beginning his fifth year as head of the 13,000-man police department, one of the nation's largest.

When Wilson took over, some said it was also one of the most corrupt.

"I'm not going to bury my head in the sand," Wilson said in an interview Thursday. "There was a lot of corruption and graft in the department before I came.

"We had then and still have a lot of organized crime in Chicago. We haven't got it whipped yet, but we're working on it."

Last year while the nation's major crime rate rose 10 per cent, a dropoff of more than 3 per cent was recorded in Chicago.

"We've broken the trend," Wilson said, and he gives much of the credit to a host of major revamping programs.

Wilson has a host of critics, many of them on the police force who sullenly refer to him as "the professor."

But he said they don't worry him.

Wilson, who once taught in the traffic research bureau at Harvard University, says he is "delighted I took the job. It's been easier than I thought it would be, mostly because of Mayor (Richard J.) Daley. They warned me when I first started that Daley wouldn't back me when the troubles began, but he's supported me all the way, even when I've cost him votes."

JAMES M. ROGERS

James M. Rogers Dies as Blaze Sweeps Island

The body of James M. Rogers, a frequent lecturer at the Freedom School, was discovered Thursday in the remains of a fire that swept across an island where he was vacationing in Canada.

Mr. Rogers was living in a cabin on the island, and according to information received here, had apparently started a brush fire to clear some land. The fire blazed out of control, completely destroying the cabin. Mr. Rogers was the only inhabitant of the island, having gone there to work on a proposed book. His body was discovered Thursday.

He had been assistant to the president of the Ingersoll Milling Machine Co. in Rockford, Ill., but resigned this position last December to devote his time to writing and teaching on the subjects of freedom, economics, free market economy, and related topics.

Mr. Rogers lectured here at the Freedom School in August, 1958, and in June and September of 1959. He also spoke at a meeting at the El Paso Club.

Brokerage Firm Chief Reported To Be Suicide

NEW YORK (AP)—Vernon C. Walston, president of Walston & Co., one of the nation's largest brokerage firms, killed himself with a double blast from a shotgun at his Wall Street office Thursday night.

His chauffeur, who found the body, told police Walston talked repeatedly about suicide during a day-long drive around the city.

No note was found. Police said they had no clue to the reason for Walston's apparent despondency. His physician said Walston, 58, had been in good health but may have been working too hard.

Walston & Co., which he founded in 1932, reported assets of $151 million and a net worth of $17.5 million last Aug. 30. It has nearly 100 branches.

Last December the firm absorbed J. R. Williston & Beane, Inc., another brokerage house, which was one of the many victims of the $150-million soybean oil scandal that broke in November.

Gustave Puigdollers, Walston's chauffeur, told police that after he watched Walston enter the office suite he went to a lobby telephone to call Mrs. Walston.

While he was talking with her, he said, he heard two shots, ran into the office, and found Walston sitting in front of his desk. A shotgun was on the floor beside him. He shot himself in the mouth, police said.

The 20-gauge shotgun was one of several Walston kept in his office. Walston was a big-game hunter and he had lined the walls of the office with trophy heads, elephant tusks and bear skins.

Walston, born in Perry, Okla., started his career as a clerk for the Bank of America in Visalia, Calif. He formed his own brokerage firm in San Francisco. The

'Any Damn Moment We May All Get Blown Up,' Scientist Huxley Says

BOSTON (AP)—Sir Julian Huxley, British biologist, author and lecturer, says "The trouble is, any damn moment we may all get blown up."

The 76-year-old scientist in a Boston Globe interview today said the "most immediate problem we face is to see we don't get blown to smithereens in a nuclear war."

"The trouble with this 'ultimate deterrent' everyone talks about is that it's likely to turn into an 'ultimate detergent' that will wipe us all off the earth," he said.

Hunting and Fishing

By DICK MOORE

Reports reaching the Game, Fish and Parks Department's office from Wildlife Conservation officers in southeastern Colorado suggest lower water levels following weeklong drying winds, but continued success among anglers in pursuit of fish.

Dan Riggs, Westcliffe, said that the water at DeWeese Reservoir is dark and slightly muddy, windy and cold. The roads in his area are okay. A newcomer to the report is Balman Reservoir which is now free of ice. The water is clear, snow persists around the lake. Some drifts on the road, otherwise road rough, but open, Riggs said.

The Buena Vista-Leadville country is opening up slowly, according to WCO, Cody Jordan; but where open water exists fishing has been good. Twin Lakes channel is open, as is part of the upper lake. Lower Twin is still frozen except at the outlet proper, Jordan reported.

Most of the north side of Clear Creek Reservoir is ice free, and nice catches of rainbow were taken on salmon eggs. Clear Creek is open to one and

High Lakes continue to be inaccessible.

Ed Bechaver, WCO Trinidad area, said the water of North Lake is quite low. The road is good! Cucharas Pass road is open between North Lake and La Veta. North Lake is still under construction.

In addition, Bechaver reported that the city of Trinidad will open Monument Lake, today. The water level in Monument is below normal but is rising.

A Trinidad city ordinance restricts fishing to the use of natural baits (Salmon eggs are out) and lures in Monument and North Lakes, Bechaver emphasized.

At Bonny Dam, 20 miles north of Burlington, Dean Weyerman, conservation officer in the area, enthusiastically reported fair to good fishing for walleyes, crappies, white bass, and some northern pike. Allow another week or two for the water to warm, and then lookout, Weyerman said.

Cottonwood and O'Haver Lakes are pretty well bound by ice, Kenny Wagner, WCO at Salida reported.

Wagner said the high lakes are inaccessible. Roads closed with snow.

The main Arkansas River, North and South Forks of the Arkansas, as well as Silver, Poncha, Greens Gulch, Chalk Creek and many other tributaries of the Arkansas River are open for some distance. Chalk Creek is open to Alpine, Wagner remarked.

He emphasized that lakes and streams reported here have been recently stocked.

Most promising fishing water in the South Park area is Tarryall Lake, according to WCO Harold Lanning of Fairplay. He reported the fishing at Tarryall good for rainbows in the 8"-14" size. Tarryall Creek doesn't show anything, he said.

Lanning said Antero Reservoir is still drained and can't be counted on to provide fishing until the water level is brought up, however, there is some fishing below the dam.

Jefferson Lake road is snowed in; although Jefferson Creek is good fishing for "brooks" on bait, west of Highway No. 287 (U. S.), Lanning informed us.

Bill Kent, WCO in the Beulah-Rye area, said Lake San Isabel fishing has been good. Anglers are using mostly bait, fireballs, and worms. The weather has been bad with strong, high winds, Kent reported.

St. Charles River, Willis Creek, and Greenhorn Creek are all fairly clear. Stream fishing is fair.

Kent said roads in the Beulah-Rye area are good with exceptions of maybe a tree blown across the road every now and then.

Reporting on Martin and Horseshoe Lakes at Lathrop State Park three miles west of Walsenburg, WCO Frank Cordova said fishing is fair to good.

The Huerfano River is providing fair to good fishing through the state owned Game, Fish and Parks property above Redwing, Frank Cordova, WCO of trast, the Cuchara River is Walsenburg, advised. By conpoor, although the roads are good up the Cuchara.

Good old standby Al Heins, WCO at Las Animas, came through with another encouraging report on Hasty Lake just below John Martin Reservoir at Hasty, Colorado, when he said that good catches of rainbows were taken out. Fair numbers of walleyes show up, Heins said. Excellent camping facilities are provided at Hasty Lake.

Fair catches of bullheads are coming from Setchfield Lake, 25 miles south of Las Animas, Heins commented. The water is extremely low and unless moisture is forthcoming the bullhead fishing will suffer.

At Blue Lake (Adobe Creek Reservoir) anglers, according to Heins, make catches of walleyes on lures and night crawlers. Some white bass and crappie taken on minnows, and a few channel cat taken also.

Ramah Reservoir, east of Colorado Springs, boasts fair to good fishing for rainbows on baits and lures according to WCO John Stevenson.

Frank Colley, WCO here, pointed out that the ice has left Skaguay Reservoir east of Victor. Fishing for rainbows is usually good for at least a week following a fish plant by the Game, Fish and Parks Department. Some kokanee salmon are taken by anglers almost anytime.

Nine catches of walleye, crappies, bass, trout and catfish are reportd from Two Buttes Reservoir twenty-five miles south from Lamar by Don Bogart, area supervisor. Irrigators are drawing down the water level at Two Buttes and as a result there is some concern whether fishing will survive another ten days. Anglers should plan a trip in the near future if they are at all interested.

"Good Fishing" to all.

Racial School Integration To Cost More Expenditure

By RICHARD F. WHALEN

NEW YORK (AP) — Higher quality, better integrated education in New York City will cost a lot more money and the state and nation should help pay for it, says James B. Donovan, president of the Board of Education.

The school system has been sharply criticized by a state advisory committee that said nothing the board has done or planned can halt the trend of increasing de facto segregation in the public schools.

Donovan said Wednesday it will take "several hundred millions of dollars" to put into effect the committee's recommendations and to carry out other similar programs.

He said he intends to ask Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to call a special session of the Legislature this summer to vote additional school aid.

And he said he has talked with Sargent Shriver, head of President Johnson's antipoverty campaign, who promised that requests for funds "will receive fair and prompt consideration."

The advisory committee recommended a top-to-bottom reorganization of the school system. It indicated that at least $250 million would have to be added to the annual operating budget of $800 million.

It said total desegregation is impossible and that 131 elementary schools and 25 junior high schools are 90 per cent or more Negro and Puerto Rican—twice the number five years ago.

New York has no legal segregation, but neighborhood racial patterns have led to schools that are predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican or white.

Frederick Jones, state education director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and Norman Hill, national program director for the Congress of Racial Equality, said in a joint statement: "The recommendations (of the committee) embody the basic, comprehensive, imaginative approach to the problems of de facto segregated and unequal educational opportunities we have been seeking."

Donovan, a lawyer known through his work in the Francis Gary Powers "spy swap" and in the release of the Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners from Cuba, commented on the need for funds in a shipboard interview before sailing for Europe.

He noted that the state report said more than 700,000 Negroes and Puerto Ricans had moved into the city and 800,000 whites had left since World War II.

It would be just as unfair to expect the city to cope with this problem alone, he said, as it would have been to require Miami to pay the entire cost of settling more than 200,000 Cuban refugees.

In its report Tuesday, the committee proposed a system in which primary schools would go through fourth grade, middle through eighth and high schools through twelfth.

Primary schools would be neighborhood schools. The middle schools would have some busing of pupils to improve racial balance. High schools, which are three-year schools now and mostly integrated, would remain much the same.

At present the system has six elementary grades.

Negroes and Puerto Ricans form about 45 per cent of the public school enrollment. The committee said that unless new efforts are made, the figure in 15 years will be about 70 per cent.

The committee, which had received its assignment from James E. Allen Jr., state education commissioner, is his Advisory Committee on Human Relations and Community Tensions. The members are the president of Teachers College of Columbia University, a Negro professor of psychology at City College and a rabbi.

There Was No Traffic Light at Intersection

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) —"How come you ran the red light?" motorist Charles Tinker asked motorcycle Patrolman Clyde Ingle after their vehicles had collided. "I had the green."

Tinker, 26, of Americus, Ga., was charged with drunken driving.

STAGGERING INTO JAIL

BENTON, Ky. (AP) — Sometimes the law enforcement business is easy as pie.

CART LIFTERS

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP)—People who walk off with shopping carts at food centers narrowly escaped a proposed city ordinance to control these cart discarders.

The City Council instructed Corporation Counsel Murray Conzelman to draft an ordinance aimed at fines for both grocery store owners and customers. It would require a $10 recovery fee.

Aldermen agreed that something should be done to discontinue the practice of leaving carts in the middle of streets and on private property.

Aldermen voted down the ordinance by a 9 to 7 margin.

Deaths

LONDON (AP) — Diana Wynyard, 58, one of Britain's greatest actresses and a top movie star in Hollywood in the 1930s, died Wednesday of a kidney ailment.

MONTCLAIR, N.J. (AP) — Josephine Sugden Murphy, 77, widow of Frederick Duncan Murphy, who was founder and president of the Art Gravure Corp., died Tuesday of a heart attack. Mrs. Murphy was the mother of Mrs. Herman Henry Ridder of Long Beach, Calif., president of Ridder Publications.

COLLEGE GETS FOSSILS

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee has agreed to purchase the Greene Geological Museum, a collection of some 70,000 fossils now housed on the adjacent Milwaukee-Downer College campus.

The fossils, some of them relics of this area 500 million years ago, were collected by Thomas A. Greene, a pharmacist who came to Milwaukee from Rhode Island in 1848.

The university bought the fossils for $20,000 from the school, which is moving to Appleton to merge with Lawrence College.

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, M.D., Ph.D.

Don't think I am exaggerating when I charge the Food and Drug Administration with Gestapo tactics, like the book burning episode mentioned yesterday. Federal bureaucrats are intoxicated with their assumption of unwarranted power, though they are just the "hired hands" of all U.S. voters.

By George W. Crane, PhD, MD.

Case S-466: Three years ago I told you newspaper readers about the theory of trace chemicals.

Until 1924, simple goiter flourished, yet the addition of a tiny trace of iodine to table salt has now almost entirely banished simple goiter.

Then Dr. Joseph Muhler, of Indiana Uniersity Dental College, and other great biochemical pioneers, have proved that fluoridation of water checks as high as 65 per cent of decayed teeth in children.

Yet only ONE part of fluorine is added to one million parts of water!

Medics used to think such tiny traces of chemicals had no effect, but now we have had to change our ideas.

Since we have many ailments, such as gray hair, baldness, psoriasis and possibly even cancer, which are called "Deficiency ailments," and since ALL the chemical elements that will dissolve in water are in the oceans, I suggested that the use of sea salt or even a little ocean water might thus offer our internal organs a chemical smorgasbord.

Many of you readers, as well as about 5,000 doctors, wrote to me they were putting their families or patients on this broad spectrum of trace chemicals found in the sea.

For our blood also contains

all those 44 sea chemicals, since blood is essentially water.

A member of our U.S. Department of Agriculture and also Dr. A. L. Miller, M.D., Director of the Division of Saline Water, in our U.S. Department of the Interior, wrote to me to commend my articles about sea salt in the newspapers.

And Dr. Miller even recommended to my attention a sea salt firm in Houston, Texas.

A Quaker businessman in Columbus, Ohio, then became interested in sea salt, and began distributing it.

But soon a government official descended on a supermarket in Columbus which had the sea salt on display.

That enterprising store manager also had obtained some copies of the green-faced booklet mentioned below, for it had been released via my column in the Columbus CITIZEN-JOURNAL.

"You don't dare have Dr. Crane's booklet on the same counter with the sea salt," demanded that Gestapo government agent.

So they haggled and finally the government agent said:

"If you put Dr. Crane's booklet 20 feet away, then you can sell the sea salt."

So the booklets were put on a distant counter, 20 feet away!

Next day another agent entered and demanded that those newspaper booklets be placed "at least 40 feet away."

The third Gestapo agent of our government then came in and confiscated not only all of this sea salt, but 26 copies of the newspaper booklet released via the great Scripps-Howard paper, the CITIZEN-JOURNAL.

Yet the salt cartons contained no claims of medical cures and my booklet had made none but has simply suggested that trace chemicals MAY be proved a greater boon than sulfa drugs and our medical antibiotics.

So the Columbus grocer lost his salt due to this Hitler type of invasion of his rights by our Gestapo FDA agents.

Send for my booklet "The Ocean's 44 Trace Chemicals," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20c and see for yourselves!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Petite Brunette Girl Joins Fire Fighters

BOSTON (AP) — Attractive Fredericka Smickle is a wonderful girl to call when things get hot around the house.

Miss Smickle was hired by Fire Chief Christopher Duckles, a sophomore from Berkeley, Calif.

The petite brunette from Easton, Pa., said: "I guess the idea shook up Duckles and the other firemen a bit. After all, you usually don't send women into burning buildings; you get them out."

Duckles commented: "She's a great fireman. She's a whiz at figuring out pressure, hose elevations and things like that. She's very enthusiastic; never misses a practice."

CHANCE MEETING

Lt. Comdr. Gerald W. Cook and Kanzo Yoshiki worked together in Japan for several months before a chance remark by the Japanese man relating to an incident in his youth rang a bell in Cook's memory.

Both recalled a year's pen-pal experience in 1948 but neither could remember the name of his former correspondent. Cook wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Cook here, asking that they search for the old letters. They were found, bearing the return address, "Kanzo Yoshiki."

Officer Receives Promotion With Carson Duty

A promotion and assignment to a key job awaited Capt. Wayne Clay when he reported in May 5, 1964 from duty in Korea, to 5th Infantry Division (Mechanized), Ft. Carson, Colo.

This 1960 graduate of West Point found orders advancing him to captain's rank. Brig. Gen. Chester Lee Johnson, assistant division commander, pinned on his double tracks in a formal ceremony in command headquarters.

His new job will be assistant G4 with the special project of coordinating and expediting the division's mechanization.

By the time troops return from Exercise Desert Strike, Clay hopes that the necessary materiel will be available for issue to meet the plan for complete mechanization in late June.

Cost of the mechanization has been put at $44,000,000 which includes 37 M48A3 tanks, 393 M113 armored personnel carriers and 38 M108 selfpropelled howitzers and changes in wheeled vehicle allocations.

A series of additional new types of equipment will be issued when available from production.

Clay was commissioned in the Corps of Engineer but changed to ordance for further training in his primary field of interest, industrial management.

School Prayer Group Will Be Given Hearing

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP) —A group of movie stars who want a constitutional amendment to permit public school prayers have won a fight to testify before the House Judiciary Committee.

Acting Chairman Michael A. Feighan, D-Ohio, reversing an earlier decision by Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y. Wednesday invited the Hollywood spokesman for Project Prayer to lead today's parade of witnesses.

Celler, who has been presiding over the hearings since they began April 22, rejected Project Prayer's first request on the ground that he did not want the hearings "unduly prolonged."

Celler is absent this week, attending an international conference on immigration in Geneva, and Feighan, the second ranking Democrat on the committee, is presiding.

Feighan, who long has been feuding with Celler and who had not attended any of the hearing sessions before Wednesday, promptly overruled Celler's decision.

When Feighan announced his decision the Hollywood group was already in Washington and had issued a press release demanding to be heard. The release identified Victor Jory, Colleen Gray, Susan Seaforth and Rhonda Fleming as the spokesmen for Project Prayer who wanted to testify.

Zone Change, Preliminary Plat Tabled at Hearing

A request for a zone change and another for approval of a preliminary plat for a housing area located partly within an undermined area in northern Colorado Springs were tabled Wednesday afternoon by the Planning Commission in public hearing.

The commission approved five petitions, accepted five preliminary plats and three final plats.

Tabled was a zone change request filed by John Ottemen, Waldemar Schulz, Franklin Vogel and F. R. Potter who want to change an A-3 Airport Farming district to a C-1 Roadside Service district in an area located east of Highway 24 and north of Highway 94. The area contains approximately 100 acres.

Robert Johnson, attorney for the four men, told the commission that the high speed traffic on both Highway 24 and 94 made the area undesirable for residential property. He said that petitions had been circulated in the area and that most of the property owners were in favor of the zone change. He said a motel and restaurant are located immediately west of the property. The area is not served by city water.

The Commission expressed the opinion that it would not want to make a decision without seeing a plan which would indicate the use to which the land will be put. The commission also expressed the desire to study plans of the four men for securing water and installing sanitation facilities in accordance with regulations of the City-County Health Department.

Action on the request was tabled until the commission can study land use and sanitation plans.

C. V. LeForce, manager of Faith Realty and Investment Co., appeared on behalf of his firm which presented a preliminary plat to the county planners for Crestmoor Park. The housing area is located between Mount View Lane and Templeton Gap Floodway and east of Mallow Road. It contains 60.10 acres.

The commission tabled action on the plat until a final, corrected plat is prepared.

In other action, the planning commission approved a request for a zone change by Blanton and Lucille Cogburn. The request was to change an R-2 Residence district to a C-2 Suburban Business district of an area located on the southwest corner of Boulder Street and Bonfoy Avenue in Knob Hill.

A request by Martin J. Murphy to change an A-1 Garden Home district to an R-2 Residence district was granted by the board. The area is located south of Uintah Street and west of North Circle Drive. Murphy plans to build one or more apartment buildings in the area.

Robert M. Green's request to change an A-2 Farming district to an A-1 Garden Home district for an area located between Highway 85-87 and Widefield Road was granted. Approval was given on the basis that Green show he has permission to connect to the Widefield sanitation District.

A request by Earl Reynolds to change an M-Industrial district to a C-2 Suburban Business district was approved. The area is located north of Nichols Boulevard between North El Paso Street and North Prospect Street, and is located in the Pikes Peak Industrial Park.

The commission okayed a request by E. Payson Gregory to change an A-2 Rural district to a C-1 Roadside Service district for purposes of erecting a sign. The area is located east of North U.S. 85-87 north of Monument. Gregory said he has an auto camp north of the area to be rezoned and that he needs the zone change to permit the erection of a large sign.

Preliminary plats approved included the following:

Stratmoor Valley, fourth filing presented by Stratmoor Development Co., located between Interstate Highway 25 and Fountain Creek, containing about 10 acres.

Forest Heights, second filing presented by Raymond H. Schreiner, located north of State Highway 50 between Arrowwood Drive and Lake Drive, containing about 105 acres.

Pine Park Estates, presented by Charles Eaton, located south on Burgess Road and east of Vollmer Road, containing about 160 acres.

Green Mountain Ranch Estates presented by Norman B. and Lorraine Robinson, located west of Interstate Highway 25 and northwest of the U.S. Air Force Academy, containing about 193 acres.

Forest Highlands Subdivision presented by the Black Forest Corp., located east of Highway 157 between Hobbs Road and Murphy Road, and containing about 400 acres. This is an unzoned area.

Final plats approved included Little Ranches of the Fountain, Pleasant View Estates, and Broadmoor Village.

A tabled item that failed to get on the agenda was approved by the commission. The item involved a request by Cecil M. Koscelnik to change an R-2 Residence district to a C-2 Suburban Business district, located between East Platte Avenue and Boulder Street and west of Sunset Road. The petition was tabled April 8 due to the failure of the petitioner to appear at the hearing.

Today in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

SURPRISE GUEST: Friends threw a dinner party Thursday night to celebrate Justice William O. Douglas' quarter century on the Supreme Court. The surprise guest, arriving after the dessert, was President Johnson.

Johnson dropped in at the party, in a private club three blocks from the White House, after flying back to Washington from the funeral of Rep. Clarence Cannon, D-Mo., in Elsberry, Mo.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., one of those attending the Douglas party, said the President spoke a few words and after staying about 90 minutes returned to the White House.

Earlier in the day, Johnson slipped away from the White House to have a creole gumbo lunch served up in a Senate suite by Sen. Allen Ellender, D-La., famed on Capitol Hill for his Louisiana cooking.

CENSORSHIP: The Army was reported Thursday to have barred from publication in an official magazine an article critical of Pentagon policy written by retired Lt. Gen. Garrison H. Davidson.

Davidson is a former West Point superintendent and commander of the 1st Army.

Before he retired last month, the general wrote the Defense Department of his criticism of the program for reorganizing Army divisions. He said it was being carried out at the cost of traditions.

Then he put his views into an article for the magazine of the Command and General Staff School at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., an official Army publication.

The unofficial service magazine, Army Navy and Air Force Journal and Register, reported that editors of the Ft. Leavenworth publication submitted the article to the Department of the Army for review.

The army refused to permit publication, the Journal and Register said, because of inconsistency with existing policy and because publication would be tantamount to public criticism by a senior commander of official policies and programs.

HALFWAY POINT NEAR

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Bureau of Public Roads said Wednesday that more than 38 per cent of Colorado's interstate highway system has been completed. The bureau said 368.8 miles of the 948-mile system had been built at a cost of $120.1 million. Construction now is underway on 80 more miles of interstate roads.

YUMmm--m, STEAK — Don Sutton, center, newly elected president of the Pikes Peak Advertising Club and manager of the Dixon Paper Products Company in Colorado Springs, enjoys a tender, juicy sirloin steak with two less fortunate Ad Club members looking on with envy. Sutton was among those who signed up a new member to the club, while only beans were the menu for hungry George Haver, left, and Bob Hiltbrand, advertising managers at the Gazette Telegraph, in the group that did not recruit a new member during the current membership drive. Business and professional people interested or associated with the advertising industry are invited to join the association.

Do-It-Yourself Census Is Success

The counting-by-mail project brought a flood of census forms into the Louisville Post Office Thursday.

By midnight, some 160,000 of the 240,000 forms mailed had been returned.

The census area covered Jefferson County (Louisville) and two counties across the Ohio River in Indiana, Clark and Floyd.

This was the first do-it-yourself venture into the big leagues of population. Earlier counts were held in smaller cities, John Baker, bureau information officer said, but first-day response was less than here.

"We have asked Congress for funds to make a similar test in another metropolitan area, in the next fiscal year," he said. "We have not chosen the area but we probably will try a somewhat larger metropolitan area."

The Louisville metropolitan area has about 750,000 residents.

PEOPLE LIKE MONEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Any notion that credit cards are making money less popular is all wet, the Institute of Life Insurance says. Government figures show the folding money and cash in circulation still amounts to $200 for every man, woman and child in the United States.

The inoculation program held here May 3 by Miss Mae Schwartz, Park County nurse from Fairplaay, who was assisted by Dr. Ruth Howard at the school was attended by numerous children. Mrs. Wilbur Lewis, Miss Myrna Robson and Mrs. Ira Moreland helped with the records.

Mr. and Mrs. Cotton Gordan and sons of Tarryall River Ranch were recent guests of Col. and Mrs. M. Holt at the Air Force Academy. While there, the Gordans' two sons, Pat and Ben, were baptized by the AFA chaplain in the impressive chapel on the base.

Mrs. Winfield Barr has been on the sick list and Mrs. Ben Barr Jr. has been substitute school cook. Johnny Barr has also been confined to his home with illness and a speedy recovery is wished for both.

The fierce windstorms of last week have depleted soil moisture content and lowered springs and ponds. Tuesday's windstorm did minor damage such as uprooting trees, overturning gas tanks and damaging roofs. A more cheerful note may be added: The anemones are unusually lovely this spring, large and deeply colored and very plentiful.

Mrs. [illegible] Gordan was an overnight guest recently of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. [illegible] of Cascade and she attended the ESA Founders Day banquet at the Elks [illegible] in Colorado Springs.

Those from Lake George attending the luncheon and meeting of Republican Woman's Club at Hartsel were Mrs. Wilbur Lewis, Mrs. Leigh Reeves, Mrs. Emil Waring, Mrs. Cotton Gordan and Mrs. Ben Garver. The speaker was Gordon [illegible] of Grand Junction. Mrs. Reeves was elected club secretary.

Twenty-five members of the Help U Club enjoyed a [illegible] dinner at the home of Mrs. Art Waring May 7. Roll call was answered with "Famous Mothers of History." The [illegible] was won by Mrs. Earl Sever. "Happy Birthday" was sung to Mrs. Albert Lafferty and Mrs. Alfred Leonard. It was agreed the club will buy material and make curtains for the sun room at the Fairplay hospital, and Mrs. Carl Rock and Mrs. Harry Spencer agreed to get the details for this project. Helen Wright is collecting cancelled stamps for the hospital. The new coffee urn, a gift of the Gold Bond Stamp Company, was on display. Communications were read regarding the program for District County Council to be hosted by Teller Park clubs in September. It was announced church services will be held at Hartsel at 4 p.m. each Sunday at the Hartsel Community Hall. The next meeting will be May 21 at the home of Mrs. Marie Monroe, assisted by Mrs. Chet Burns.

Mrs. Billy Manuel and Mrs. Luke Madole were callers in Florence and Canon City one day last week, calling on several friends there.

Rangers Tom Dix and Leigh Reeves attended a meeting of forestry officials in Colorado Springs last week.

Surveyors are presently in this area laying out the route for the new telephone line the Mountain States Telephone Company will build in the near future into the Tarryall communities and ranches.

Mr. and Mrs. Dooley Decker and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Lindgren of Colorado Springs visited Lake George friends en route to their cabin at Twin Lakes.

Mrs. Dorothy Erb spent Mothers Day visiting her children, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Watts and family at Nucla.

Junior students attending school at Woodland Park attended the junior-senior prom and banquet last week at Rainbow Valley Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Ethridge and children of Boulder and Mrs. J. C. Abell of Houston, Tex., visited their Lake George ranch last week. Mrs. Abell reported her older son, Kirk, will soon return to Africa with his family as he is a medical missionary. Mrs. Abell's youngest son, Andrew, is presently teaching classes in psychiatry in a New Jersey college after receiving his Ph.D. last year.

Mr. and Mrs. George Foulke and [illegible] spent Mothers Day home from Greeley. Sandy Garver also was home over the weekend.

The name of Jim Sumner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Sumner, was on the list of honor students at St. John's Academy at Salina, Kan.

Karen [illegible] was the narrator at the annual style show Friday night presented by the home economic students at Woodland Park High.

Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Burns of Hollywood, Calif., visited last week at the home of his nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Chet Burns and family.

The attendance at Divide church has been excellent with a number from this area in attendance.

Springs Business Firm Charges $7,968.39 Swindle were not available for comment, but it was reported that they own the firm along with investors from Denver.

The two FBI agents, posing as Colorado businessmen, arrested Deaton in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel after he accepted an $18,000 check from the agents to supposedly close the deal with the Colorado Springs firm.

According to Associated Press, Asst. U.S. Atty. John S. Martin Jr., said that evidence had been uncovered indicating that Deaton had "taken" businessmen throughout the country for about $300,000 since 1961.

He was charged with transporting from Colorado Springs to New York $7,968.39 obtained by fraud from Dragoo, Tribble and their business associates in the Golden Mortgage Trust Co.

Martin told the AP that Deaton approached the operators of the mortgage firm representing himself as an executive of the International Insurance Company of Nassau, the Bahamas, and promising a $900,000 loan to finance land development in El Paso County.

"As part of his fee in the deal, Deaton received the $7,968.39 shipped by wire from Colorado to New York," Martin said.

U.S. Commissioner Earl N. Bishopp set bail at $50,000 for the defendant, who, the AP said, exhibited pained surprise when brought to a hearing.

"Deaton travels about the country executing these schemes to defraud," the AP quoted Martin. But Deaton's lawyer said his client is "a substantial businessman, and his reputation is excellent."

Golden Mortgage Trust Co. reportedly had signed a contract with a group of landowners in Colorado Springs, contingent on securing the loan promised by Deaton.

Remains of Two British Soldiers Found in Aden

said his government had no intention of intervening in the struggle between Yemen's republican and royalist factions.

Douglas-Home said Britain's only objective is to protect its military base at Aden and live up to its treaty obligations to the South Arabian federation, which is menaced by rebel tribesmen supported by the Yemeni republicans and President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic.

Nasser has called on the Arab world to expel Britain from the Middle East. Thursday Iraqi President Abdel Salam Aref, a guest of Nasser, advised Britain to leave the Arabian peninsula "before it is engulfed by the rising revolutionary fight of the Arabs."

British Commonwealth Secretary Duncan Sandys told the House of Commons another 800 to 1,000 soldiers are being flown to Aden to back up the battalion fighting the insurgents in the Radfan Mountains.

In Yemen a royalist radio station broadcast a warning that "no Egyptian prisoner will be left alive" unless Egyptian plans supporting the republicans stop bombing civilians.

Reports reaching Aden said the tribesmen attacked an Egyptian position and killed nine soldiers in northeast Yemen in retaliation for an attack by three Egyptians on five young tribal wives.

The Egyptians replied with a column of 40 tanks and armored cars, smashing into villages and killing five tribesmen, the reports said.

objected to proposed zone changes.

Bill Smartt, also speaking for other property owners, attempted to change the zone classification of 6.061 acres bounded by Marion and San Miguel Streets, Delaware Drive and Academy Blvd., from R-2 (single family residential) to R-5 (multi family residential). Smartt said he owned four lots in the area which was not adapted to residential development. The request was denied after a resident objected.

Tabled was a request to change Lots 11 and 12, Block 1 in West Bluff Addition (802-808 W. Cucharras St.) from R-3 (two family residential) to C-5 (intermediate business).

Denied was a request by Ward Hazlett to change Lot 1, Block 12, Highway Park Addition No. 3, from R-2 (single family residential) to R-4. A spokesman for residents, who presented a petition with 25 signatures against the zone change said, "This is essentially a single-family area and we would like to keep it such."

Seven residents objected and presented a petition with 27 names in opposition to a request by Frank Schuster to change the zone classification of Lots 11 through 14, Block 34, on the eat side of the 2600 Block of North Wood Ave. from R-3 (two family residential) to C-6 (general business). Schuster had expansion of his garage business in mind. Residents objected that the neighborhood was primarily a family area and the request was denied.

Granted was the request of Refrigeration Research Foundation Inc. to change Lot 12 and the south half of Lot 13 in Block 89, East End Addition, (12 N Meade Ave.) from C-4 neighborhood business and R-4 (eight-family residential) to R-5 multi-family residential, with conditional use not involving sales.

A request of Conover Investment Co. to change Lots 1 through 9, Block 1, Conover Subdivision No. 5, (2000 through 2200 Blocks of Lelaray Street) from R-2 (single family residential) to R-5 (multi-family residential) was denied after a delegation showed up represented by Robert Torrens, 2110 Mt. Vernon. "We feel we purchased this land in an R-2 zone," Torrens said.

The planners also approved:

The request of Shepard Land Co. to change Lot 2, Block 5, Pikes Peak Park Subdivision No. 6, 5.347 acres, from R-2 to R-5.

The area about 2916 through 2932 W. Bijou St. from R-5T (multi-family residential tourist) and C-4T (neighborhood-business tourist) to R-5 (multi-family residential).

Approved R-5 classification for Lots 12 through 15, Block 49, E. Colorado City Addition, from R-3 (two family residential).

Two annexations were approved:

— Monument Valley Addition by Holland Dairy Farm Co., a strip of land about a half mile north of Fillmore Street and lying mostly between Interstate 25 and Monument Creek south to Fontanero Street.

—A 4.07 acre tract between Prospect and El Paso Streets, north of Fillmore Street, by Anton Nelson.

Action was taken on two final plats:

— Approved, subject to a committee report, was the final plat of Country Club subdivision No. 3, a 2.86-acre tract at about 2610-18 Holiday Lane.

— Tabled the final plat of Bridlewood Subdivision filing No. 2, a 40.6-acre tract northeast of Murray Boulevard and 1,803 feet north of Constitution Avenue.

Several vacations were approved:

— The plat of Empire Estates filing No. 1, a 103.7-acre tract about 761 feet east of Maizeland Road and south of Hamilton Ranch Road.

— A portion of a "cul-de-sac" adjacent to Lot 4, Block 2, Highland Acres Subdivision, and Lot 7, Block 3, refiling of part of Highland Acres Subdivision.

Mitchell Funeral Rites Saturday

Mrs. Gertrude Mitchell, 1515 W. Kiowa St., widow of Homer Earl Mitchell, died Wednesday at a local hospital. She had been a resident of Colorado Springs since 1924. Mr. Mitchell died in 1950. Mrs Mitchell was a member of Trinity Methodist Church.

Mrs. Mitchell was born in Goodland, Kan., Dec. 9, 1888. She is survived by a son, Vernon Mitchell, of Colorado Springs; two sisters, Mrs. Bessie Skinner and Miss Anna Kipps, both of Colorado Springs, three grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday at the Law Drawing Room. The Rev. Sigurd Burch will officiate. Burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

Gibbons May Be Successor To Jim Hoffa

And, while no one will say so officially, Gibbons is viewed as a likely successor if Hoffa's voluminous legal problems ever force him to step down.

Although Gibbons said he is just "helping out during the trial" reliable sources indicated he is virtually running the show in Hoffa's absence, which is expected to last several months.

Gibbons left his self-imposed exile in his St. Louis Teamsters' office to return to the Teamsters' International headquarters here, where he was Hoffa's top assistant from 1958 until the start of this year.

But, reliable sources say, the once close relationship between Gibbons and Hoffa is dead.

"It can never be the same again," one source said.

Gibbons broke with Hoffa in a dispute over closing the Teamsters' headquarters during the funeral of President John F. Kennedy.

Hoffa, bitter enemy of Kennedy and his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, was reportedly furious when some union officials wanted to close the building out of respect during the funeral.

But, knowledgeable sources say, the incident merely brought to a climax a long series of personal grievances that led Gibbons to hand in his resignation as executive vice president. Gibbons retained his post as 11th vice president and his St. Louis power base.

NATO in State Of Suspended Animation

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON

THE HAGUE (AP)—The North Atlantic Treaty Organization is in a state of suspended political animation until after the U.S. and British elections this fall.

NATO foreign ministers went home Thursday night from The Hague after a three-day meeting that failed to solve basic problems menacing their unity.

On the most serious issues—Cyprus and France's challenge to U.S. leadership of the alliance—the moment of truth and decision was deferred.

The expectation was that the U.S. and British governments which take office this fall—whether new ones or old ones with reinforced authority—would generate fresh leadership to dispel the malaise that has seized NATO.

NATO Secretary-General Dirk U. Stikker was authorized to help cool Greek and Turkish tempers over Cyprus. But Greek Foreign Minister Stavros Kostopolos said Stikker's orders empowered him to act only if Greece or Turkey asked him to.

But the Turkish foreign minister, Feridun Erkin, told newsmen he was satisfied with NATO's instructions to Stikker to conciliate.

Concerning French President Charles de Gaulle's attitude toward the Americans, the American, Belgian and British ministers made plain to the French that the political and military shape of NATO should remain untouched.

They told Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville that if De Gaulle has any good ideas for recasting the alliance, they would be considered. But until these are presented, they said, it would be better for France to stop rocking the boat.

Couve de Murville's reply brought reconciliation no nearer. His general thesis was that France supports the aim of the alliance—to guard Western Europe against Communist aggression—but opposes its military structure.

Couve de Murvlle contended that national interests always transcend international loyalties and cited these examples from NATO's experience:

The Dutch were not supported in the showdown with Indonesia over New Guinea in 1962;

The Belgians were hardly helped in the 1961 Congo crisis;

In the 1962 Cuban missile crisis, the United States informed; but did not consult, its allies about the showdown with the Soviet Union. This France understood, he said, and at the time De Gaulle immediately proclaimed he would be on the side of the late President John F. Kennedy if war came to the West.

"This was a fault-finding speech that anyone would have found easy to make," said another European minister. "The big trouble with his speech was that it helped nobody."

GOV'T PAYROLLS

NEW YORK (UPI)—One out of every four workers in the United States collects his paycheck from federal, state, or local governments, says the Commerce Clearing House. A check of complete 1962 figures shows 12 million on government payrolls, including the armed forces. Another 6.5 million jobs in private industry supply the goods and services purchased by various government agencies.

Students 'Break' Record of 42 In One Bed

LONDON (AP)—"Four tons of humanity were on top of me," said Frazer Cartwright, 16. "It nearly squashed the life out of me. I thought I was being killed. Never again, thank you."

Students at Wakefield Technical and Art College in Yorkshire decided Thursday night to try to break the world record of 42 students in one bed.

Frazer and four others volunteered to form the bottom layer. Forty-five more climbed on, to make a record 50.

As the last three students scrambled to the top of the writhing mass, Frazer yelled: "Get off! Quick! I'm—"

He didn't finish the sentence. Blood gushed from his nose and he fainted.

Other students shouted to those on top to jump. They jumped.

Frazer was unconscious and the other four on the bottom were woozy. Artificial respiration finally brought Frazer around.

"Cartwright's all right now," said Alfred Buckley, the school principal. "I'm very glad no serious harm was done, and I'm also pleased they broke the record of 42 in a bed, although I frankly don't know who set the record."

17 Children Escape Bus Crash Disaster

MARILLA, N.Y. (AP)—Seventeen kindergarten children escaped injury Thursday when a school bus swerved off the road after the driver died of a heart attack.

Police said the bus crossed a ditch into a field. The driver was Alton Fix, 60, of Alden.

The children, pupils at Townline elementary school near this Erie County village, were examined by a physician.

None was injured, but several were "shaken up a bit," said Dr. Wilson R. Conrad, the school superintendent.

Surprise Setback Is Given Case Against Hoffa

CHICAGO (AP) — A prosecution witness who repudiated testimony he had given to the grand jury that indicted James R. Hoffa has dealt a surprise setback to the case against the Teamsters president.

The witness, James N. Dioguardi, a West Palm Beach, Fla., building contractor, when confronted Thursday with a transcript of his testimony before the grand jury, said "I now believe that statement is false."

Dioguardi appeared as a witness in U.S. District Court at the mail fraud and conspiracy trial of Hoffa and seven associates. He was given the transcript to refresh his memory in connection with certain names and dates he was unable to recall.

As a result of Dioguardi's change in testimony, D. Arthur Connelly, chief of the criminal division of the U.S. attorney's office, said an investigation would be made to determine whether the witness was guilty of perjury, either on the witness stand or befor the greand jury.

Under further questioning, Dioguardi said he talked with one of the defendants, Herbert Burris, a New York attorney, before appearing in court Thursday.

The witness said he told Burris, an old friend, that he was sorry he had to testify against him.

"Just tell the truth and that is all that will be necessary," Dioguardi quoted Burris.

Hoffa and his seven codefendants are being tried on charges that they fraudulently obtained more than $20 million in loans from the Teamsters pension fund in return for $1 million in kickbacks from the borrowers.

Previously, Dioguardi testified that he consulted Hoffa in Washington in June 1961 about a possible loan from the pension fund. He said Hoffa was cooperative and referred him to S. George Burris, father of Herbert and also a defendant, for help in completing an application for the proposed loan.

S. George Burris is a New York accountant. The government has charged the Burrises were specialists in arranging fraudulent applications for loans from the pension fund.

Dioguardi did not tell the outcome of the first loan request but said he received a fee of $12,000 for services he performed in connection with another loan granted by the pension fund to the 300 Club, Inc. in Upper Saddle River, N.J., in 1961.

The amount of the loan was not disclosed. Dioguardi said he received the fees after discussing it with Herbert Burris.

Resuscitation Attempt Fails to Save Baby

The Fire Department was called to the residence of Sgt. and Mrs. Solly Tobin, 1311 McArthur St., at 7:12 a.m. today when their 32-day-old son, Larry Paul Tobin, died of reported suffocation. The firemen employed mouth to mouth respiration, but to no avail. The body was removed in an Air Force ambulance.

Company 4 of the Fire Department, on a 9:45 p.m. alarm Thursday, put out a small trash fire at 337 S. Institute St. On an 11:45 a.m. alarm Thursday, Company 4 put out a dump fire in the creek at 727 E. Pikes Peak Ave.

Company 8, on a 2:47 p.m. alarm Thursday, put out a car fire at Iowa Avenue and Boulder Street. The fire was caused by backfiring of the carburetor and wiring and paint were damaged. The car was that of Mrs. Ira McCarthy, 309 Prairie Rd.

Candidates Make Final Pleas For Oregon Vote

By WALTER R. MEARS

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Three Republican presidential contenders make final pleas by proxy for Oregon primary votes today while Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller winds up his nonstop campaign asking: "What do the absent advocate."

That was the New York governor's theme as the six-way presidential primary battle boiled toward a showdown at the polls Tuesday.

He drummed it as public opinion pollsters reported other candidates are narrowing the Oregon margin they credit to Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge in South Viet Nam.

"I'm very encouraged," Rockefeller said Wednesday. "Lodge is down in the polls. I'm optimistic. Things are getting better."

George Cabot Lodge, son of the favored ambassador who was the 1960 Republican choice for vice president, hurried to Oregon to declare his father would answer "with force and clarity" if the party called upon him to head its 1964 ticket.

Oregon allies of former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater talked optimistically of their men's chances.

Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine also are on the GOP ballot. They have staged no campaigns.

Rockefeller has spent a month courting Oregon Republicans. With the primary a few hours away, two of his children—Ann Pierson and Rodman C. Rockefeller, both of New York City, came to Portland Wednesday night.

Goldwater's sons Barry Jr. and Michael have been the anchor men of his campaign here. The senator himself has not been in Oregon since April 7. He canceled later campaign trips, saying he had to stay in Washington because the Senate was busy with the civil rights bill.

In a nationwide television address beamed to six Oregon channels Wednesday night, Goldwater said the United States should take the lead in applying economic and political pressure "to change the Communist plan."

"I think we ought to use every peaceful means available for calling freedom's tune," he said.

Goldwater said in Philadelphia earlier he sees "a surge now for Nixon" in the battle for the GOP nomination. But the Arizona senator said he expects to win it on the second ballot at San Francisco.

Nixon's Oregon supporters were buoyed by the 1960 nominee's write-in showing in the Nebraska primary Tuesday. "We've got a winner," said Don Myrick, chairman of the Oregon forces seeking the nomination for the former vice president.

Nixon captured 31 per cent of the Republican vote in Nebraska. Goldwater alone on the ballot, won that primary with 50 per cent of the turnout.

Rockefeller aimed his strongest words at Goldwater.

The governor's backers hope a strong Oregon showing will propel him toward victory in California June 2, where only he and the Arizona senator are on the ballot.

He told a cheering crowd of 900 at the University of Portland Wednesday night he fears the Republican party "is in serious danger of being dominated by a narrow, doctrinaire, radical extremism outside of the mainstream of American political thought and action."

He coupled that with a slap at his absent opponents. "Where do the silent stand?" he asked. "Is the primary being replaced by the poll—the public opinion poll?"

George Lodge told a news conference no one has "any advice, instruction or guidance" from the ambassador to Saigon.

"Any implication that he is in any way influencing events on his behalf here is absolutely false," he said. "Any inference that he is part of a plot for or against another candidate is likewise false."

Texas Sen. John G. Tower, campaigning for Goldwater, said he thinks the Arizona conservative has a chance to win in Oregon.

Tower added he does not think any coalition move behind Rockefeller could stop Goldwater in the California primary.

Undersecretary To Speak at Air Academy

Dr. Jack McCollum, deputy to the undersecretary of the department of health, education, and welfare, will speak on "Adult Education and the Development of Human Resources" Saturday at the Air Force Academy before members of 20 Colorado educational organizations.

Industry, education, and government will be represented at day-long joint conference of the Colorado Council of Adult Educators and the Colorado Association of Public School Adult Educators.

Also scheduled to speak is Paul V. Delker, training coordinator for Peace Corps programs in North Africa and Near East South Asia.

Dr. McCollum, a native of Idaho, attended schools there. He received his B.A. from Arizona State, Masters Degree from the University of Washington, and Ph.D. from the University of Chicago.

The speaker was a member of the faculty of the University of Chicago from 1953-1961. In addition to teaching sociology and social science, he did research in sociology, education, and psychology.

He was named to his present post in 1962.

National professional journals have published articles by Dr. McCollum on "Mental Retardation," "Work and Mental Retardation," and "Mental Health and Unemployment."

Theme for the conference is "The National Concern for the Individual in Adult Education."

County Pioneer Group to Hold Annual Banquet

The El Paso County Pioneer Association will hold its annual banquet at the Antlers Hotel Tuesday noon. Roy A. Davis will be the speaker. He will be introduced by Carl Matthews. William Bartlett, president of the association, will preside. Guests are invited. C. B. "Doc" Adams is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

The event will be in the nature of a farewell to the Antlers Hotel, which it has been reported may be razed after the summer season.

Reservations for the dinner may be made with Mrs. Emily Johnson, telephone 635-8715, and are requested by Saturday. The price is $1.50 a plate.

Thief Takes New Tires And Leaves Old Ones

James Tietze, 209 Elk Path, Manitou Springs, reported to the sheriff's office Thursday that someone had taken two new tires and wheels off his car and replaced them with old worn ones.

Deputy Sheriff Bob Newman said Tietze had parked his car in the Sears and Roebuck lot, Southgate Thursday and when he returned at 9:25 p.m. got into the vehicle and started to drive home.

He first noticed one hubcap was missing and then discovered the tires and wheels had been taken. Estimated loss is $96.

250 Expected At Saturday Event Luncheon

The annual Armed Forces Day Luncheon of the Colorado Springs Chamber of Commerce is expected to attract some 250 civilian and military guests at noon Saturday in the Antlers Hotel.

Principal speaker will be Lt. Gen. Charles B. Duff, commanding general of the Army Air Defense Command.

Presiding will be Joseph Reich, chairman of the Chamber's Military Affairs Committee.

The program will include presentation of the colors by the NORAD Color Guard and entertainment by the 30-voice Ent Air Force Base Officers Wives Club Choral Society, directed by Mrs. R. J. Backus.

This will mark the society's first appearance at an Armed Forces Day function.

Lt. Col. J. F. Albert, deputy command chaplain of the Air Defense Command, will give the invocation and Capt. V. A. Erwin, Jr., Commander, Naval Forces CONAD, will introduce Gen. Duff.

Guests of honor will be Gen. John K. Gerhart, Commander-in-Chief, North American Air Defense Command; Lt. Gen. Herbert B. Thatcher, Commander, USAF Air Defense Command; Brig Gen. R. W. Strong, Jr., Commandant of Cadets, U.S. Air Force Academy; Col. Mac Vickrey, 4600th Air Base Wing, Area Project Officer; Mayor Harry Hoth; and Chamber of Commerce directors John Sawyer and Harold Whitney.

Brokerage Firm Chief Reported To Be Suicide

headquarters moved to New York City about 10 years ago. His sons, Carl and Jack, are vice presidents of the firm.

Walston & Co., although not itself involved in the soybean oil scandal last year, went to the aid of the Williston firm, which had been suspended from the New York Stock Exchange for two days until Walston's loan restored its required minimum capital account.

Williston had extended $610,000 credit to Allied Crude Vegetable Oil Refining Corp. of Bayonne, N.J., which went bankrupt last Nov. 19 contributing to the failure of a score of businesses here and abroad.

Walston's loan to Williston was not enough to restore full confidence in the firm and a few days later, Walston & Co. took over its 16 offices and 9,000 accounts.

Rogers entered industrial personnel work at John Deere Harvester Works, East Moline, Ill., early in World War II, serving four years as personnel manager. He joined the Foundation for Economic Education at Irvington, on-Hudson, N. Y., as assistant to the president and official spokesman, debating such socialists as Norman Thomas and Samuel Freidman.

When the foundation acquired The Freeman Magazine, he became its business manager. His booklet "Two Ways to Slavery" was published by the foundation.

Mr. Rogers is survived by his widow Mrs. Beatrice Rogers. Funeral services will be held in Rockford.

High School Group Holds Spring Banquet

Miss Corinne Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dunn of 1327 Greenwood Ave. was honored as this year's Motac Queen.

Newly elected officers for the coming year were installed, and include Dennis Meese, president; Mickey Gann, vice-president; Drew Cronk, secretary; Ronnie English, treasurer, and Tom Firestack as master of the paddle.

Outgoing President Anthony Stringari was master of ceremonies. Highlight of the evening was the exchange of swats between Rod Sandner, outgoing master of the paddle, and the newly elected master of the paddle.

Stopping Underground Atom Tests Proposed

TOKYO (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev proposed today that Japan and the Soviet Union join in calling on all nuclear nations to stop underground nuclear tests immediately.

The proposal was made in a letter delivered to Premier Hayato Ikeda by Soviet First Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan shortly after his arrival for a 14-day visit.

"Such a joint statement or simultaneous statement by our two nations will be beneficial to world peace and will strengthen our neighborly friendship," Khrushchev wrote.

Khrushchev pointed out that international tensions have slackened with the limited nuclear test ban, the U.S.-Soviet agreement not to shoot nuclear weapons into orbit, and the recent decision by the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain to reduce production of nuclear materials for armaments.

ONE EXPLANATION

ANOKA, Minn. (AP) — C. L. McNelly, past president of the Anoka County Historical Society, gives this version of how the community of Nowthen, situated northwest of here, got its name.

It seems the postmaster of Burns Township, James Hare, was a deliberate, calculating man with a habit of saying "Now then . . ." when making up his mind.

Seeking to reopen his closed post office, he found the name "Burns" was already in use elsewhere. Postal authorities asked him for suggestions. Hare pondered, sent his list, and closed with "Now then — James Hare". The postal department thought it was one of his suggestions, liked it and called it that.

Cascade News

By CAROLYN McADAMS—MU 7-9065

Mrs. Fay Schumacher, den mother for Cub Scouts Den 2, holds their meetings in her rumpus room Wednesday after school. All members were present last week answering roll call by naming their favorite food. Cake, chicken and ham were the most popular. The Mothers Day gifts made by the boys were very attractive and unusual. Mrs. Francine Nelson, co-leader, furnished old record discs for each, which she heated until pliable, then turned up the edge making a scalloped pattern. Tiny rocks, twigs, leaves etc., which the Scouts had collected, were then pasted on the old records, and sprayed with gold paint. The finished plaque was lovely and should give everybody a good idea for a nice craftwork gift. Outside games, leap frog, tug of war and three legged race, were enjoyed before going home. Den 2 will have just two more regular meetings, May 13 and 20. The monthly Pack meeting will be held May 21, at the Community Bulding, Green Mountain Falls, at 7:30 p.m. All boys in the area who will be reachng eight years old are cordially invited to attend.

Because of illness of many members Cub Scouts Den 3 did not hold its Monday meeting last week.

Sixteen Junior Girl Scouts were present Wednesday for an outdoor meeting on the Cascade School playground. They began to learn the new games which will be played at the Sky High Girl Scout Camp all day outing May 16. Zig Zag Relay Race, partner relay race, strut, Miss Lucy and "Here We go Round the Mountain." All Girl Scouts planning to go May 16 must bring their permission slips signed by a parent, be at Cascade Firehouse by 9:15 a.m. and bring a sack lunch. Mrs. Jonell Ewart will drive her truck and camper, with Mrs. Ilene Mallett taking her station wagon for transportation.

Twenty-one Brownie Scouts met Thursday for a short meeting, and then went through the Magnetic House on Highway 24. They were accompanied by their leaders, Phyllis Giles and Shirle Johnson. Saturday, May 9, fourteen Brownies met in the Green Mountain Falls Park at 10:30 for a picnic. They then hiked to Pickett Field where they picked up papers and trash for their community project. Each was furnished a large paper bag donated by Ray and Joyce Kranenbuhl, new owners of the Edwards Grocery Store, who also passed out candy treats.

Mrs. George Knox, entertained 29 guests at a kitchen shower and bridal tea Wednesday, April 29, honoring Miss Katherine Good, whose engagement to Jim Rankine has been announced. Present were Mrs. Leslie Cook and Mrs. William Rankine, mothers of the prospective bride and groom, also Christine Weckler, Marion English, June White, Elizabeth Silvester, Florence Darby, Virginia Arnott, Jean Throckmorton, Betty Rice, Ann Hieronymous, Dorothy Campbell, Maxine Barrett, Mary Rubel, Letitia Sack, Marion Holden, Betty Woodworth, Betty Moore, Ann Moore, Betty Curran, Almorita Foster, Joyce Johnson, Kathy Bond, Ruth McKown, Matile Porte, Nova Boller, Marie Cummings, and the honoree. The party was at the Knox residence, on Canon Road.

Among new members installed in the National Honor Society meeting May 6, 7:30 p.m., at Manitou Springs High School, were Sherry Jacob, Eloise Bellinger and Bill Schorer, of Ute Pass. These students were recognized for superior standing in scholarship, leadership, service and character. At the same meeting new members in the Quill and Scroll, international honor society, were installed. Included were Jody Gayler, Rocky Arnott, Charles Anderson, Sharaon Jacob, Eloise Bellinger, Janice Berendt, and Cathy Cormett.

Mrs. Betty Reasonover, serving a two-year term on the Board of Directors of the Colorado Conference, United Church of Christ, attended the second annual conference since the merger of the Church in the Wildwood, Congregational, with, with the UCC. Also attending was the official Church delegate, Mrs. Lorraine Martin, and Rev. and Mrs. Jeffrey Hoy. The Broadmoor Church was host for the meeting. A luncheon meeting of the Board of Directors was held May 7 at the Peak Room, Antlers Hotel. Conference sessions extended through May 7,8,9.

Mrs. Betty Reasonover and Mrs. Tina Warner were among the members of the Wednesday Bridge Club of Wood and Park who closed the year's schedule with a luncheon at Browncraft Steakhouse May 6. This was the last party until in September when the club starts again. Ruby Carroll was hostess for the plans. Others present were Lorene Lynch, Nell Brown, Ruth Alexander, Barbara Elwell and Rilla Robinson. Janet M. Whitmore, a charter member, could not be present because of illness.

A most exciting experience befell young Tommy Haggard recently while he was enjoying a soda at the fountain in the Broadmoor Drug Store. Several gentlemen sat down near him, one greeting the boy saying: "I'm King Hussein from Jordan." Tommy returned the introduction by saying: "I'm Tommy Haggard of Jefferson City, Texas." Tom was convinced it was a small world full of great people that one might run across most any time. Tommy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Haggard. His father is vice president and chairman of the board of directors of Santa Claus Land at the North Pole, in Cascade, as well as being a resident of Jefferson, Tex.

Mrs. Frank Sanborn entertained in her home Saturday morning, May 2, with a 10:30 coffee brunch, honoring Miss Jeanne Yvonne Cowen, a June bride-elect. The miscellaneous shower was attended by twenty guests, who were relatives, and school friends from Pueblo, Denver and Colorado Springs. Mrs. David Cowen, the brides mother, and Miss Kay Cowen, her sister, were also present. Miss Kay presided at the serving table. Co-hostess with Mrs. Sanborn was her sister-in-law Mrs. Nick Sanborn Jr.

HARP MUSIC IN BAR

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — angelic music that poured from a cocktail lounge for seven weeks came from the harps of two girl students partially working their way through the Eastman School of Music. The bartender reported audience reaction was "mostly favorable."

Suzanne Thomas, 20-year old junior from Allentown, Pa., and Mary A. Hongen, a graduate student from Kokomo, Ind., split about $177 a week.

The customers' requests ranged from Claude Debussy to Hoagy Carmichael.

Other students earn money by singing or playing at weddings, churches, colleges and high schools, in string ensembles or jazz combos.

"We are not opposed to jazz," says Flora Burton, dean of students, "but we want our students to be good musicians first of all. Even the Beatles would be better Beatles if they were good musicians."

Viet Nam War Success Seen By McNamara

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara flies back to the capital today from a fifth inspection trip to South Viet Nam publicly optimistic about the war against the Communist Viet Cong.

"I am convinced," McNamara said Wednesday on a stopover at Honolulu, "that the persistent execution of the political and military plans which the South Viet Nam government has and which we are supporting will lead to a successful conclusion of this war."

President Johnson will want to know the details that support this optimism and presumably will have McNamara report quickly. But whether Johnson will see him today is uncertain because the President is flying to Missouri to attend the funeral of Rep. Clarence Cannon, D-Mo.

Before leaving Saigon, McNamara said marked progress had been made in implementing plans to increase the strength and firepower of the Vietnamese air force.

But in Honolulu he sidestepped a question of whether structural failure had led to the losses of some planes used in the war—a possibility, Secretary of the Air Force Eugene M. Zuckert conceded in a letter to Chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., of the House Armed Services Committee released in Washington Wednesday.

The war effort will be long and drawn out, "we should not delude ourselves on this score," McNamara said. At the same time he said he had never estimated the possible length of the war.

Some earlier reports from Saigon (not Associated Press) quoted him as saying the war would last five to 10 years.

"I was misquoted in Saigon," McNamara declared at Pearl Harbor.

Wallace Goes Home for Short Rest

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)-Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama flies home today for a one-day break in his campaign for votes in Maryland's Democratic presidential preference primary.

Wallace was to attend a special governor's day observance at Auburn University, then return for a final flurry of campaigning leading up to Tuesday's election.

With Wallace absent, his opponent for the state's convention votes, Sen. Daniel B. Brewster, Maryland, scheduled a round of speeches in the Washington-Baltimore metropolitan area.

Accompanied by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., Brewster was to speak at a luncheon at Indian Spring Country Club near Washington.

At night, they will attend two rallies in the Baltimore area—one at Gwynn Oak Park, scene of racial demonstrations last summer before the amusement park was integrated.

Ribicoff is the latest of 10 Senate colleagues who have come to Brewster's aid in the campaign to save the convention votes for President Johnson.

Wallace canceled an appearance in western Maryland Wednesday night when inclement weather prevented a flight from Baltimore to Cumberland.

The speech was sponsored by a group of students at Frostburg State College. Student organizers said they hoped to reschedule the speech for Monday afternoon.

Governor Says Son Will Have to Pay

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—Gov. Richard J. Hughes says that if his son, John, 19, is found guilty of speeding, he'll lift John's license one day for every mile he exceeded the speed limit.

A hearing was set for May 25 before Magistrate Edmunt Potkay.

The governor said Wednesday he'd lend his son the money to pay any fine but added that John will have to repay the loan.

CC Music Department Will Present Talented Students

The Colorado College music department will present talented students of piano, voice and cello in two student recitals on Tuesday, and Thursday, in Perkins Hall at 8 p.m.

The second program will be a "Concerto Evening," devoted to piano concerts exclusively. Both recitals will be free to the public.

Charlotte Adams, sophomore music major from Roswell, N. M., will open the Tuesday program with the Rumanian Folk-dances by Bartok. Miss Adams, who studied piano for five years before she came to Colorado College, plans to become a choir director.

Janet Smith of Oklahoma City will present two numbers by Chopin. She, too, has studied piano for several years during her high school career and is now a music education major in her sophomore year at Colorado College.

Meg Graves has studied cello for eight years and in high school played in the All State Orchestra for four years. Presently she is a member of the Colorado Springs Symphony and will teach elementary strings this summer. Miss Graves is from Los Alamos, N.M. She will perform the Sicilienne by Gabriel Faure, accompanied by her teacher, Richard Maag.

Susan O'Rourke, a transfer student from Oberlin College who is not a music major but very talented and interested in modern music will play a group of five short contemporary piano pieces by Hindemith, Phillip Jarnach, Wilhelm Maler and Bartok.

Carol Lynne Parson, mezzo soprano from Santa Fe, N.M., is a voice student of Donald Jenkins and one of the outstanding members of the Colorado College Choir. In high school she received a I rating and sang for the honor's concert in the North Central New Mexico Music Festival of 1961 and 1963. She will be heard in two songs, "Litany to the Holy Spirit" by Charles Vales and "I Hear an Army" by Samuel Barber.

Jane Humphrey, junior music major from Mullen, Neb., will bring the Tuesday program to a close with a performance of Beethoven's Piano Sonata in D major, Op. 10 No. 3. Miss Humphrey played two solo recitals and in several two - piano recitals while still in high school. At Colorado College she was featured in student recitals each year and is also a prominent member of the Tour Choir and the Madrigal Group.

Miss Humphrey will also be featured on Thursday, opening the "Concerto Evening" with performances of the first movement of the Bach Concerto in D minor.

Vickie Knox, sophomore music major from Las Animas, Colo., will then be featured in the first movement of Mozart's Concerto in D minor. Miss Knox received a "1" rating as pianist and musician from her 6th grade on annually through her senior year in high school. She is already a very versatile musician with great experience as a solo performer and as accompanist.

Lee Prater will play the first movement of the Grieg Concerto. She is from Denver, another music major finishing her sophomore year at Colorado College. Miss Prater played her first full size solo recital at the early age of eight, performing in that program the difficult Concerto in G minor by Mendelssohn. At ages 11 and 15 she mastered the concerti by Schumann and Liszt in public appearance. In 1962 Miss Prater won the Kiwanis "Stars of Tomorrow" Talent Search.

Barbara Couey, graduating senior from Trinidad, Colo., will bring the Concerto Evening to a close with her performance of the first movement from the Concerto in B flat major by Tchaikovsky. Miss Couey is well known to local audiences from many performances on and off the college campus as pianist and vocalist. She was soloist of the college Tour Choir this spring and sang the lead in the musical "Most Happy Fellow" last year. A member of the college's Honor Council, she was Homecoming Queen and Winter Carnival Queen. As pianist, Miss Couey has been featured every year in many major works of the piano literature. After graduation she plans to continue her studies in New York where she will make her home for the next few years.

Academy Cadets Assist Girl Scout Project

Senior girls assisting were Chris Manfrin, Judy Lederman and Kay Arnesen.

Others helping in the clean-up project were Miss Dorothy Neal, executive director of the Wagon Wheel Council, and Capt. Wallace E. Fluhr, assistant professor of mechanics at the Academy.

Capt. Fluhr serves as consultant on the water system at the scout ranch and submitted several immediate and also some long-range plans for the water facilities.

Ernest Roy Springer Died Here Thursday

Ernest Roy Springer, 525 W. Pikes Peak Ave., died Thursday at his home. He was a rancher and had been a resident of the Pikes Peak Region for 25 years, having come from Boone County, Neb.

Mr. Springer was born in Harcourt, Ia., Jan. 12, 1890. He is survived by three daughters, Miss Marjorie Springer and Miss Lois T. Springer, of Colorado Springs, and Miss Ruth M. Springer, Los Angeles, Calif.; three brothers, Edward and Leslie Springer, Oakdale, Neb., and Hobart Springer, Exeter, Neb., and a sister, Mrs. Edith Brugger, Lake City, Ia.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday at Our Chapel of Memories. The Rev. Charles H. Brown will officiate. Burial will be in Memorial Gardens. Pallbearers will be: Albert Leonard, Wayne Lesner, W. H. Patterson, Lester Wakefield, Don Colbert and Paul Reimer.

Academy High Choir, Band to Give Concert

SM. Sgt. Jack E. Tardy of the Air Force Academy Band will be the guest trumpet soloist with the Air Academy High School Band today at 8 p.m. in the High School Auditorium. The band will share the evening's program with the AAHS Concert Choir and Dance Band.

The concert choir, under the direction of Ivan D. Genuchi, will open the program with "The Year of Jubilo" by Work and will continue with selections by Victor Herbert, Bach, di Lasso, and Bortniansky.

Selections to be played by the concert band include Vincent Persichetti's "Pageant," Overture to "Guys and Dolls" by

Frank Loesser, "The Bill Board March" by John Klohr, and sepdclions from Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Carousel."

The choir will join the band for the two closing numbers — Lerner and Loewe's "Almost Like Being in Love" and Roy Ringwald's arrangement of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

SM. Sgt. Tardy will play "Danza Alegre" by Burke and "Ode for Trumpet" by Alfred Reed.

Larry J. Perkins will direct the AAHS Dance Band. The concert band is under the direction of Keith W. Carter.

Two Theft Cases Reported Here

Police this morning reported two cases of theft.

A doctor's bag containing Demerol, prescription blanks, instruments and other items worth a total of $80 was taken from a car parked at Penrose Hospital Thursday night.

Victim of the theft was Dr. K. W. Dumars, 1227 Mountain View Lane. Thieves apparently reached through an unlocked vent window and opened one of the doors.

Four hubcaps worth $108 were stolen from the car of Richard Van Ort Wednesday night or Thursday morning. Van Ort, who lives in Slocum Hall at Colorado College, told officers the car was parked at the college at the time of the theft.

HOBBY SALES

NEW YORK (UPI)—A drug store trade journal reports that hobby goods manufacturers see a 5 per cent rise in retail sales volume. A hot item again this year, says the Drug Journal, is the miniature auto racing set, sales of which could go up to $140 million this year.

Poetry Fellowship Elects Officers; Announces Awards

New officers, elected unanimously were: President: Inez Hunt (Mrs. Nelson V.); Vice President: Landell Bartlett; Recording Secretary: Mabel Darby (Mrs. Glenn); Corresponding Secretary: Katherine Beatty (Mrs. E. C. O.); Treasurer: Elizabeth Weilein (Mrs. Harold B.)

The contests carry the name of one of the founders of the Fellowship. This year there were twenty-nine entries in the serious group and twenty in the light. The poems were read with some of the comments of the judges.

The judges were two non-resident members of the Fellowship, not familiar with recent work, and a young man not known to the group except through some of his work.

Claire Gilstrap, retired nurse and active writer, has been a member for over sixteen years. She turned from fiction to poetry writing in 1935, and has received many awards. For several years she has lived in Tucson, Ariz.

Esther E. Burch taught History, English and Social Sciences until she became a librarian. She was Periodical, and then Documents Librarian at Colorado College. Now she is with the Santa Ana, California, Public Library, Head Librarian at the Lathrop Branch.

Robert Lee ("Bob") Tucker, who once described himself as "a man who deals in pieces of broken hopes and half-remembered dreams" was a member of a well-known Ohio group of regional poets, and won the Pittsylvania Award for Poetry in 1963. He has been news-paper columnist, broadcaster, etc., and now manages his own company in the field of bank and financial promotions from Port Arthur, Texas.

As judges' decisions are rarely, if ever, unanimous, a point system is used in rating entries. This year the judges complained that even so decision was difficult.

For serious poetry, awards were made as follows:

First Place: Dorothy Bartlett (After Dinner Sonnet)

Second Place: Margaret Davis, Pueblo (No Sweeter, These)

Third Place: Landell Bartlett (Passchendale), tied J. Michael Finley, Miami, Fla. (I, Starlocked In This Season)

First Honorable Mention, 3-way tie:

Joan Zink

Inez Hunt

Myrtle Chance Allen

Second Honorable Mention: Rosalie Porter

Third Hnorable Mention: 2-way tie:

All contestants must be members of the Poetry Fellowship, which will resume regular Round Table meetings in September. Anyone who has a serious interest in poetry may belong. Visitors are welcome.

Taxpayers Will Vote on Bonds In District 3

Taxpayers in School District 3 will vote on a $350,000 bond issue May 27.

Bond money would be used to construct additional classrooms to maintain regular school classes and full day sessions, said Richard Taylor, school superintendent.

Alternative to additional classrooms are half day sessions. Children that must attend school under this arrangement are not receiving the education they need or are entitled," Taylor added.

The present legal limit for bonded indebtedness in the district is $2,167,516 or 15 per cent of the assessed valuation.

Present bonded indebtedness of the district is $2,056,000.

This would allow for the sale of an additional $111,000 in bonds if approved by a favorable vote.

Presently 9 mills is the levy for bonded debt in District 3.

"The additional cost for this needed construction will not exceed a half mill. On the average home in the district with an assessed value of $4,500, this means an additional tax of $2.25 a year," Taylror added.

The polling place will be Security Public Library, 701 Widefield Drive, from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

School officials listed requirements for voter eligibility:

— A citizen of the United States, age 21 or over.

— A resident of El Paso County for 90 days immediately preceding the election.

— A resident of the school district for 30 days immediately preceding the election.

— Have paid a school tax in the district in the 12 months immediately preceding the election.

— Be registered to vote.

Voting in the last general election establishes registration for this election. Today is the deadline for registration in the County Office Building or the District 3 administration building.

Defrauding Innkeeper Brings Man $25 Fine

Donald Bruce Chapman also known as Philip Kirk, 24, 47 Glenview Court, was fined $25 and $9.24 costs by Justice of the Peace James F. Quine Thursday for defrauding an innkeeper.

According to the information filed against the defendant he defrauded the Chateau Motel, 1201 S. Nevada Ave., March 28. He was also ordered to make $10 restitution.

SOCRATES COUNTS — Socrates, the giraffe, counts by nuzzling the buzzer attached to the cage bars to activate an electronic apparatus which releases a Rye Krisp cracker in a bowl inside his cage, while Colorado College psychology Prof. Gilbert Johns (right) and Catherine Grant, a junior majoring in zoology, look on.

CC Students Teach Giraffe To Count in Project Here

"Socrates now can count to four," report psychology students at Colorado College who have been conditioning the 31-year-old giraffe at the Cheyenne Mountain Zoo here.

The research project is the first free operant conditioning of a giraffe ever undertaken.

Six students in a senior-level course in comparative psychology at the independent liberal arts college have been working with the one-and-a-half ton giraffe since May 1. They have been working under the guidance of Dr. Gilbert Johns, associate professor of psychology.

"On the basis of preliminary investigations, I believe giraffes may be more intelligent than porpoises," said Miss Catherine Grant, a junior of 3842 S. Columbia Pike, in Arlington, Va.

The six Colorado College students hope to have Socrates counting to 20 before the academic year ends June 1.

He counts by nudging a large switch mounted on the wall of his cage. It now takes four nudges on the wall switch to activate a series of relays and a solenoid switch that releases a cracker into a metal bowl.

Rye Krisp, the Colorado College students learned when they were planning the experiment, is the food fed to giraffes at the Cheyenne Mountain Zoo by tourists.

They decided to use food the giraffes already had learned to like. "You can't train your dog by using mothballs," said Prof. Johns.

A recorder is attached to the electronic apparatus, designed by the Colorado College students for conditioning the jungle-born giraffe. It charts a running report on Socrates' progress in the numbers game.

Students started the experiment by sounding a buzzer each time Socrates discovered a cracker in his bowl. Later, when he began exploring the large switch with his nose, they sounded the buzzer and released a cracker. Soon, he discovered he would find a cracker in the bowl if he nudged the wall switch.

The students decided to put him on piecework. Several days went into setting up ground rules for the giraffe. With this accomplished, the students spent only one afternoon teaching him to nudge the switch four times to earn one cracker.

"Once we get well-established response, we can ask the giraffe how well he sees and how well he hears," said Dr. Johns.

Colorado College students working with Professor Johns and Miss Grant on the project are Thomas Althaus of Berne, Switzerland; Lee Prater of 2001 S. Madison St., Denver; Mary M. Roberts of Colorado Springs; Robert Goldman of 91 Stratford Ave., White Plains, N. Y., and Elizabeth Nichols of 2200 Stuart, Denver.

Vandalism Cases Checked By Sheriff

Three cases of malicious mischief, one of them causing $150, were reported to the sheriff's office Thursday.

The first happened at a cabin in Cascade belonging to Albert Webber, 2303 Wood Ave. According to Deputy Sheriff Larry Holien, Mrs. Weber discovered someone chopping the bridge which leads from the cabin across a creek to a picnic area. Damage was $150.

The person ran away and escaped but left the axe and a shovel behind him.

The second incident was reported by Mrs. A. E. Davis who told Holien that someone had smashed a window in her garage.

Dr. Paul C. Wetzig, 1819 Mesita Rd., reported the final incident to Deputy Sheriffs Lee Quein and David Sturgeon. He said that a plate glass window at his home had been smashed with a BB gun.

Manitou Okays City Water System Study

Engineers got the approval to proceed with a professional study of the Manitou Springs city water system, Thursday night, by unanimous vote of the City Council.

The contract entered into with R. W. Beck and Associates, a Denver consulting engineering company, will allow two weeks for completion of a five-part study of the city's water system, at a cost not to exceed $1,815.

Mayor L. L. Longaker stated that the study would up - date and complete previous study efforts of the city's water system problems. He explained that $1,600 had been paid the firm last year for a study of the system, when the city became involved in a water bond issue lawsuit. The issue was resolved May 4 when the Supreme Court ruled in the city's favor.

City Attorney Blakemore McCarty said that if the court is not petitioned for a re-hearing by today (Friday), the city can proceed with it's plan to improve the water system.

According to Fred Ruckhaus, senior engineer for Beck Associates, the five - part study will include:

Up-dating of water district map.

Simple district system study.

Determine the required improvements.

Prepare preliminary cost estimates.

Prepare a letter - type report for presentation to the city.

On completion of the study, Burkhaus said that the firm would be ready to go ahead with plans and specifications for the water project.

Mayor Longaker stated that three weeks after completion of the study, the city should be able to advertise for bids on the project. "So it will be five weeks before we can open bids on the project," he said.

Referring to the study, the mayor said, "This is something we have got to have, we could go ahead and advertise for a water tank without the study ... if we got one the wrong size, we are the ones who would be criticized for it."

Ruckhaus told the council that the study would be "opinions based on engineering facts, and not just anybody's opinion. We probably give you several alternates."

The firm's engineer said that one of the recommendations would include the water capacity tank needed, based on the study. General feeling among Council members is that the settler would have between 2-5 million gallon storage capacity.

Lutheran Women Slate Home-Sewing Style Show

A collection of cottons featuring 1964 patterns and fabric finishes will be presented in a fashion show sponsored by the American Lutheran Church Women of Ascension Lutheran Church, at 2 p.m., Sunday. This will be done in connection with the Mother-Daughter Tea.

The "Cavalcade of Cottons" loan wardrobe is provded by the National Cotton Council and McCall's Patterns to demonstrate the practicality of home sewing. Fashions for any time of day range from swimsuit to formal.

New trends in cottons are illustrated by a stretch fabric, an embossed double knit, pastel denims, pin-stripe suiting, and doeskin. Patterns follow fashion's latest silhouettes with a tent dress, shifts, wandering waistlines, shirt-cuffed sleeves and at-home attire. Both fabrics and patterns are available in leading stores throughout the country.

Plans for the show are announced by Mrs. William A. Huebner.

The fashions will be described by Mrs. William R. Kelso and models will include: Miss Lori Aplin, Mrs. Alfred Manz, Miss Nancy Sunde, Mrs. Arnold C. Erickson, Mrs. Marvin Buenting, Miss Patricia Small, Miss Pamela Bjorndahl, Mrs. Kenneth D. Wagner, Miss Cathy Hanson, Miss Carol Marander, Mrs. William R. Kelso, Miss Louise Manz, Miss Barbara Wagner, Mrs. M. D. Gladem and Mrs. James R. Novak.

HINTS FROM Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

My husband has been a cardiac patient for the past two years. I worried constantly about what my reaction would be if he had a serious attack. Then I had an idea.

I cut three strips of paper and wrote down my doctor's office and home phone numbers, the fire department and the police department. I attached these to my phone with tape.

Last Monday evening, it happened . . .

I was more terrified than I thought I would be, but because I could see the numbers right on the phone I was able to get the fire department to bring oxygen within a short time.

Next, I called my doctor and an ambulance. My husband is home again now, and I will never take these numbers from my phone. I think it is a good idea for any home to put these numbers not only on their phone directory, but to tape them directly to their telephone. It might just save a life. —Mrs. V.P.

Dear Heloise:

Have you noticed the new plastic top coffee containers at our markets?

I found a terrific use for them. I covered the cans with adhesive-backed paper, and with an ink-type waterproof pen (bought at any stationery store) I wrote on each can "rolled oats", "biscuit mix" . . . or whatever they might be needed for.

I used two-pound coffee cans. The one-pound cans may be used for brown sugar or any of the smaller boxed items.

These containers also make beautiful extra canister sets for all those items we fear the weevils will nest in during the summer months. Also keeps items fresh and adds beauty to your cupboards. —Dolores Boyajian

Dear Heloise:

I use canned biscuits for making dumplings. I either roll them out and cut them as one would with regular dumplings, or just pinch off some and drop into a pot of cream of chicken soup.

Cook just a few minutes (or while you fix a salad or cole slaw) and you have a quick lunch, which seems much more filling than just the soup. —Clara Durgin

I used my kitchen scissors to cut them up. Real neat. —Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I use a cotton swab, dipped in household bleach, to mark the children's initials on the inside of their galoshes and boots. The bleach will remove the color inside of the boot and the initials are easy to read. —Mrs. Allen Lindenberg

From Heloise's Kitchen

Dear Folks:

The other day I was in a real hurry to bake a pie. Yes, I sometimes used boxed puddings.

Not having any eggs (yes, sometimes I run out!), after pouring in the chocolate filling I covered the top of the pie with marshmallows, stuck it back into my oven and let the marshmallows melt and brown a little bit.

The result was that my family liked this even better than my good old meringue. If you are ever in a hurry you might try this. —Heloise

Dear Heloise:

For those mothers who stand for hours at the ironing board, take my advice.

I place two pairs of comfortable shoes by my ironing board. I change shoes every half hour. This does wonders for your legs and you can last much longer when ironing. —Mary Tibbots

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ◇	3 ♡	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Ace of ◇

The defenders in today's hand combined a well conceived opening lead with a bit of fancy footwork, thereafter, to sink South's vulnerable four spade contract.

East's preemptive jump overcall of three hearts was calculated to interrupt the comfortable flow of information between his opponents. South was, indeed confronted with an awkward situation. He disliked making a forcing bid of three spades on an open suit, and with no clear idea of where the partnership was headed. To pass, on the other hand, might place too much pressure on North to carry on the contest. Fortunately, North was able to resolve matters to South's satisfaction by raising him to four spades.

West was convinced that defensive prospects were slight since the opposition obviously held the bulk of the high card strength. Furthermore, his own length in hearts indicated that very few tricks were available from this source. The only hope was to find partner with a short suit and try to give him ruffs.

West's length in diamonds appeared to offer the best prospect and, despite North's bid of that suit, West opened the ace of diamonds. He continued with the jack and East trumped with the four of spades.

East realized that desperate measures were in order, and he felt that the only chance was to put West in again to obtain another diamond ruff. Taking the jack of diamonds to be a suit preference signal, East resolved to underlead his top honors in hearts in the hope that West held the queen. He assumed that, if West had the ace of clubs, his lead at trick two would have been his smallest diamond, suggesting that his reentry card was in the lower ranking of the two plain suits.

Fortunately, West was able to win the heart return and, on a diamond continuation, East used the ten of spades to apply the finishing touch to declarer's cause. South was obliged to overruff with the queen—thereby establishing West's jack of trumps as the eventual setting trick.

Scholarship Fund Given by Canon Club

Mrs. T. A. Briggs, president of the Women's Club of Canon City announced that the organization is presenting a scholarship to the vocational department of Canon City High School in the amount of $100.00. This scholarship will be divided up among the departments to be given to outstanding senior member of the class of 1964 that excels in each of the vocational programs.

The vocational instructor will determine the student to receive the award, and they will be given a $25.0 savings bond each.

Vocational Machine Shop, Don Janssen, instructor.

Vocational Welding, Sam Schimelfenig, instructor.

Vocational Home Economics, Mrs. Jane Griffin, instructor.

Industrial Arts Mechanical Drawing, Henry Allen, instructor.

With the remaining money in the scholarship fund, a trophy will be purchased for the outstanding Diversified Occupations Student.

The selections must be turned in to the principal, Canon City High School by May 27. Each instructor is responsible for writing a short paragraph as the reason for his recommendation and the work accomplishment of the selected student.

Royal Neighbors Of Canon Plan Family Buffet

The Odd Fellow's Hall of Canon City was the scene Friday night, of a meeting of the Royal Neighbors of America, Camp 2546. Mrs. Basil Coursey, oracle, presided at the business meeting.

It was announced that a family buffet will be held after the May lodge meeting. A convention and school of instructions will be held in Colorado Springs on May 26.

Mrs. George Steeples, Mrs. Minnie Quist and Mrs. Lucy Beck were on the refreshment committee. Winners at games included Arlene Sollee, a guest from Colorado Springs; Miss Evelyn Harvey and Mrs. Nell Dubas. Mrs. Quist won the surprise package.

Floating House Goes Ahead

United Press International

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — You have heard of the flying Dutchman? Make way for the floating Dutchman's house!

It happened this way: Stockholm, sort of a Scandinavian Venice, suffers from a shortage of housing. When you're looking for an apartment, for example, you're told that it might be possible to find if you wait 10 years.

But the floating Dutch house seems to be about to cut the Gordian knot.

The floating houses, anchored here, are specially designed for a place with a severe winter and rainy summer—and a body of water.

Floating on two pontoons, the house contains three small sleeping cabins, a kitchen, a bathroom, and a comfortable living room with an open fireplace.

The Dutch "floater house" is equipped with a little balcony, double windows, warm water heater and a cellar.

In Stockholm, surrounded by more water than either Venice or Amsterdam, you can let your floater roam—er, float—to almost any place, changing the scenery when you desire.

Here, the floater house is regarded as a boat. This means you ened no license or permit to park it.

The question now: will authorities reserve special areas for the floater house? If so, there may be small floating village in the future.

Simmer uncooked shrimp until the outside shell turns bright pink and it will be tender.

GIFTS FOR JUDGES — Mrs. W. F. McConnell, left is presenting a gift of a hand-crafted tie-tac to Mr. Christopher, Education Office representative who worked with three judges from Colorado College in selecting winners of the scholarships recently awarded by the Ent Officers' Wives Club. He made the presentation of scholarships at the May luncheon. Each of the judges also received the tie-tacs, made by Capt. McConnell of NORAD, who used native Colorado turquoise and silver. He was recently featured in a Gazette Telegraph story for his excellent craftsmanship in Indian jewelry. At right is Mrs. R. C. Lowman, chairman of the scholarship committee.

What's New

An electric knife which uses heat to cut easily through frozen food is the latest freezer accessory. Push button control switches on the internal heat to cutting temperature, makes it possible to use the blade for frozen foods as well as for regular carving. The heat knife has two edges—one serrated and the other with a saw-type construction. (Osrow Products Co. Inc., Hazel St., Glen Cove, N.Y.)

To brighten the view from your home, frame it with color, using those new vinyl - coated steel windows which come in three window styles and eight colors to match any decor. The frames require no maintenance except an occasional wash off with soap or detergent suds. (Ceco Steel Products, 625 Glenwood Ave., Hillside, N.J.)

High - backed rockers take high-fashion honors on patios and terraces. Their folding tubular aluminum frames support contoured seats made of broad redwood slate, or boxed polyurethane foam pads covered with floral printed vinyl. The maintenance for this leisure furniture is simple. Just wash all surfaces with soap or detergent suds, then rinse with the hose. Hinges and under sides are easier to get at when the rockers are folded. (Hampden Specialty Products Corp., 295 Fifth Ave., New York, N.Y.)

Rolls to serve with corned beef are made this way: halve half a dozen soft rolls and spread cut surfaces with a couple of tablespoons of butter or margarine mixed with mustard-flavored horseradish. Put the halves together again and heat the rolls, in a brown paper bag closed tightly, in a hot oven for about ten minutes.

Theodora Kelly Honored at Tea, Bridal Shower

Mrs. J. D. Sidebottom and Mrs. Don Hardy were hostesses at a bridal shower and teas Saturday afternoon in the Hardy home at Canon City in honor of Miss Theodora Kelly.

Miss Kelly, the granddaughter of Mrs. T. M. Harding of Canon City, will marry Robert Leatherwood on June 7 at Boulder. Mrs. Keith Leatherwood of Denver, Robert's mother, was a guest at the shower.

The tea table carried out a spring motif with a crystal swan centerpiece filled with blue, lavender and pink chrysanthemums. Candles of the same colors flanked the swan.

Mrs. W. T. Little Jr. and Mrs. E. J. Burke, Colorado Springs, poured.

Gifts were arranged in gay profusion on a large round table centered with a parasol surrounded by lilacs and tulips. Mrs. W. A. MacKenzie assisted with the guest book and gifts. Mrs. Lloyd Wright and Mrs. Catherine McKinley fashioned a bridal bouquet of the gift ribbons.

McVICKER ANNOUNCES

DENVER (UPI) — State Sen. Roy McVicker, D-Wheat Ridge, announced Wednesday he would be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Second District congressman. McVicker, 40, is expected to oppose Republican Donald Brotzman who has not yet announced his candidacy for re-election. McVicker has served eight years in the State Senate. The Second District in which he will run is made up of Boulder, Jefferson, Arapahoe, Adams, Clear Creek and Gilpin Counties.

Dear Abby--

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Now Calm Down!

DEAR ABBY: A letter came for my husband. The few words I could see through the envelope raised my suspicions, so when he came home I made him open it in front of me and read it out loud. Abby, I almost died! It was a love letter from a married woman my husband had been carrying on with out of town. He travels. She told him how much she missed him and loved him. It was disgusting! She mentioned her two children. I locked my husband in the basement and called her up long distance. I told her what I thought of her and the whole cheap affair. I also told her I was going to call her husband and tell him about it. She cried and begged, saying if I did, they would take her children away from her. Now I am uncertain. Do you think this little tramp deserves a second chance? —PLENTY MAD

DEAR PLENTY: Everybody deserves a second chance. One good scare is sometimes worth a month of Sundays in church.

DEAR ABBY: I am fed up hearing people say that all the money I spent on my college education was "wasted" because ALL I did was get married. I earned a B.A. degree, and then my Master's, and I have a teaching certificate. Please say something in your column about the importance of education to women. —EDUCATED AND GLAD OF IT

DEAR EDUCATED: A college education is the best insurance a woman can have in case something should happen to her husband. Should he become unable to work, his wife will be faced with the task of supporting the family. She will do much better for having had a college education. And what do people mean, "all" you did was get married? Marriage is the greatest challenge of all.

DEAR ABBY: When I have company and I get a telephone call from a friend who wants to pass the time away just chatting, I always tell them I have company, and I'll ring back as soon as I'm free. Well, I was visiting at the home of this friend (by invitation) and her telephone rang. I heard her say, "Oh, nothing. What are YOU doing?" Then she carried on a conversation with this other party about absolutely nothing while I sat there staring into space for exactly 35 minutes by my watch. I think this was extremely rude. What would you have done in a case like that? —TIME WASTED

DEAR TIME: After 15 minutes of "staring" I would have signaled my hostess a fond farewell and that would have been the last she'd have seen of this guest.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 14-year-old girl with a problem. When I ask my mother if I can go to the movies with three or four girls, she says yes. Then after all the plans are made and I am getting ready to go, my mother thinks up some reason why I can't go. Like she doesn't like what I'm wearing or the way I talk to my friends, or she will think of something I did a while ago and decide to punish me now by not letting me go. Then I have to call my friends and tell them I can't go. I wouldn't mind so much if my mother told me I couldn't go in the first place. Do you think this is fair to me and my friends? —EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: No! Parents should realize that their children learn more from example than preaching. Your mother could do a better job of teaching you how to keep your word by keeping hers. And delayed punishments are unjust.

Try Frosted Sandwich Loaf

PARTY SANDWICH LOAF

Trim crusts from an unsliced 1½ pound bread loaf. Cut in 4 lengthwise slices. Butter slices. Spread bottom slice with Luncheon Meat Filling made by grinding 1 can (12 ounces) luncheon meat and mixing with 2 tablespoons pickle relish and 2 tablespoons mayonnaise.

Spread second slice of bread, with a mixture of 4 hard-cooked eggs, finely chopped, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 3 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper, 2 teaspoons finely chopped onion and ¼ cup mayonnaise.

Spread third slice of bread with one-half of cooked Meat Filling made by mixing together ½ cup ground cooked meat, 2 tablespoons finely chopped ripe olives, ¼ cup minced celery, 2 tablespoons minced onion and ¼ cup mayonnaise.

Place 1 thinly sliced, peeled tomato over the filling. Top with remaining Meat Filling and fourth slice. Wrap in waxed paper and chill in refrigerator for several hours or overnight.

Frost sides with 12 ounces of cream cheese, softened with cream to spreading consistency and decorate top with cheese fluted through a pastry tube. Garnish with olives. 12 to 14 servings.

When you are making a sauce (thickened with cornstarch) use leftover syrup from canned peaches or apricots to serve with sponge cake or cottage pudding; add a little almond extract to perk up flavor. You'll need to add about a quarter cup of sugar to a cup of the fruit juice.

Lard Lore

CHICAGO (UPI) — Folklore experts report Idaho pioneers made a lantern called a "palouser" by sticking a candle in a lard pail. Lard also often doubled as milady's face cream in days gone by.

Lard still has many uses today, more conventional perhaps, but just as interesting to a hungry family, says the American Meat Institute. Many good cooks build their reputation for fine cookies, cakes and pastries on use of the shortening.

When shopping for furniture, home economists suggest you keep in mind the size of the room where it's to be used. A bulky chair or sofa displayed in a large floor space in the store will look smaller and lighter in weight than it will in your living room.

Editor Is Waging Personal Battle Against Paralysis

By RICHARD C. BAYER

LUMBERTON, N.C. (AP)—In 1953, Willard Cole won a Pulitzer Prize for a public crusade against Ku Klux Klan terrorists. Today he is waging a personal battle against partial paralysis.

Cole was editor of the semiweekly Whiteville News-Reporter when he shared a Pulitzer public service award and other national press citations with W. Horace Carter, editor of the Tabor City Tribune, for three years of courageous campaigning against the KKK. During that period, hooded night riders terrorized the southeastern North Carolina countryside with floggings and cross burnings.

On Christmas Day, 1961, he suffered a stroke that paralyzed his legs and left arm and blocked part of his memory.

"First they thought they would just let me go ahead and kick the bucket," Cole recalled. But after an operation and three months rest he was back at his typewriter.

Recently, he sat in the old store which serves as his office and recalled his war with the KKK.

"Some people thought I was an s.o.b. and some thought I was a pretty smart guy.

"Things started to get pretty hot so I carried a gun every inch of the way. It got so I backed away from anybody who got too close.

"I let the word out around town that my wife had a shotgun and my boy, who was 17 at the time, had a 16-shot carbine.

"I told my son, 'They may get me one of these days, but you just take that carbine and sweep it around in front of the house and don't worry about me.'"

During the klan's reign of terror in Columbus County, 13 persons, most of them white, were taken from their homes and flogged.

"Integration wasn't an issue at the time," Cole recalled. "They were after the type of person who spent his money on liquor instead of on his family."

Informants from within the ranks of the KKK finally provided police with enough information to make mass arrests. About 80 men, charged variously with kidnaping, assault and conspiracy, were convicted. Prison terms ranged up to six years.

They included former policemen, businessmen, farmers and two National Guard officers, all led by Thomas L. Hamilton, a portly ex-grocer from Leesville, S.C. He got four years.

In the next North Carolina General Assembly a law was passed making it illegal to wear a mask or a hood in public.

Cole has grappled with adversity all his life. As a child in the North Carolina mountains he almost died of pneumonia. To earn pocket money he gathered herbs and strung tobacco sacks for 25 cents per 1,000.

"I grew up in a place so poor a rabbit had to carry his lunch to get across," he said.

In 1936, Cole, on the advice of a physician, went into construction work. He contracted malaria during World War II while building roads in Panama.

Cole returned to the United States. Though still subject to malarial attacks, he got a job in a defense plant at Akron, Ohio. There he developed a drill pattern that saved thousands of man hours.

While not on the assembly line, he found time to woo and win his former wife and they were remarried after being divorced for years.

So far, his new venture has been successful.

"My old friends just followed me. The advertisers are doing the same thing," Cole said.

"Retire? I'll retire when they plant me in the ground."

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dress up baked potatoes by serving with a blue cheese sauce. Combine 1 cup dairy sour cream, ¾ cup (about three ounces) crumbled American blue cheese, and 2 tablespoons chopped chives. Cook over low heat until the cheese melts, and spoon into hot baked potatoes.

FORTUNATE MEMORY

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP) — Kuttawa businessman Howell Wiseman recalled a tragedy of many years ago when he saw a youngster bend over a railroad track near Paducah.

Wiseman told officers he thought the boy might have placed something on the rails. He drove back and removed 23 rocks and four pieces of metal before a train came along.

He said he recalled that a boy in Lyon County, Ky., once placed a spike on a track to see what would happen when a train ran over it. It wrecked the train.

Penrose News

By MRS. JEAN STEPHENS
Rural Route, Penrose

The Mother's Day program was given during Sunday School at the Presbyterian Church. A short history of Miss Anna Jarvis was given as part of the program. Primary class sang special songs for the mothers. Ann Heid, Chris Templeton and Janet Sneed presented the vocal "He." Congregational songs were chosen by the mothers.

At the Friends Church, a special Mother's Day program was given during the Sunday School hour, with the Junior Department in charge of the opening exercises. Each mother was presented with a carnation.

Two carloads of members from the Friends Church attended the Quarterly meeting at Colorado Springs Saturday. The young people enjoyed a picnic at Palmer Park in the evening and the day's activities were closed with devotional services.

Rev. Clyde Newman, of Texas, filled the pulpit on Mother's Day at the Baptist church and presented a sermon on "Mothers' Three Qualities." Mrs. Leon Hinkle gave a vocal entitled, "That Wonderful Mother of Mine." Rev. Bert Loyd of Denver will fill the pulpit next Sunday.

Boy Scouts met Friday night at the Scout Hut. This was the last meeting for first aid instruction and practice. Fifteen boys were present and Scoutmaster Clayton Wright.

The regular meeting of Brownies was held at the home of their leader, Mrs. Jean Whitaker, Thursday. The meeting was opened by the Brownie pledge and song. The girls made gifts for their mothers for Mother's Day. The following members were present: Debra Trevithick, Laura Everly, Dora Ann Wann, Linda Whitaker, Joannette Brown, Linda Bustos, Sharon Estes, Heide Oxnam, Jane Shaffer and Glenda Buchanan.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stephens and boys attended a meeting of the Rocky Mountain Trail Riders Saturday evening at Pueblo. Plans were made for the group to attend the annual trail races at Trinidad May 16 and 17.

Mrs. Velma Price presided at the regular meeting of the Past Matrons May 4 at the home of Mrs. Al Neihans. Plans were made for a picnic in June before recessing for the summer. Mrs. Otis Gillespie, Mrs. Charles Shadford and Mrs. Al Neihans served a dessert course to 20 members. The dessert course was served on individual trays, with miniature May baskets with cut flowers for favors.

The regular meeting of the Beaver Park Grange was held May 6, following a potluck supper. Mrs. Robert Stebbins was in charge of the program, consisting of the Penrose Beetles. Yolanda Avila is the director and coach of the Beetles. Charles and Timothy Avila, Dale Young and John Canchola pantomime as the Beetles. Linda Canchola furnished the record player. A total of 18 members were present.

The regular meeting of the Home Extension Club was held at the Grange Hall May 5. Mrs. Mabie Guy and Mrs. Martha Carrithers were hostesses. Mrs. E. E. Wilson was in charge of the lesson on gardening and soil needs. A demonstration on types of soil was presented and types of flowers to plant in order to have flowers in bloom from early spring to frost.

Chapter BU, PEO, meeting was held May 6 at the home of Mrs. Al Niehans, with Mrs. Elmer Niehans co-hostess. Mrs. Jones of Canon City presented a green thumb program on bedding plants, making planters and candles. A potted plant exchange was held by the 18 members present. The regular business meeting was held and new fall programs were given to each member. Mrs. Al Niehans and Mrs. Elmer Niehans served a dessert course, with miniature potted plants as favors.

A products party was held in the home of Mrs. Irene Combs. The evening was spent in working with color combinations and shading flowers. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Minson and children of Pueblo, Mr. and Mrs. John Bowser and Mr. and Mrs. James [illegible] and children were Saturday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Perrino of Florence.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Porter and children, of Colorado Springs, were Saturday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Combs.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mills, newcomers to Penrose, are living on the Melburn Whitaker place.

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Niehans, Jim, John and Pattie of Colorado Springs visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Niehans May 3. They also called on the Louis Stowes.

Mrs. Faye Stoddard, of California, visited Mrs. Lissie Combs and Mr. and Mrs. Vern Steffenson and children.

Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Stephens and family were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rowan and Mrs. Melburn Whitaker and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Sandefur, of Alamosa, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Sandefur over the weekend. Mrs. Anna Sandefur returned home with the Gilbert Sandefurs.

Mrs. Vernon Roberts and Mrs. John DeWeese and son, of Pueblo, visited at the William Shipman home on Mother's Day.

Dave Green, of Denver, was a weekend guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Gillespie.

Guests at the R. G. Carrithers home for Mother's Day were Mrs. Rachel Crispin, of Denver, Larry Little, of Pueblo, Bob Little, of Denver, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Little, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Carrithers and Kathey Simpson.

Mrs. Pete Dickman and Mrs. John Molello spent Saturday shopping in Colorado Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Phillips, Nancy, George, Patricia and Lois, of Canon City, were Sunday afternoon callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Green.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Watkins of Rockvale enjoyed Mother's Day dinner at the Broken Spoke.

Mother's Day dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hank McCallister were Mrs. Pearl Aldred, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Quinlan of La Veta, Mrs. Elsie Ebo, Mrs. Ida White and Mrs. Lena Henderson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Trevithick of Colorado Springs, and Jack Trevithick, of Salt Lake City, were Saturday afternoon visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Trevithick and children.

RIVER FISH AGAINST FLOOD

SMITHLAND, Ky. (AP) — Livingston County residents used one benefit of rivers when river flooding threatened Smithland. They held a fish fry to help pay for a levee around the town. The levee held back the waters this year but another fish fry was scheduled to help pay for more work on the barrier.

Food for Peace Director Will Go to Brazil

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard Reuter, Food for Peace director, is expected to fly to Rio de Janeiro shortly to look into charges by his director there that Washington red tape is strangling the U.S. aid program.

This was announced by an Agency for International Development spokesman after the Food for Peace chief in Rio, Leonard Wolf, a former Democratic congressman from Iowa, aired his charges in a Rio interview.

Reuter is in Ecuador on a Latin-American tour.

Wolf said he agrees wholeheartedly with President Johnson's aid policy in the Alliance for Progress program of assistance to Latin America.

But the bureaucratic system of administering it "prevents it from being carried out," he said.

The AID spokesman said in Washington: "Food for Peace shipments for Brazil have been adequate for the program being carried out there. Mr. Wolf's comments are as surprising in their content as in their motivation."

Officials at AID, the agency administering the U.S. aid program, declined further comment pending study of specific allegations. Somewhat similar charges were made by the former U.S. Ambassador in Panama, Joseph S. Farland, a Republican who resigned.

The first base hit in New York's Shea Stadium, home of the Mets, was a home run by Pittsburgh left fielder Willie Stargell.

AAA Track Stars Move to Boulder

By TOM CUSHMAN
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

BOULDER — Colorado's star-studded galaxy of track and field standouts gathers at Folsom Field here Saturday for what experts are predicting will be another in a series of record-smashing AAA state meets.

Following the 1963 blitz by the greatest collection of prep stars ever assembled in this state, followers of the spring circuit were left wondering what was left for an encore. New records tacked into the book were so imposing that another assault in the near future was considered unlikely.

Instead, as Colorado's stars tuned in district meets around the state last week it became increasingly apparent that the present crop may leave the 1963 competition in the status of an amateur night. In fact, nearly all of the 14 existing standards may be in reach of the 1964 athletes if conditions are favorable Saturday.

Palmer's district champions and Wasson's runner-up team are expected to rate high in the brilliant field, although neither is expected to make a serious run for the title. The favorite in that department is East Denver. The Angels may very well have one of the finest squads to ever represent a Colorado High School.

To win East will have to unseat Denver Manual — and the Thunderbolts seem extremely comfortable on a throne which they have occupied for three straight years. Nevertheless, the Bolts do not appear to have the point strength of past years and it would require an upset of some proportion for them to repeat.

Other strong entries will be from such schools as Boulder, Fort Collins, Lakewood and Wheat Ridge. Wheat Ridge boasts one of the meet's top individuals in Mike Sanberg who is the first Colorado youth to throw the shot put past the 60 foot mark.

Colorado Springs' top chance for its first individual title in two years appears to be with Wasson distance star, Jeff Berven. Despite a throat ailment which has forced him off his workout schedule, Berven will enter the mile run as the favorite and if he is back at top strength, many observers figure he has an excellent chance to uproot the oldest existing record on the books. The mile standard of 4:25.2 was set by John Doyle of East Denver in 1939. Berven has turned the distance in 4:30.2 and, on a good day, is capable of dropping down into the mid 20s.

Wasson also hopes for points from Dominic Flacco who has a strong chance of placing in the 180 yard low hurdles. Flacco won the district title in that event and is also qualified in the 100 yard dash, broad jump, and 220.

Other T-Bird athletes who earned berths include Craig Gillette, who has an outside shot at placing in the high jump, Bud Hoffpauir in the high hurdles, Bruce Teschner in the shot put, Craig Carson in the 880 yard run, and the 880 relay team of Terry Charlton, Rich Delanoy, Flacco, and Martin.

Palmer has possible point winners in several areas. Bobby Jo Williams is one of the state's best high hurdlers and will be one of the favorites to challenge Dave Stevens of East Denver who appears to be the best. Williams is also qualified in the lows and 220 dash. Bob McCoy, who went 13-7 in the pole vault last Saturday, is one of the top favorites in that event along with Gary Gehlhoff of Pueblo Central and Chuck Rogers of Denver Washington. Rogers has been over 14 feet, Gehlhoff over 13-10.

The Tribe also has a district champ in Alan Snyder, a quartermiler. Snyder's great dash on the anchor leg of the mile relay last Saturday raised hopes that he may be one of the top entries in that event at Boulder. Ralph Brown won the broad jump and Dennis Bair placed third in the district meet and both were out over 21 feet, indicating that they could place in that event.

Other Palmer entries include Jim Glaskin in the 100 yard dash, Jim Seitz in the 880 yard run, Dennis Rice in the high jump, and David Paul in the pole vault.

The Terrors also have both their 880 and mile relay teams qualified and the 880 unit should be a strong contender at Boulder. Its time of 1:31.1 in the district meet equaled the time turned in by East Denver in winning the district finals in that city. Glaskin, Rice, Don Goldston, and Williams carry the baton at that distance while Jeff Jewett, Rice, Goldston, and Snyder form the mile relay quartet.

In addition to such standouts as Sandberg, Berven, and Rogers, others shooting for records at Boulder will include Art Levy of East Denver in the dashes. Levy whipped to a wind aided 9.6 in the Denver district meet and clocked 21.0 in the 220.

The Angels' Dave Stevens recorded a 14.0 in the high hurdles in the state meet, below Jim Miller's record of 14.2, and sped over the lows in 19.2. Stevens, Williams, and Anthony Booker of Manual should have an exciting race in the highs.

Arvada's Rich Fowler has been under 49 seconds in the 440 dash and defending champion Don Cooper of Manual will be after the state record of 1:58.2 in the 880 yard run. East Denver's John Craig has been over 6-6 in the high jump the past two weekends, and several standouts are expected to shoot at the broad jump mark of 23-4½.

Preliminaries will get underway at 9 a.m. Saturday. Finals in the field events will commence at 1:30 p.m. with the track finals following at 2.

State AA Track Meet At Alamosa Saturday

ALAMOSA — John Shultz's Fountain track team, winners of the 1964 Pikes Peak League District meet, will be one of eight teams from the PPL competing here in the State Class-AA Track and Field Championships, Saturday at the Adams State College oval.

The Fountain thinclads will find the going rough here Saturday against the top state contender, Durango, and last year's defending champion, Alamosa.

All the PPL schools with the exception of Leadville qualified tracksters for the state meet which includes Fountain, Cheyenne Mountain, Air Academy High, Florence, Harrison, Manitou Springs, Widefield and Salida.

Durango has been outstanding in previous meets this year, winning the Fountain Relays. Alamosa finished in second place during that meet with Cheyenne Mountain and Fountain finishing third and fourth respectively.

The Durango team has perhaps the most evenly rounded track squad in Class-AA circles and the Demons are heavy favorites to take home state honors Saturday. With the exception of a few field events (discus, high jump and broad jump) the Durango team has strength in all the other 14 field and track events.

Bob Carter will be Fountain's ace in the state meet and if the Trojan flash brings home first places in the 100, 220-yard dashes and broad jump, the Fountain team could make the meet a three-way team battle for state honors.

Cheyenne's speed merchant, Bob Richardson, pulled a muscle in his thigh last week and missed competing in the PPL District meet. Richardson anchored the Cheyenne 880-yard relay team, which was undefeated in PPL competition. Coach Tom McCord reports that he won't know whether Richardson will be able to compete in the state meet until he checks with the doctor sometime today.

If Richardson gets the okay for Saturday's outing, the Cheyenne relay team will be a strong contender for honors in the 880-yard relay event. Cheyenne could finish in the top five division if they receive 100 per cent performances from its top field contestants, Rick Stowell in the shot put and discus and Ron Graham in the high jump and broad jump.

Stowell should take the shot put as the 220-pound Cheyenne strongman has repeatedly tossed the 12-pound iron ball over 55 feet, which is by far the best mark in Class-AA competition. Stowell's best mark was 56½ feet during the Pikes Peak Relays which established a new record.

And the Cheyenne All-State footballer could win the discus with a good toss. Stowell has thrown the discus near 160 feet and has been hitting over 150 feet consistently.

Graham should be a two-first place performer on Saturday. The Cheyenne trackster has the best mark in the high jump with a leap of 5-11¾ feet during the Pikes Peak Relays. Graham and Carter have been tops in the PPL with both lads jumping over 21 feet in the broad jump event.

Manitou's John (the jet) Moore will be a strong contender in the hurdles. The Mustang hurdler broke the PPL District meet record in the high hurdles with a time of 15.4. But Moore will receive competition in that event with Durango's Akins recording a 15.1 last weekend during the Southwestern League District meet. Akins posted a 20.4 in the 180-yard low hurdles to better Moore's time of 20.7.

Academy High's Rob Stockhouse, the only sprinter in Class-AA competition to break the 10 second barrier in the 100 yard dash, won't get a crack at the state meet. Stockhouse missed the PPL District meet because of a leg injury, and thus won't compete in the state meet.

This will be the last year the Class-AA meet will be conducted at Alamosa. Next year the meet will be moved to Boulder. The meet is scheduled to start Saturday morning at 9 a.m. with the preliminaries and follow with the finals at 1 p.m.

Cheyenne Indians Host Las Animas In First Round of State Playoffs

By CHARLIE DREUX
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

It's now or never for the Cheyenne Mountain baseball team!

On the eve of the State Class-AA semi-finals playoff, the Cheyenne group will get another shot at the state title when the Indians tangle with Las Animas, Saturday afternoon at Memorial Park in Colorado Springs. Game time is set for 1:30 p.m.

This will be the last opportunity for the Tribe to sew up their fifth state championship in Class-AA competition. Next season the Cheyenne school, along with Air Academy High, Harrison and Widefield will advance to the higher state division — Class AAA.

And this will be the coaching career finis for Eldon Helm who will retire from athletics to take over the principal duties of Cheyenne Mountain high school.

During the nine years of coaching at Cheyenne, Helm's teams have won seven Pikes Peak League and four state championships. Last week the Tribe presented Helm with his seventh PPL title when the Cheyenne group topped Air Academy High, 5-1, to record their 57th consecutive league victory. In over-all competition, Helm's teams have won 116 games.

A victory on Saturday would qualify the Cheyenne aggregation for a berth in the state finals the following Saturday, May 23, at the site of the winner of the Delta-Thornton semi-finals playoff game. The Delta-Thornton game is scheduled to be played Saturday at Delta.

Delta is the Southwestern League champion and the defending state champion. Last season the Delta group topped Cheyenne in the semi-finals and went on to win the state crown by defeating Lamar.

Thornton wrapped up the Metropolitan League title last week with a 7-5 triumph over Brighton. Delta downed Cortez, 5-4, to cinch the Southwestern loop crown.

Las Animas wrote a 9-1 won-loss record in the Southern League to win that loop championship. The Trojans split with defending league champions Lamar, to sew up the Southern League last weekend.

If past performances can measure the strength of Cheyenne and Las Animas, the PPL kingpins should be favorites in Saturday's semi-finals against the Trojans. The Cheyenne squad took a twin bill victory from Lamar whereas the Trojans split with Lamar last weekend, winning the first 8-5 but dropping the second game 6-5.

Cheyenne took both games from Lamar, 5-1 and 7-2.

Helm scouted the Las Animas-Lamar doubleheader last Saturday and reports that the Southern League champion is a strong team both in the field an at the plate. The Trojans are especially sound in the outfield and center their pitching around a lad named Herring.

The Las Animas second baseman was effective in the first game last weekend against Lamar, getting four hits for as many times at the plate.

Herring is a husky, side arm chucker and Helm reports that the Trojan hurler could be difficult to handle should he get the starting assignment for Las Animas.

Helm will call on his ace pitcher, Ted Garcia, to carry the Tribe through the playoff game Saturday afternoon. Garcia has been largely responsible for the Cheyenne team's success in the PPL campaign.

In addition to Garcia's leadership on the mound, the Cheyenne coach also has a host of capable hitters including the PPL's top slugger, Bill Massarand, who was the most consistent hitter in the Class-AA loop. Massarand led the league in home runs, belting six four-baggers.

Tickets for the Saturday state playoff game at Memorial Park will sell $1 for adults and 50 cents for students and children.

Jim Miller Big Eight Best Bet

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Miler Robin Lingle of Missouri, hurdler Jim Miller of Colorado and Floyd Manning of Kansas, the league's first 16-foot pole vaulter, are the best bets for the outstanding atlete award in the 36th Big Eight outdoor track meet starting today.

Other candidates for the Henry Schulte award are Nebraska's Victor Brooks and Kent McCloughan. Brooks is favored to win the broad jump and break his own meet record in the triple jump. Another possibility is Russ Laverty, Oklahoma State's 6-10 high jumper.

Pitchers Could Decide State Tourney Contest

When Cheyenne Mountain and Las Animas tangle Saturday afternoon for a berth in the State Class-AA baseball championship, the game could be decided on the mound.

Slated for Memorial Park in Colorado Springs beginning at 1:30 p.m., the Cheyenne-Las Animas semi-finals will have the Class-AA division's finest pitchers battling each other.

Ted Garcia, who went undefeated to spearhead the Cheyenne team to its seventh PPL championship, will draw the starting pitching assignment for the Indians.

But Las Animas coach, Joe Brooks, is uncertain which pitcher he will start. The Trojan mentor has two fine pitchers in Lee Herron, who has a 4-1 won-loss record, and his ace chucker, Jerry Garcia who is undefeated in seven outings.

Should Brooks call on Garcia it would make for an unusual battery with Ted Garcia of Cheyenne facing Jerry Garcia of Las Animas. Both Trojan hurlers have low earned run averages with Herron's ERA at 1.29 and Garcia's at 1.44.

The Trojans have posted a 9-1 won-loss record to capture the Southern League title and are 13-3 in overall competition.

In addition to their strong bull pen, the Trojans have a strong hitting team boasting seven hitters batting at a .300-plus clip.

Bulldogs Face Tigers in State Tourney Game

Pueblo Centennial's South Central League baseball champions launch their bid for a state AAA championship at 3:30 p.m. today when they play Grand Junction's Tigers at Grand Junction. Both teams take 14-3 records into the contest. The other first round contest of the state playoffs will match Littleton and Arvada Saturday.

The regular South Central League season concluded Thursday when Central nipped Trinidad 4-3 in Pueblo. Dan Kochevar pitched the victory and tripled home the tying and winning runs with one out in the bottom of the seventh.

Four Laps--or More

When Colorado's high school track and field stars gather for their annual talent show at Folsum Field in Boulder Saturday, local fans won't be surprised if they discover Wasson's Jeff Berven as a welcoming committee, ticket salesman, popcorn vendor, and the greatest prep miler in the history of a state that figures unusual accomplishment to be as predictable as the income tax.

JEFF BERVEN

For those who think that sport in today's secondary schools amounts to a few spins on the drag strip and an annual visit to the barber, Berven is as refreshing as a spring rainstorm. The Thunderbird star is a polite, serious youth who would much rather dance to a starter's gun than a Beatle record.

During these last few hours before D-Day at Boulder, Berven has been battling a throat infection in addition to the psychological struggle that faces every high school phenom who must make the trip to the state finals with a gilded record and a host of capable foes who find his fistful of clippings as comfortable as a set of starting blocks.

Regardless of his physical condition and the accompanying mental torture, Berven will step onto the track Saturday with all eyes at attention. As a runner capable of spraying cinder dust at all challengers, and one whom the state's more knowledgeable authorities consider capable of speeding past the oldest prep record existing in Colorado, Jeff is weighted with pressure.

His coaches, and fans who have seen him perform, seem to agree that if a high school lad can journey four laps with such a burden, Berven has to be the one.

To find out why, a person has to retrace many steps — probably several hundred miles of them. Berven began his trip to the pinnacle of Colorado's cinder circle as early as the seventh grade. His first experience at running farther than the grocery store came in Denver where he jogged the better part of two miles twice weekly to a church class.

"We moved to Indiana the next year," the Wasson star remembers. "I ran the 440 in the eighth grade in around 62 seconds. Then we came back to Denver and at Smiley Junior High in the ninth grade I ran the 100 and 220. That was the longest distance they would allow."

Continuing the chronological order, Berven sped into Colorado Springs in 1961 with football much more in mind than mile records.

"I went out for football as a sophomore," Berven relates. "A friend suggested going out for distance running and that's how I actually got started with the Wasson team."

As so often happens, that first year was less than encouraging. Jeff ran his first competitive mile in an early season meet, setting a sophomore school record of 5:03. "I learned a lot that day," the Thunderbird ace recall. "I ran the first quarter in 59 seconds and the next three laps were something of an experience."

Unfortunately Berven had little chance to put the experience to work. During a workout several days later he came up with a broken foot that was to sideline him for the season.

"I guess I had a couple of blisters on my foot and I was running funny," he said during a practice session this week. "It happened right around here," he remembered, pointing to a section of the north curve on the Wasson track that he has flown past many times since. "I finished the workout though — then walked home. We discovered the break the next day."

The only breaking Berven has done since is in the area of records. He chipped away at a formidable school mark as a junior until it finally went under. At the state meet an unfortunate starting position cost him a possible title. He finished third, but in 4:33, some 30 seconds better than that first effort a year before.

The disappointment of that afternoon at Boulder did nothing but send Berven back to work with still more resolve.

"This summer he ran five miles almost every morning," Wasson coach Jim Hartman reveals. "He also ran in a 10 mile race in Denver and finished eighth in a field of 34. That was the best effort for any athlete under 18."

Jeff also turned to weights, which he lifted to increase his strength. "The size of what he'd lift — I often thought if he dropped them we'd all go right through the floor," one Thunderbird coach recalled.

This spring, for the second straight year, Berven has had the advantage of a special distance coach. Jerry Robinson, who joined the Wasson staff a year ago, has worked long hours with his prize pupil.

Hartman, who prefers that the coaches directly involved receive the credit, tells of an average Berven week. "Once a week he'll run regression," Hartman says. "That consists of starting with a 1320, then working down through an 880, 660, 440, and two 220s. In between each distance he jogs a 440. The next day he'll probably go to 440s, maybe 10, from around 63 to 65 seconds each. The next day it's 220s." Hartman sounds exhausted from just talking about it.

The payoff began early in the year. Berven ripped up records every time he walked onto a track. He now owns the mile standards at the Centennial Inventional, CSU Invitational, and South Central League meet. In addition he owns the Wasson school records in both the mile (4:31.1) and 880 (1:58.2). He also started twice in the open 440 and won both times.

"I think the shifting around of events helped his confidence more than anything else," Hartman says. "I like to tell him we'll challenge anyone at any distance from 440 on up — and then let him do the running."

Hartman has the expected affection for a star of this stature. "Jeff didn't just suddenly become a good miler this year," his coach says. "There were years of work that went into it. He's never stopped working, either. If we had a meet on Friday, he'd be out Saturday running quarters."

"Early this spring he asked me if he could have a locker near the wall," Hartman said. "He told me he had some morale building devices that he thought would help and he needed the wall for them. Later I found out that what he had was a photo of the finish of the mile at state last year." (Berven finished third, but only by a couple of strides). "He's looked at that picture a lot this season," the Wasson coach said.

Saturday as Jeff Berven, a high school lad who has proven that hard work and determination can carry a person through an exciting four laps, tries again for a state title, the majority of Colorado Springs sports fans are hoping that he can replace that picture with one which will show him as the champion he really is.

Kadets Whip Christian To End Diamond Season

By CHARLIE DREUX
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

Russ Lyon's Kadets — runners-up in the recent Pikes Peak League pennant chase — concluded their 1964 baseball campaign with 7-1 triumph over visiting Denver Christian Thursday afternoon at the Air Academy High diamond.

The Big Blue's ace pitcher John Gannon, picked up his second victory in five days. The Kadet left-hander entered the contest in the fourth inning with one out and protected the Academy High's lead.

Carter Dean started on the mound for the Kadets, but ran into control problems in that fourth frame. The Denver Christian group scored its single tally off Dean in the fourth when Dennis Barkema reached first base on a throwing error and advanced to third when the Kadet hurler walked the next two batters.

Barkeman raced home in that same inning when Dean threw a wild pitch. That's when Lyon made his switch and put fireballer Gannon to retire the side with two men on base. Gannon struck out the next two Denver Christian batsmen to stifle any further scoring threat.

Gannon recorded a total of six strikeouts during his three and two-thirds innings on the mounds, allowed no walks and gave up one hit to gain the win.

Meanwhile, the Big Blue bombers went to work on the opposition's pitcher, Fred De Roos, to pound out seven runs on seven hits. Ted Hallenbeck provided the stick power for the Kadets as the second baseman collected two hits for three trips to the plate.

Because this was the season's finale, Lyon gave his underclassmen an opportunity to see action and used 16 players in the game.

The Academy High group struck in the opening frame with two runs and followed with three tallies in the fourth and put the game on ice with two runs in the fifth inning.

Gannon holds the strikeout record this season in PPL circles when the junior portside chucker registered 15 strikeouts against Harrison last month. The Big Blue pitcher was at peak form last Saturday when he fanned 17 Cherry Creek batsmen to spearhead the Academy High's 3-1 victory.

Voted to the PPL All-Conference baseball team, Gannon and Cheyenne Mountain's lefty Ted Garcia will assure the newly formed Will Rogers League a competitive race next year.

Liston's Lawyer Files Motions To Drop Charges

DENVER (UPI)—Lawyers for ex-heavyweight champ Sonny Liston filed motions in Municipal Court Thursday to have charges against the boxer dismissed.

Liston was arrested March 12 and charged with carrying a concealed weapon, speeding, careless and reckless driving, and driving without a license.

His attorney, Edward O. Geer charged that "Liston was arrested for various traffic violations and it was therefore wholly unnecessary to search the defendant's person.

"The search of Liston should have been justified by conditions preceding and not on conditions prevailing after the arrest," said Geer.

Geer, former Denver manager of safety, said carrying a concealed weapon was an offense covered by state statute and not of local concern.

Repeat of Stretch Duel Expected With Hill Rise Preakness Favorite

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Northern Dancer and Hill Rise, the David and Goliath of horse racing's 3-year-old division, meet again Saturday in the 88th running of the $150,000-added Preakness at Pimlico with every indication of a repeat of their Kentucky Derby stretch duel.

Northern Dancer, a mighty mite from Canada, won the derby in record time of two minutes flat for 1¼ miles. He covered the last quarter in 24 seconds.

Hill Rise, the California-owned flash, also was under the old Derby record and ran the final one-quarter mile in 23 2-5 seconds but lost the decision by a neck.

Four other sharply-trained thoroughbreds — The Scoundrel, Roman Brother, Quadrangle and Big Pete — will oppose the fearsome twosome in the 1 3-16 mile race before a crowded house of 30,000 and a national television audience.

Post time is 4:45 p.m. EST with television and radio, CBS, scheduled for 4:30-5 p.m.

The four go into the second leg of the triple crown, which includes the Derby and Belmont, with fine credentials except for one thing — all but Big Pete were badly beaten by Northern Dancer in the Derby.

Big Pete didn't start in the Derby and in the words of his trainer, Bernie Bond, the Preakness distance figures to be too much for this speed-loving son of Degage owned by Mrs. Harriet N. Ball of Falls Church, Va.

Hill Rise, carrying the hopes of George A. Pope Jr.'s El Peco Ranch, has been made the 7-5 choice just as he was in the Derby, with Northern Dancer from E. P. Taylor's Windfields Farm second in the line at 2-1. It wouldn't be surprising to see them go off at close to co-choices.

The Dancer gained his advantage in the Derby when jockey Bill Hartack found a hole five-eighths of a mile from the finish and shot the nimble son of Nearctic into a quick lead.

Backers of Hill Rise figured that Willie Shoemaker will not let Hartack get such an advantage this time since the field is much smaller and the El Peco colt will have plenty of room stretch his long legs.

Perhaps Elliott Burch, trainer of Paul Mellon's Quadrangle, said it best for the four others when he jokingly greeted Red Baker, assistant to trainer Burley Parke of Louis Wolfson's Roman Brother, who is even smaller than Northern Dancer.

"I see you are here to battle us for third place," cracked Burch.

With six starters, the race will have a gross value of $176,700. The winner will get $124,200. To make it worthwhile for the others, $30,000 goes to the second place finisher, $15,000 to third and $7,500 to fourth.

Post positions mean little since it is nearly one-quarter mile to the first turn and each horse will have plenty of room to gain racing position.

In the draw for places in the starting gate, Big Pete got No. 1 with Roman Brother No. 2, Quadrangle No. 3, Northern Dancer No. 4, The Scoundrel No. 5 and Hill Rise on the outside.

Minnesota Bombers Clobber White Sox

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Vic Power used to be Minnesota's starting first baseman. Along came outfielder Tony Oliva, and Power was the Twins' No. 2 first baseman. Now comes Don Mincher, and Power again may be a starting first baseman—for some other team.

Mincher's recent slugging feats have made the veteran Power even more dependable than he had been when Oliva's presence forced outfielder Bob Allison to first base.

Mincher hit his fourth home run in five games Thursday as Minnesota clobbered the Chicago White Sox, 15-7.

Power probably is the best defensive first baseman in the American League. But rookie Oliva is hitting even better than expected while sluggers Allison, Jimmie Hall and Harmon Killebrew are producing at their usual home run pace.

Now, with Mincher acting as if he wants in on a good thing, Twins' Manager Sam Mele finds himself with five power hitters for four positions. That doesn't leave much room for Power, who conceivably could bring Minnesota a badly-needed pitcher in a trade.

The 25-year-old Mincher trails Hall 9, Allison 9 and Oliva 7 in home runs, but he's tied with Killebrew at six each. His .356 batting average is second only to Oliva's .414 for the Twins.

The first baseman has hit three of his last four homers with two runners on base. His blast Thursday, one of six for the Twins, was good for three runs.

Only two other games were played in the AL. Washington downed Baltimore 4-1 and Detroit halted New York 7-3.

In the National League, Los Angeles swept a doubleheader from Chicago 6-4 and 5-0, Philadelphia edged St. Louis 3-2, Houston nipped San Francisco 4-3 and New York trounced Milwaukee 12-4.

Killebrew clouted two homers for the Twins, one with two men aboard. Allison, Rich Rollins and Zoilo Versalles also connected against the White Sox.

Rollins wound up driving in five runs, three on his fifth homer and two on a double.

Minnesota now has slammed 51 homers in 26 games, a rate that would give the Twins a major league record of 318 at the end of the season. The New York Yankees hold the record of 240.

Despite the Twins' onslaught against Gary Peters and Eddie Fisher, starter Gerry Arrigo was forced from the game in the fifth inning after Chicago got to him for five runs and nine hits. Tom McCraw hit a two-run homer for the White Sox in the ninth.

Don Zimmer cracked a grand slam home run for all of Washington's runs as the Orioles' Robin Roberts suffered his second setback in three decisions. Zimmer's blast in the third followed Bill Skowron's single and walks to Don Lock and John Kennedy.

Detroit trailed the Yankees 3-2 going into the seventh. Then the Tigers erupted for five runs after two were out. Don Wert singled home the tying run, and Steve Hamilton's wild pitch with the bases loaded sent home the deciding tally.

New York had taken a 3-2 lead in the sixth on Tom Tresh's triple and Joe Pepitone's double.

SCSC Team to Play Intra-Squad Contest

PUEBLO — The Southern Colorado State College Indians are winding up practice this week in their first sessions of spring football in the new state college's history.

Climaxing spring football practice, in which Coach Joe Prater worked with over 50 aspirants for next fall's team, will be an intra-squad game between the Reds and Whites, tonight at 8. The game will be played in the Pueblo Public Schools Stadium.

The Indians will face a rugged 10 game schedule next fall which will be the first season as a full four-year school. The first senior class will enroll at SCSC in the fall of 1964.

NEW YORK (UPI) — RElief pitcher Ed Bauta will be left behind when the New York Mets begin a western trip tonight in San Francisco. Bauta, who had an 0-2 record this season, will probably be placed on waivers by the Mets.

Houston's Bob Bruce Holds Say Hey Willie Hitless

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Say Hey, look what Bob Bruce did!

Bruce held Willie Mays hitless for the first time in 21 games, setting the San Francisco slugger down four times Thursday night and slicing Mays' average 19 points to .449 as the Houston Colts defeated the National League leading Giants 4-3.

Mays was completely handcuffed by the 31-year-old right-hander, hitting into a fielder's choice with two men on in the first inning, lofting easy flies in the third and sixth innings and fouling to first in the eighth inning.

It was the first time Mays had been held hitless since April 16 when he was stopped by St. Louis' Curt Simmons in the third game of the season. In the last two games against Houston, Mays has collected only one hit in eight at-bats while his average has plummeted from .478.

While Mays was having his first difficult night in almost a month, the Los Angeles Dodgers swept a doubleheader from the Chicago Cubs 6-4 in 10 innings and 5-0, but ace left-hander Sandy Koufax again failed to turn in a strong performance.

Koufax was unable to finish for the third straight game and was clipped for four runs in four innings of the opener. Don Drysdale, however, turned in a brilliant effort in the nightcap for the Dodgers, winning his fifth straight complete game with a four-hitter for a 5-1 record.

Elsewhere, Richie Allen homered in the seventh inning for Philadelphia's 3-2 victory over St. Louis and the New York Mets drubbed Milwaukee 12-4. Cincinnati and Pittsburgh were not scheduled.

In the American League, Minnesota clobbered the Chicago White Sox 15-7, Detroit belted the New York Yankees 7-3 and Baltimore defeated Washington 4-1.

Bruce, who brought his record to 4-1 with ninth inning relief help from Hal Woodeshick, was tagged for a two-run triple in the sixth inning by Tom Haller and went into the seventh trailing 3-2.

The Colts tied it when Bob Shaw was touched for singles by Eddie Kasko and Nellie Fox before forcing in a run by walking Al Spangler and Walt Bond. When Shaw walked John Bateman in the eighth, Billy Pierce came on, but it was too late. Singles by Kasko and Spangler got the winning run home.

The Cubs bolted to a 4-0 lead against the Dodgers in the first game, three runs scoring on Ron Santo's homer. The Dodgers caught up in the eighth on Jim Gilliam's homer and won it in the 10th when Tommy Davis singled and Frank Howard hit his 11th homer.

In the nightcap, the Dodgers provided Drysdale with a 3-0 lead in the first two innings, cashing in on four stolen bases and five walks by Fred Norman. Davis stole three bases.

District Gymnastics Meet Slated for Palmer Gym

The District Gymnastics Meet will bring teams from 12 schools to the Palmer Gymnasium for competition Saturday.

Aurora Central, led by a pair of returning state champions, is favored to capture the district title but a strong Wasson team is given an outside chance of pulling an upset. The top 10 finishers in each event will qualify for the state finals which are scheduled for Aurora Central May 22.

In addition to the two favored schools, teams competing here will include host Palmer, Aurora Hinkley, Arvada, Arvada West, Wheatridge, Littleton, Englewood, Iver Ranum, Lakewood, and Golden.

Saturday's schedule calls for the preliminaries to commence at 10 a.m. The finals session is set for 7:30 p.m.

Aurora Central is undefeated in dual meet competition this spring, partially due to the work of Jim Barber and Jim Ryan who are defending state champions in floor exercise and side horse respectively. Wasson's record is 8-2 and the Thunderbirds' only losses have been to the Aurora school.

In Saturday's competition Thunderbird entries will include Dennis Berg in the floor exercise and tumbling; Art Wright, Ron Lamutt, and Steve Willman in the side horse; John Stock and Tim Ives in the trampoline; Fred Schanburger, Dave Dauldder, Terry Shortt in the horizontal bar; Archie Martinez and Dave Werts in the parallel bars; Chuck Kennedy in the Long Horse; and Jim Hillhouse, Jim Edwards, and Jerry Schirm in the still rings. Shortt is the T-Birds' top entry in the all-around competition.

Among Palmer's top competitors are Harry Seeman and Steve Cheyney in trampoline; Joe Edwards on the rings and parallel bars, Lowell Chappell in floor exercise, and Dave Gay in the rings and floor exercise.

CSU Footballers Hold Spring Game Saturday

FORT COLLINS — Colorado State University's 1964 footballers will show Head Coach Mike Lude and his staff how well they have learned their spring lessons Saturday night in the annual off-season intra-squad game. Kickoff time is 8 p.m. at Colorado Field.

A "draft" system will be used to divide the squad for the game. Lude said two veteran players will be picked to captain the Greens and the Whites and each captain will choose players for his team.

"Normally, from a coaching standpoint," Lude said, "we would like to keep our various units intact, but we feel that by dividing our best players the game will be closer and more appealing for the spectators."

The No. 2 offensive unit is manned by seven of last season's varsitymen — quarterback Eddie Belt, Farmington, N.M.; tackles Bill Coffey, Denver, and Tom McCants, converted end from Pittsburgh, Pa.; guard Wayne Hull, Houston, Texas; halfback Don Simon, Compton, Calif.; center Jan Laux, Sidney, Neb., and end Steve Goldman, Rockaway Park, N.Y.

In addition Lude has a list of six more players he considers first or second stringers, principally as defensive specialists. These include veteran quarterback-safety Ron Brocavich, end Howard Glen, center-linebacker Bill Davies, fullback-middle guard Larry Macro, and halfbacks Bernard Blanchard and Steve Mitchell.

Thirteen Rams currently are injured and probably won't be able to play Saturday. Among them are two key players from last season, guard Larry French and tackle Tom Hinton who has been switched to center. Hinton may see limited action, but French has been held out of drills all spring and definitely won't suit up. Dick Evers, big tackle from the University of Delaware, also probably won't be able to play.

Four other Rams who'll be available in the fall are excused from spring practice to compete on the track team. They are ends Ken Blair and Bob Greathouse and guards Russ Mowrer and Jerry Randall.

Rain Halts Oklahoma City Action; Golfers to Try First Round Today

By NORMAN ROWLAND
Associated Press Writer

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Another attempt to play the first round of the $40,000 Oklahoma City Open Golf Tournament was scheduled Friday, but thunderstorms wihch wiped out play late Thursday again were forecast for the area.

Play was halted Thursday when lightning flashed threateningly over the 7,042-yard Quail Creek Country Club course. All but 21 players had finished their rounds when the end came. None of the scores counted.

PGA officials promsied a decision early Friday whether to play 36 holes Sunday or carry the tournament over another day and finish Monday.

Involved in the decision are local television commitments. Another complicating factor is that the field will be cut to the low 70 scorers after 36 holes and to the low 60 scorers after 54 holes.

A 36-hole session Sunday would necessitate drawing up new pairings in the middle of the day.

There were few scores of which the pros could be proud Thursday as strong winds—sometimes gusting to 40 miles an hour or better—whipped the course and sent scores zooming. Only nine finishers toured the par 72 layout in less than par. Seven had 71s.

The leaders at the time play halted were Charles Sifford of Los Angeles and Chuck Courtney of La Jolla, Calif., with two-under-par 70s.

Courtney, a 23-year old tour freshman, fired a scorching four-under-par 32 on the front nine, but slipped to a two-over 38 on the backside.

National Volleyball Meet Slated for Air Force Gym

The Air Force Academy will host the 1964 National Collegiate Volleyball Championships, it was announced today by Col. Edmund A. Rafalko, Air Force director of athletics.

Played under the sponsorship of the United States Volleyball Association, the tournament will be held May 22 and 23, at the Academy's Community Center Gymnasium. Twelve teams have entered the double elimination tourney which will get underway at 9 a.m. Friday. All sessions are open to the public, and there is no admission charge.

Santa Monica City College, one of the top volleyball squads in the United States, has been installed as the early favorite, but will get strong competition from a powerful field of contenders, led by "Escuela Nacional de Maestros", the national championship team from Mexico.

Santa Monica is the defending collegiate champ, a title they have held for the past three years, and earlier this year, scored a victory over the Hollywood Stars, perennial winners of the national "open" championship.

Other top teams participating in the 1964 tournament — which is being held separate from the "open" tournament for the first time — are California, San Diego State, and Ohio State University.

Players will also be competing for a berth in the Olympic trials to be held in August at the World's Fair in Flushing, N.Y. Keeping a watchful eye on the participants will be Harry Wilson, coach of the U.S. Olympic team, and Col. Burt DeGroot, Olympic team manager.

The tourney crown will not assure the winning team of a spot in the trials, but the top individual players will be invited to play in the Olympic try-outs.

Qualifying at Indianapolis May Produce New Record

By DALE BURGESS
Associated Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Possibly the second-largest paying crowd in sports will pour into the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Saturday, attracted by a virtual guarantee of a new qualifying record for the Memorial Day 500-mile race.

The biggest paying crowd is claimed for the race proper—but never is disclosed. It is estimated annually at from 250,000 up.

Bobby Marshman, Pottstown, Pa., had run over 156 miles an hour on three different practice days in a Lotus-Ford, against the one lap 2½-mile, qualifying record of 151.80 set last year by Parnelli Jones, the race winner. Marshman had a best lap of 157.2.

Jones was only the seventh driver to win from the No. 1 starting position since the first race in 1911. He has been the second-fastest driver in practice this year with a high of 156.2. A. J. Foyt of Houston, Texas, another former winner, also has been over 156.

The record for the four-lap or 10-mile average, on which the starting position actually is based, is 151.1 by Jones. Eighteen cars had been running faster than that, with the higher speeds credited to better tires, improved cars and repaving of the backstretch and northeast turn.

Police, firemen and the Speedway's own safety patrol have made plans for a crowd of possibly 200,000 to begin funneling through 10 gates and five tunnels at 7 a.m. EST Saturday. The race drivers will practice from 8 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. and trials will run from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The qualifying runs will continue Sunday and the following weekend but Saturday's qualifiers will hold their positions, with later qualifiers falling in behind them until the 33 fastest cars are determined.

There were 61 entries but a Studebaker-Novi was lost in a garage fire and a Thompson-Ford was demolished May 9 in a wreck that injured Pedro Rodriguez of Mexico City. He is still hospitalized with a back injury.

Six other cars wrecked during practice period have been repaired or will be. Only Rodriguez has been hurt.

Jones kept his car under control Wednesday when his engine fell apart and he was back with a new one Thursday running at more than 155 miles an hour.

Jimmy Clark of Scotland, '63 world road racing champion, was running in the same bracket Thursday after having gear box trouble Wednesday in his Lotus-Ford.

Dan Gurney of Costa Mesa, Calif., got up to 154.7 Thursday in spite of leg burns suffered at Monte Carlo Sunday.

Division Leaders Win In Pacific Coast Loop

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The leaders in the Pacific Coast League's two divisions were outhit Thursday but defeated their opponents, each by one run. Portland nicked Spokane 4-3 and Arkansas squeezed by San Diego 7-6.

Meanwhile, at Tacoma, Frank Linzy pitched 20-27 of a perfect game before yielding three hits to the Seattle Rainiers in the last three innings. Tacoma won 3-0 on six hits off Seattle's Hal Kolstad.

In other PCL baseball games, Hawaii edged Indianapolis 3-2, Denver shaded Dallas 4-3 and Oklahoma City smothered Salt Lake City 8-1.

Outhit 8-5 and behind for seven innings, Portland tied Spokane 3-all in the last of the ninth and capitalized on two errors to win in the 10th. Singles by Augie Garrido and Ray Barker scored the tying run, and Chico Salmon tallied the unearned winning run.

Arkansas bagged its win when San Diego shortstop Tommy Meims muffed a routine roller and let Adolpho Phillips score with two out in the last of the ninth. Phillips had doubled off the right field wall.

At Tacoma, Linzy retired his first 20 batters. Then Bob Guindon doubled but was stranded. Seattle's other hits came with two out in the ninth when Rico Petrocelli singled and Stan Johnson doubled, but Guindon bounced out to end the game.

Tacoma scored its runs in separate innings. The first and only earned run scored on a double by Bob Barton.

Jim McGlothlin pitched shutout ball for Hawaii for six innings as the Islanders clung to a 1-0 lead. Marv Staehle and Deacon Jones touched him for triples and scored the Indians' two runs, but Hawaii, meanwhile had taken a three-run lead.

A double by Bubba Morton, his third straight hit, drove in the winning run for Denver over Dallas.

A five-run first inning was all Oklahoma City needed for its victory, although the 89ers added three more later. The game was featured by a triple play by the losing bees in the seventh. The 89ers' John Weekly opened with a single and Dave Roberts walked. Joe Wooten hit to third baseman Ron Campbell, who stepped on the base forcing weekly. Campbell threw to second and caught Roberts and the relay to first nabbed Wooten.

Stock Cars Set For Sportsman's This Weekend

Stock car racing at Sportsman's Raceway Park will resume this Sunday after the program was cancelled last weekend because of wind and light rain. Several new cars are expected this week when time trials get underway at 1:30 p.m.

Dale DeWitt, track record holder, turned in fast laps last weekend before the races were halted shortly after the time trials started. DeWitt has been tabbed as the driver to beat in Sunday's races.

The races will switch to Saturday nights on May 23 with time trials slated for 7:30 p.m. This should bring faster times as cars run better when the temperatures are cooler. The switch is also expected to bring more cars to the track as there are conflicts for some drivers on Sunday afternoon.

Sportsman's Park is located six miles east of Colorado Springs on Highway 24, just opposite the entrance to Peterson Field.

Don Skakle's North Carolina tennis teams have lost only two of their 42 matches in the last two years.

Local Skaters Enter Regional Roller Meet

Skateland Roller Skating rink will send an entry of nearly 50 local skaters to the Rocky Mountain States championships this weekend in Greeley. The competition is scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday and the Colorado Springs area is expected to have several among the favorites.

Michigan State will host Southern Methodist in football in 1969. They have never met on the gridiron.

QUESTION: Please give me your opinion of Ecclesiastes 9:10. —T. S.

ANSWER: The verse you ask about is "Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, to it with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in the grave, whither thou goest."

This simply means that life on this side of the grave holds certain responsibilities for us which do not exist after death. Earthly life is a preparatory course for eternity.

The verse is saying to us that what we do for the hereafter must be done here and now. It is another way of saying "Prepare to meet thy God." The sage is saying, in effect, God has given you a job to do—do it; he has offered knowledge to be gained, gain it; he, in His Word, offers you wisdom—accept it, for after death it will be too late.

Wise men like Solomon, who wrote these words, have always been conscious of man's immortality, and of the dimension of eternity. Someone has said: "He who has no vision of eternity has no hold on time." (Carlyle)

QUESTION: I am in a church that has a large indebtedness, and we are considering putting on dinners to help raise the money for the debt. In your oopinion should the church go into the restaurant business rather than give out of the goodness of their hearts, with no thought of reward? —R. S.

ANSWER: I believe that the best answer to financial difficulty in a church is found in Malachi 3:10: "Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it."

However, if you have convictions against raising money in any other way, and the other members insist on some other plan, make sure to be gracious and maintain a Christian attitude. Too many churches make a specatacle of themselves in the community by squabbling over non-essentials. The essential for Christians is truth in love. "Love never faileth." I know "Love never faileth." I know many people who will have nothing to do with any church, because they have observed too much bickering in the church.

Jesus was scathing in His deminciation of the hypocrites.

COLORADO SPRINGS
GAZETTE TELEGRAPH
Your Freedom Newspaper
Ever striving for the Pikes Peak Region to be an even better place to live

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is self-control, no more, no less. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

The Whipping Boy

Big business on many fronts has become the great American whipping boy.

The steel companies have been accused of trying to fix prices. The electric companies have already been punished for the same assumption. The flour milling people have been indicted for price fixing. The tobacco industry has been placed in a strait-jacket and must now submit all advertising to a government czar.

The railroads have been bulldozed into signing an agreement with the union. The drug industry is under investigation.

Chemical manufacturers are accused of polluting streams and lakes. Builders are condemned for cutting trees and failing to preserve the wilderness.

Nearly everyone is charged with overcharging. The uncertainty and fear which now pervades the market place is only matched by the growing adulation of the men who hold high political offices.

At the moment, we are a nation split asunder by conflicting beliefs. On the one hand is a boundless faith in government, in politics, in the glorious wisdom of the most ordinary people who may, by fortune or circumstance, suddenly wear the mantles of power.

On the other hand, and encouraged mightily by the state, is a carefully nurtured distrust and even hatred of all business. And the larger the business, the more it seems to engender hatred.

What is the matter with us? Don't we see that it is business and industry which keep this nation running, not the government which is taxing and regulating these businesses and industries out of existence?

Look at the folly in other nations when they seek to solve their internal problems by political means. Have any of these problems been solved?

Politically speaking, are we not precisely where we were thirty years ago, fifty years ago, a century ago?

Are the people of foreign places better off than before? Are we?

If improvement is noted anywhere, where has the improvement originated?

Does it come from some new law which imposes restrictions upon some, to benefit others; but in fine reduces the total area of freedom and progress?

Rather, does not progress arise, in spite of all the government does, from men who continue to produce, to blaze new trails, to think new thoughts, to devise new processes?

What will happen in this country if the government continues its march against industry? What is happening when we see our nation's leader skillfully cajoling even those who have the deepest reason to distrust his motives, and who, in process, are convinced that they must do whatever it is the government says?

Can you see what is coming? It is not difficult to foretell.

Gradually, year by year, the area of free choice is dwindling.

Gradually, year by year, the growth of government continues until we are smothered by its all-pervading care.

Gradually, year by year, we surrender a bit more to the super-state. It is only a question of time before our freedom to own our own businesses and to manage them privately will be a matter of history.

And what will happen then?

Government begins by offering to act as referee. Next, it taxes on increasing scale. Then, it regulates. Finally, its regulations are so conflicting and vast that the business or industry cannot be operated profitably.

Then the government subsidizes that which it has assisted in ruining. Finally, even the subsidy is not enough. A government take-over occurs. What was once private property becomes government property. What was once a free country becomes a nation of serfs where jobs are furnished by the state, wages paid by the state, everything regulated by the state.

As surely as socialism has been advocated by socialists from the days of the Inca to the days of Ickes, just as surely are we succumbing to the dread disease of government dependicitis.

Free men require courage and self-reliance. Pawns are always content to have the king move them about. Security under state sinecures seems more desirable than the risks and adventures of self-determination. But we are about to accept the peonage of a people who are broken in spirit, deprived of their property, bereft of their moral sensibilities.

Business and industry are divided, disunited, disheartened. The government has moved against them singly, in groups, in sections, now enmasse. And we are told that business is good, profits are up, unemployment reduced. And it is true.

The businessman is selling himself to the state for immediate gain via subsidy or contract, rather than opposing the cancer which is now extracting the life from our free market system.

Red Mysticism

Communism is not the science of materialism as many suppose. Rather, it is a kind of mystic faith that everyone can profit materially if every known material law is violated.

How to Make a Nation

A friend has sent us a copy of a single chapter from a new book just out, prepared by the MacMillan Company. The book is entitled "Social Establishments" and is written by David Cort.

Who Mr. Cort is and what else the book is about, we don't know. But on the strength of this one chapter we are ordering the book. Whatever else may be in it, the one chapter we have by itself will make the possession of the book worthwhile.

The chapter is entitled: "How to Make a Nation."

The first paragraph will give you a tip of what you may expect.

"The world is now full of bunches of people trying to look, act or at least sound like nations. A bunch of people surrounded by an imaginary line on the map is of course not automatically a nation. There is a need here for some sort of manual explaining how a mere bunch of people can be translated into a nation. Political scientists have neglected this subject, perhaps because all previous history had not prepared them for the current phenomenon of nationhood conferred, as if by a blackjack on bunches of people who do not even know the name of their 'nation.'"

This neglect on the part of political science, Mr. Cort attempts to remedy. And he reveals the marvelous nationalistic formative powers of parades.

Says he: "On the larger stage, nations born of parades will do well to consider this obscure branch of political science."

He confides that, as we all know, nations that have been around for a long time may not really know just when they became nations. In the past, the route to nationhood was long, hard, heroic and usually bloody. But by relying upon the parade, a new nation can be brought into existence quickly, without blood, easily and unheroically. After the nation is formed, the bloodshed begins.

Mr. Cort is correct about parades. This is certainly a neglected science and one that probably should be investigated because of the awesome possibilities it holds for remote peoples who may wish to obtain foreign aid, either from the U.S. or Russia.

By setting up a good parade it is possible that a nation can qualify for a "loan" on the assumption either that it will 1) take a side in the cold war, or 2) refrain from taking sides in the cold war.

The latter is, of course, the preferred route, since parade marshals can quickly be graduated into the role of statesmen by accepting loans from both the U.S. and Russia for refusing to join up with either side.

This mortgaged neutrality will bring plaudits from the major nations on earth who will be glad to keep the money rolling in with the assurance that, at least, this new parade (nation) will not be on the OTHER side.

Here are the logical steps to national independence via the parade route.

"The first step in making a nation out of a bunch of people is therefore indicated. Somebody has to go out in the woods, round up a couple of boys, and teach them the words and music of a marching song. The particular words and music don't really matter.

"The next step in making a nation is to teach them to march down the main street in step, singing the marching song.

"The next step is to add a small band.

"The bunch of people now constitutes a small parade. The people on the sidewalks or in the adjoining jungle naturally flock to watch and listen. The important thought they have is that they are not in the parade. They take steps to get in the next parade. The small parade graduates into a bigger parade and that into a still bigger parade, and at last the parades mature as the Big Parade. And now the nation is well on its way to healthy coexistence in the community of nations."

We won't quote any more from this delightfully ironic account for we don't want to spoil it for you. But let us observe that Mr. Cort shows the role taxes play, the method wherein the parade marshal becomes the tax collector to defray parade expenses.

Enough to keep in mind that the essential ingredients for national formulization include: 1) marchers, 2) bands playing catchy and recognizable tunes, 3) bystanders, 4) banners and floats, 5) slogans, 6) a national hero, preferably dead (he can't confuse issues later), 7) a claim that freedom is just around the corner and 8) a place to riot in after the parade is over.

Slightly Different Approach

By GEORGE BOARDMAN, PhD

This being an election year, many trial balloons are being launched. Turned loose in different sections of the country, the approach is but slightly different in each case but each separate plan is projected so far into the future as to make contemporary consideration worthless.

For instance, a committee is formed to investigate the effects of the so-called selective service laws so that these effects may be considered in comparison with conditions arising without compulsory military service ten years from now. Yesterday, a man told me that this indicates that the present administration is aware of the immorality of the draft and that it will be working on a plan which will be entirely voluntary. From my point of view, it indicates a growing resentment against compulsory military service which the administration hopes to placate by making a tentative curtsey based upon something which may happen in the future IF.

This particular trial balloon bears a remarkable resemblance to the occasional conversation to the effect that foreign aid will not be necessary five or ten years from now and the word necessary implies that whether we like it or not, our earnings will be stolen for the support of foreign governments for some time to come.

But the administration would like to spend a great deal less on defense, and this includes support of both friends and enemies, in order to channel your money in a different direction for what the administration likes to call humanitarian purposes. This, of course, indicates that you shouldn't complain too much about foreign aid since you will not be permitted to keep any more of your earnings anyway. At the same time, it permits the administration to drop another curtsey of compassion towards suffering humanity, from which it callously steals.

Finally, there have been several warnings that if contributions to political campaigns continue to drop off, it may become necessary for Congress to appropriate funds for this purpose. Of course, we don't have to worry about this happening next year, or that the boys will vote an increase in take-home pay for themselves next year because this is an election year and such unkind thoughts may have unpleasant effects. In the meantime, the people of this country have never been so disinterested in an election only six months away and this situation is worrying just about everybody involved in the dirty game of politics. Frequently-mentioned candidates arrive at airports to be met by reporters and TV and radio mechanics and a couple of party chairmen; even the normally faithful party hacks are unwilling to leave their TV sets, in front of which they may doze, unthinkingly.

Of course, I have a suggestion which may be used to confound the long-range planners when they beg for contributions and support. Tell them to come around in ten years after you see what happens to the trial balloons which are being launched today.

There's good reason for the long-range planning. The socialist planners want to engulf earners more deeply in the socialist slough. The more conservative socialists recognize the fact that the law of diminishing returns jeopardizes the entire world-government socialist field of activity and they are attempting to placate those who earn and invest, and the parasites at the same time, by discussing what might happen ten years from now. In the meantime, a good many earners have withdrawn their talents from the market place and this is resulting in statistics which are nothing but frightening to the bureaucrats.

Oddly enough, only a few people are paying attention to the trial balloons and those who do are simply trying to bolster up their own courage. Naturally, they prefer not to look at the facts.

Any day now, we'll be hearing about government plans to put the country on a full profit basis ten or fifteen years from now.

Good luck and good health to you, in Freedom.

Defending the Governor

By RUFUS L. PORTER

News item: We should all defend Governor Love, says the state Republican chairman.

Buckle on your bucklers, men,
And gird your loins, too;
Our governor needs defense again
And we have work to do.

He's sore beset by dogs and cats
Would tear him limb from limb;
They go by the name of Democrats
And man, they're after him.

Hark! hear his anguished pleas for aid
The while he vainly tries
To prove that he is unafraid.
Oh, hear his plaintive cries.

Republicans all, what do you say?
Let us ride to Denver town
To join our leader in the fray
And mow those Demos down.

But stay your hands, if we lose or win
'Tis only a fresh mistake
With one side out and the other in What difference does it make?

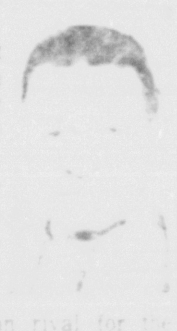
For win or lose, our taxes rise
As surely as the sun;
Now don't you think it would be wise
If we both parties shun?



It seems to me that the state Republican administration we elected in 1962 has out-democrated the Democrats. After keeping a campaign promise to cut state income taxes, Governor Love raised them again the following year. He gave his chief Republican rival for the office a fat job that pays an even higher salary than the governorship and one he will probably hold for life.

And now Love wants us to vote ourselves an increased sales tax. And the surprising thing about this is that the Colorado Chamber of Commerce and a lot of others who should know better, are backing an amendment to the state constitution that will raise the state sales tax to three per cent. I don't know what these backers hope to gain from such a tax, because the more of our incomes the politicians get, the less there is for business. But they are going to try to persuade us, right up to election time, to vote away another one per cent of our incomes so the politicians can increase theirs.

Why don't they just once consider cutting expenses to meet their already enormous tax take? Did any politician anywhere ever hear of the law of diminishing returns? I wonder how many of our politicos know anything about economics, or did they all study them at the knees of Keynes (doesn't rhyme with knees, it's pronounced kanz — broad a).

I predict that the amendment will be defeated at the polls. And I further predict that the politicians will find some way next year to put it on the books anyhow. What they want, they have a way of getting.

Somebody asked recently, "How much crime can America take?" There is a question much more pertinent than that one. It is: "How much taxes will we stand for, or have we already passed the point of no return and are we soon to be taxed totally?"

If we let them talk us into voting for this sales tax increase, we deserve to be taxed to death — and, Lord help us, we will be. We probably will be in any case, but we shouldn't make it easier for them. Let 'em sweat for it — we did.

Allen-Scott Report

Foreigners Get Cheaper Loans

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — It's a lot more advantageous being a foreigner seeking U.S. aid than a native American hard-hit by a natural catastrophe.

The foreigner can get a 40-year loan at ¾ of one per cent interest, starting with a 10-year moratorium on the interest, while the best the American can expect from his own government is a 30-year loan at 3 per cent interest, with a one-year moratorium.

That's the bitter discovery of thousands of Alaskan businessmen, home owners and others wiped out completely or crippled by the devastating earthquake and tidal wave.

Another astonishing aspect of this incomprehensible double standard is that it's due primarily to bureaucratic officiousness.

The law does not require Eugene Foley, head of the Small Business Administration, to demand 3 per cent interest on disaster loans. The Disaster Loan Act expressly stipulates the rate shall not exceed 3 per cent. Up to that ceiling, Foley has complete authority to specify any figure.

But he is adamantly insisting that economically shattered Alaskans pay the maximum 3 per cent rate.

Senator Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, vigorously spearheading the drive for all-out aid for his ravaged state, in denouncing Foley's tight-fisted policy caustically pointed out that Pakistan and other foreigners whose governments are thumbing their noses at the U.S. are getting many millions in long-term loans at ¾ of one per cent interest with 10-year interest moratoriums.

Pakistan, which has established diplomatic relations with Red China and opened a direct airline between them, has received more than $625 million in such "soft-term" loans. The over-all total of these loans to foreign countries is upwards of $2.63 billion.

Gruening is not only demanding that this amazing discrimination against stricken Americans be halted, but that some of the hundreds of millions of unspent foreign aid funds be made available to needy Alaskans.

This dynamite-laden situation is certain to play a major role in the coming stormy battle over President Johnson's $3.4 billion foreign aid budget. Gruening and other militant foes of continued large-scale foreign aid spending plan to make the utmost of this double standard issue.

SOCKING AMERICANS

In a fervent appeal to Small Business Administrator Foley to ease his 3 per cent interest stand, Senator Gruening stressed that this policy is directly contrary to that of the foreign aid agency which is making [illegible] to private industries in foreign countries at ¾ of one per cent interest.

"I can see no reason why such terms should not be afforded Alaskan economic victims of the earthquake," Gruening told Foley. "Otherwise a permanent double standard would be established under which we would be unable to do for our own people what we are doing ican disaster victims. The rehabilitated businessman soon begins to pay taxes to his city, state and nation. No such benefits result from the foreign loans."

This urgent appeal was unavailing. Foley is adamantly holding to his demand for 3 per cent interest.

"We have concluded," he informed Gruening, "that under all the circumstances it would be unsound to depart from our established interest rate policies."

To which Gruening replied bitterly:

"The law under which you operate permits you to establish the interest rate on disaster small business loans at any rate from zero per cent to 3 per cent. However, you have exercised no discretion in this matter. . . You have set the interest rate at the maximum permitted by law — 3 per cent.

"On the other hand, in the foreign aid program, operating under authority substantially the same as yours, the program administrators have announced a policy of tailoring the interest rate to the ability of the borrower to repay with a choice of rates of ¾ of one per cent, etc. Why should not a similar flexible policy be established for disaster small business loans in Alaska?"

So far, Foley has not budged and there is no indication he will unless ordered to do so by higher authority — the White House.

WHAT DOUBLE STANDARD MEANS

"An Anchorage merchant owned the $100,000 building in which his store was located. On this building he had a conventional mortgage with a local bank with $20,000 still unpaid, payable in 10 years at 6 per cent. He had merchandise with a replacement value of $25,000 completely paid, also furniture and fixtures with a replacement value of $15,000. His annual interest cost was $1,200.

"All his holdings were completely destroyed. To resume business, he needs a loan to replace the $100,000 building; $20,000 to pay off the mortgage on the destroyed building; $15,000 for new furniture and fixtures; $25,000 for new merchandise; a total of $160,000.

"To borrow that from the Small Business Administration at 3 per cent interest would cost him $4,800 a year, or $3,600 per year more than he was paying before the Good Friday disaster. But at ¾ of one per cent interest a year, his cost would be $1,200, exactly the amount of interest he was paying before the catastrophe struck.

"Further, over a period of years, the amounts involved would spell the difference between whether this merchant is able to make a go of it or not. If the terms of the loan are 3 per cent for 30 years, and a minimum interest moratorium, the merchant would pay a total of $64,000 in interest charges. But if the interest were ¾ of one per cent and the moratorium granted foreigners, his total interest would be $21,000 — $43,000 less than the maximum 3 per cent [illegible] be the difference between recovery and failure.

"There is no other justification for making the foreign loan rate available to our own Amer-ing was a letter from Sig Digree, publisher of the Kodiak Mirror, whose plant was wiped out. He readily conceded that 3 per cent interest is a "favorable rate under normal circumstances, but these are not normal circumstances."

"For a man 60 years old, such as myself," wrote Digree, "a 30-year loan at 3 per cent will mean paying out a very substantial amount monthly until I reach the ripe old age of 90 years. I am not of the opinion that it is the government's responsibility to reimburse victims in toto because they have been dealt a hard blow by nature. But I do think that in the interest of the country's economy as well as that of our city and state, individuals should be helped on a loan basis at the lowest possible interest rate.

"Your stand for ¾ of one per cent interest if put into effect would go a long way to enabling businessmen to get back on their feet, thus aiding employment and assisting the free flow of the economy once again."

Gene Stone and David Mathiesen of the Valdez Cold Storage Company are another illustration of the dire plight of earthquake-ruined Alaska businessmen.

Before the disaster, their concern had more than $250,000 in assets and a $184,000 loan authorization from the Area Redevelopment Administration for plant expansion, including the purchase of a 180-ft. vessel to be converted for processing king crab.

Now desperately in need of help, Stone and Mathiesen are running into stone walls.

"Everybody tells us we are eligible for aid, but we can't get it," says Mathiesen. "Before the earthquake, we had government authorization for a $184,000 loan. Now we are told that has expired. Why can't we get at least $20,000 to start us up again and to keep going?

"We have attended meeting after meeting. We have heard many comforting assurances that Alaska would not be forgotten. We have applied here and applied there for help. Plan after plan has piled up. But nothing happens. Time is vital. How long can a company hang on when it no longer has collateral?

"We are slowly dying for the lack of government help. But there appears to be no relaxation of the rules. The book must be followed. The pound of flesh must be exacted while our business goes down the drain, and our workers lose their jobs. It is dawning on thousands of Americans that our federal government is treating Alaska shabbily. Assistance to Alaska has been neither of the right kind nor fast enough.

"We're beginning to ask why can't we be treated at least as well as foreigners who aren't suffering from a great natural disaster. Why this discrimination; why this double standard?"

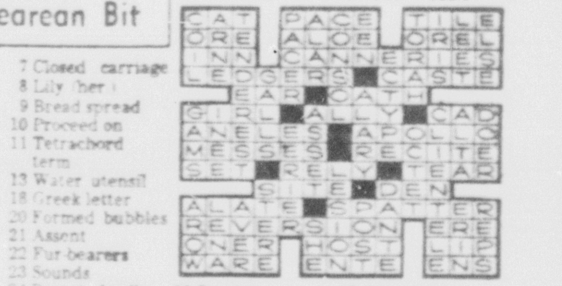
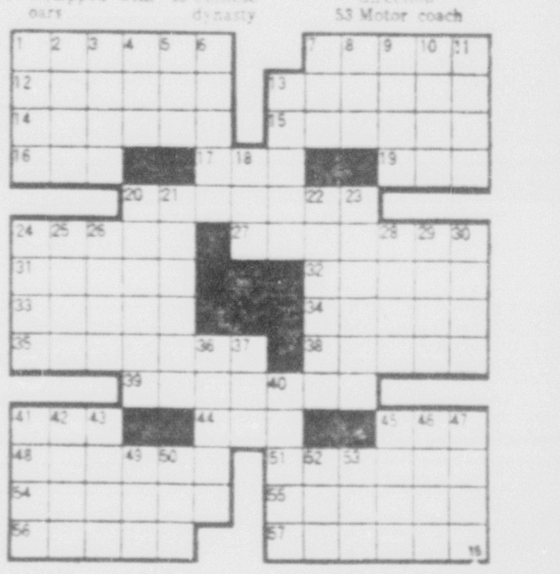
Answer to Previous Puzzle





Question Box

Answer: We made this statement to the late Spencer Heath and he said that he wasn't sure that there was a negative for every positive. We have done considerable thinking on that subject since that time. We believe that there is a negative for every positive. Of course, if there is a neutral there is no negative. In all moral Human Relations it seems that there is a negative for every positive.

It makes it easier to understand if you put the Golden Rule in both positive and negative. Very few people understand the Golden Rule. They feel that because they want to do a thing that it is all right to use force on another to make them do it. Or they believe that the majority has a right to do things that no individual has a right to do. If it is true that no one under any circumstances has a right to initiate force then it is also true that no group has a right to initiate force. The word initiate is very important. It doesn't deny a man the right to use defensive force if he is attacked. Another place where it is very important is "Thou Shalt Not Steal." That also means that you shall not rob. The reverse of that is that you should get what you get on a voluntary basis by benefiting those from whom you get. It is voluntaryism in place of involuntaryism.

We are glad to have the opinions of the readers as to where there is an exception to the statement that there is a negative for every positive or a positive for every negative — especially relating to human relations problems. It is in the area of human relations that we are in bad shape. The more people understand the merits and the morality and the benefits of voluntaryism, rather than coercion or initiated force, the better off we all will be. Where we seem to be in the most trouble is that people believe that the state has a right to steal, to take something from an individual and give him nothing that he regards as valuable in return. They seem to think that the majority or the state has a right to do things that no individual would claim he had a right to do if he used the stealing commandment as a guide of human conduct.

Questions are limited to general human relations questions that will improve the well-being of all mankind on this earth.

American Stock Exchange

NEW YORK (AP)—Following is a complete list of stock and bond transactions today on the American Stock Exchange with 3:00 p.m. prices.

Wall Street Report

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market nudged irregularly higher early this afternoon. Trading was the lightest in weeks.

Gains of key stocks were mainly fractional, some going to a point or so.

An exception was Du Pont, up more than 3 points as it rebounded from some sharp declines this week.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .5 at 306.9 with industrials up 1.0, rails up .1 and utilities up .1.

U.S. Smelting rose about a point. Polaroid lost a point and Control Data more than that.

Grain Market

CHICAGO (AP) — The May wheat contract was the most spectacular performer again today in the grain futures market but support was somewhat improved and prices generally firmed on the Board of Trade.

May wheat moved up well over seven cents a bushel at times as short interests again scrambled to cover commitments in the pit.

Activity in the other grains was relatively quiet with offerings scarce.

Carlot receipts today were estimated at: wheat 9 cars, corn 76, oats 8, rye none, barley 11, soybeans 7.

Nikita, Nasser Cruise Famous Old Red Sea

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

CAIRO (AP)—Premier Khrushchev cruised the Red Sea today with President Gamal Abdel Nasser, leaving the world to wonder whether they were talking politics or just telling fish stories.

Officially the trip is a fishing vacation aboard the presidential yacht Hourryia, complete with the Nasser and Khrushchev families.

However, Algeria's President Ahmed Ben Bella and Iraqi President Abdel Salam Aref also went along. It was doubtful that all these political personalities would stick to fishing.

A curtain of secrecy descended as soon as Nsaser, Khrushchev and Aref flew off from Aswan, where they participated in ceremonies yesterday marking completion of the first stage of the Aswan High Dam.

Ben Bella flew from Cairo Thursday night to join the group. He was followed by Egyptian Premier Aly Sabry and other Egyptian officials.

The official schedule called for Khrushchev and Nasser to return to Aswan tonight. But members of the Soviet entourage said the flight back might be delayed until Saturday morning if Khrushchev enjoyed the fishing—or the talking.

Johnson Pontiac Adds Salesmen

Clark, who is returning to a sales position after one year's absence from the firm, formerly owned Clark's Candies at 26 S. Tejon St., which he operated for five years after he moved to Colorado Springs from Michigan. Durning his recent absence from the automobile business he operated a candy store at 106 E. Pikes Peak Ave., leasing space in the Busy Corner Luncheonette.

He has lived in Colorado Springs eight years. He and his wife, Judy, together with their sons, Gary and Ronnie, and daughter, Gail live at 1825 Northview Dr.

Lowrey has been in the automobile business in Iowa and California since 1934, with the exception of two years in 1958-59 when he and his brother operated Lowery Bros. Construction Co., in Des Moines, Iowa.

He recently moved to Colorado Springs from Paramount, Calif., a suburb of Los Angeles, where he was with Louis Frahon Pontiac Co.

Mrs. Lowery, a supervisor at Long Beach General Hospital, plans to move to Colorado Springs in the near future. Until he finds a suitable home, Lowery is staying with a sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Gardner, 1703 Clemson Dr.

Self Defense Club Is Opened At 602 S. Weber

The Amid Club, successor to the Colorado Springs Judo School, will hold its grand opening from 3 to 7 p.m. today at 602 S. Weber St.

The club is owned by Robert Rapue of Denver, who holds a third degree black belt in karata and a first degree black belt in judo. Rapue operates three clubs in Denver — one in South Denver, one near North High School and another in Lakewood. He's been in the business 14 years, and among those training at his gymnasiums is fighter Sonny Liston.

The Colorado Springs Club will be managed by Jerry Simmonds, formerly of Denver. Simmonds holds a first degree black belt in judo, in which he became interested five years ago while serving with the Navy in Japan. His wife is the former Mary Ann Jackson of Colorado Springs.

The club takes its name from the first letters of "advanced methods in defense." It will offer body building on an individual basis and class instruction in judo, Chinese karate and aikkido.

Amid's gymnasium has complete body building facilities, including an Olympic bar set, dumbbells, bar bells, reducing machines, overhead pulleys, wall pulleys and steam facilities.

Wednesdays will be set aside for courses for women, including self defense courses with a woman instructor.

The gymnasium will be open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily.

HIGHER RATES

DENVER (UPI)—State Insurance Commissioner J. Richard Barnes said Wednesday he believed more Colorado insurance companies might ask permission to increase their automobile rates. Rate increases were granted Tuesday to firms writing about 20 per cent of the automobile insurance in the state. Barnes said other firms wishing an increase would have to file separate requests.

Race Pace Car 'Twin' Will Be Displayed Here

Phil Long Inc. of Colorado Springs is one of 15 Ford dealerships in the Denver sales district that received a Mustang today that is identical to the vehicle which will pace the Indianapolis 500-mile race on Memorial Day.

Delivery of the pace car units for display were made at a luncheon meeting in Denver at which the Colorado Springs dealership also received a Ford Distinguished Achievement Award, given "in recognition of progressive management, modern sales and service facilities, sound merchandising practices, high quality standards and continuing interest in rendering superior service."

The 15 pace car dealers were chosen to display the Indianapolis units as a result of their sales performance in April and the last week of March. Each of the vehicles has a special stark white finish, blue racing stripes and a decal like those that appear on the actual pace car.

Exiles See More Hope Against Castro

A spokesman for Revolutionary Recovery Movement noted Brazil's break came the day of its own raid on a Cuban port.

"The war against Castro starting now is gaining support in Latin America," he said.

A spokesman for Second National Front of Escambray, Alpha 66 and People's Revolutionary Movement, an allied trio, said: "First Venezuela was saved against Communist aggression, then Fidel Castro failed in Panama, now Brazil has followed the will of the people."

Baker Scandal Reopening Is Defeated

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican move to reopen and expand the Bobby Baker investigation threw the Senate into turmoil before it was defeated by a 42-33 vote.

The short, snappy election-year set-to Thursday was one of the most tumultuous the Senate had seen in many a day.

The highlight was a shouting match between Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., with freshman Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., caught in the middle as the temporary presiding officer.

It was on Mansfield's motion that the Senate voted to table and thus kill a resolution to bring members of the Senate specifically within the scope of the Baker probe and to broaden it to cover the handling of campaign funds and other matters.

The resolution, offered by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., also would have extended the investigation by the Senate Rules Committee until Sept. 1. The committee's authority now expires at the end of this month.

All 42 votes for tabling the resolution were cast by Democratic senators. Voting against the tabling motion were 24 Republicans and 9 Democrats.

The committee's investigation, in which President Johnson's name figured, was launched after Baker had resigned under fire last Oct. 7 from his $19,600-a-year post as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority.

The Senate directed the committee to find out whether Baker or other employes or officers of the Senate had engaged in outside business dealings that conflicted with their official duties or that involved other improprieties.

Baker pursued lucrative business ventures while on the Senate payroll. When called as a witness he refused to answer questions, invoking the protection against possible self-incrimination provided by the 5th Amendment to the Constitution.

Williams introduced his resolution to extend and expand the probe after Case went before the committee Tuesday and urged it to ask each senator about any financial dealings they may have had with Baker and any campaign contributions Baker may have helped them get.

In leading the fight against the Williams resolution in Thursday's wild uproar, Mansfield accused Republicans of "thinly-veiled innuendoes" and said if they had any specific charges to make against any of their colleagues they should submit them to the rules committee. "Put up or shut up," he said heatedly.

In a voice breaking with emotion, Case protested that Mansfield had imputed conduct unbecoming to a senator to him, in violation of the rules, and demanded that he be recognized on a point of personal privilege.

Kennedy held that Mansfield had not violated the rules. Case shouted he appealed the ruling and said the appeal was debatable. Mansfield retorted he had the floor and didn't yield.

"I didn't mention the senator by name or implication," Mansfield snapped, referring to Case. "What he assumes, he assumes."

Case kept shouting for recognition. Kennedy told him to take his seat and after consulting the Senate parliamentarian ruled that the clerk should call the roll.

After the vote, Case bitterly accused Mansfield of becoming a "tyrant" and said "what you have witnessed in the last 15 or 20 minutes is one of the roughest, unfair exhibitions of overriding in an individual senator's rights."

Bacteria, Virus Link Seen In Dangers to Humans

By JOHN BARBOUR
AP Science Writer

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—There is a curious coziness between bacteria and viruses—the two major infective agents in man. It may help explain how a peaceful cell can beget warlike offspring.

This is a fragment of a picture of virus action on bacteria—a picture that may someday be proved to be the case in human cells, a Columbia University pediatrician said today.

Dr. Hattie Alexander offered this over-all view compiled by medical researchers:

A virus that infects a bacterial cell may cause a sudden explosive growth of more virus, finally swelling and killing the cell. Or it may live in relative harmony, reproducing itself as part of the cell's genes.

A virus sometimes picks up some characteristics of the cell it has infected and carries those hereditary traits to the next bacteria it infects, Dr. Alexander told a symposium on "The Child"—part of the 75th anniversary of Johns Hopkins Hospital.

These bits and pieces of the story of virus infection may be duplicated by a recent discovery of how viruses are connected with cancer.

The most recent work on viruses in mammalian cells is essentially that of Dr. Albert Sabin, developer of the live virus polio vaccine, and Dr. John Enders, who shared a Nobel Prize to the research team that first isolated polio virus.

Both men have found that a certain virus infects mammalian cells in the compatible way that viruses sometimes infect bacteria.

Yet the virus, while living in harmony with the cells, does make those cells reproduce wildly. When transplanted into hamsters, these cells grow into masses of tumor cells.

Furthermore, both researchers coaxed the virus out of the tumor cells again and made it behave like a virus.

This is essentially the same state in which some viruses and bacteria live together—and this harmonious relationship — without the tumor-producing overtones—may be a useful tool in investigating the possible role of viruses to cancer cells.

"It is our aim to determine whether the principles learned from bacteria can be applied to cells of children with inborn errors of metabolism and to (cancer) cells," Dr. Alexander said. "If we can understand the control of these abnormalities, change in the abnormal trait may be possible."

COSTS INCREASE

DENVER (UPI)— The State Department of Education predicted Wednesday that school operating costs in Colorado would jump from $192.8 million to $271.4 million in the next five years. This is an increase of 41 per cent. It said enrollment would jump from 16,990 25-student classroom units to 20,780 in 1968-69—an increase of 22 per cent.

Consul in Hong Kong Reported Threatened

HONG KONG (AP) — Plainclothes detectives kept a close watch today on the residence of U.S. Consul General Edward Rice after a report that a Chinese had threatened to kill him.

Both the consulate general and the Hong Kong government declined to comment.

Usually reliable sources said a Chinese made a verbal threat to kill the consul general Thursday after Rice refused to see him. The sources said the Chinese had been deported from the United States and complained that he had been mistreated.

STAMPS POPULAR IN ENGLAND

NEW YORK (UPI)—Interest in trading stamps in England is at an all-time high, according to industry researchers.

About one in three British adults now save stamps to redeem them for merchandise, compared with one in 10 adults who saved stamps during 1962, says Sperry and Hutchinson Company, Ltd.

WHEAT NEED

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — At the present rate of world wheat consumption and population growth, the United States will need to increase its wheat production by 300 per cent in the next 35 years—even if American farmers are to provide only a fourth of the world's needs, according to H. Robert Diercks, an official of Cargill, Inc., grain exporter.

Science Fiction Is Today's Reality, Colonel Tells Club

The sonic boom is here to stay and we must learn to live with it, Col. Thomas Taggart told Exchange Club members at a Thursday luncheon.

"The science fiction of a few years ago is a reality today," the ADC command judge advocate said. "We must fly. Our defense posture requires we be geared to this kind of speed.

"The sonic boom can also be called the sound of freedom," the colonel said, "although the Air Force dictionary describes the effect as a thunderclap of sound generated by supersonic plane pushing aside air currents and creating sound ripples by crashing the sonic barrier."

Referring to tests being made by the Air Force in the sonic boom field, specifically in the 200-mile air corridor in Oklahoma, the colonel said the tests have proved of value in measuring public reaction and opinion and are also pracical tests as to the amount of physical damage caused by the phenomenon.

"Engineers report that sonic booms will cause a minimum amount of damage if planes are flying at 30000 feet altitude. Supersonic planes are prohibited from flying at speeds faster than sound below that altitude," Taggart said.

"We must continue to have research in this field not only from the standpoint of the military but from the commercial aspect as well," Taggart continued. "Today commercial supersonic flight. Therefore research in this field is a must."

Speaking of the tests which occurred over Oklahoma City, planes are on the threshold of Taggart said that a variety of damage claims have been filed against the Air Force. The most unusual, he said, was a rape charge brought by a woman. The woman reported that a sonic boom broke the glass in her bedroom window where she was sleeping, allowing a burglar to enter and rape her. Other claims have to do with structure damage, broken sidewalks and a cellar wall.

An earlier test in the Mississippi Valley resulted in a $10,000 claim made by the University of Iowa for glass broken in the university hospital.

"Public reaction throughout the country is critical today but continual aeronautical tests are being made on equipment which will point the way to a reduction of noise caused by the sonic booms of the future," Taggart concluded.

An earlier Associated Press story described the Oklahoma City sonic boom situation as having reached the district court stage. According to the story, a state district court issued a temporary restraining order Tuesday to halt the program blamed by anti - boomers for "destroying, damaging and weakening the structures of private homes and business properties."

The Associated Press story reports that opponents of the tests have been vocal and numerous but there have been many who favor the program.

Attorney George Miskovsky, representing the protesting citizens, called the action "A showdown on sonic booms." Some 2,800 damage claims have been filed since the program started Feb. 3. Complaints total more than 5,000.

The complaints range from that of a woman who said the blasts broke her brassiere strap, to a worker in a dynamite storage magazine who said he is tired of taking aspirin.

Telephone Equipment Stolen From Roadside

A nitrogen bottle, a set of pressure gauges and a section of a welding hose worth a total of $119 were stolen from the Bell Telephone Co. and Colorado Springs Oxygen Co., the sheriff's office reported Thursday.

According to Deputy Sheriff Eldon McCune the left happened approximately May 7 and the missing items were at the side of the Air Port Road just across from Colorado Gardens.

Conservatives Gain Another Victory

LONDON (AP) — Britain's Conservative government surprised the experts today by retaining three of four seats in the House of Commons at special elections to fill vacancies.

The conservatives had held all four before death or resignation left them vacant. But there had been considerable expectation the Tories would lose two. Some experts thought they would lose all four.

The voting Thursday was the last election test before the national election which Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home will call this fall, before Nov. 5. All public opinion polls and recent local elections indicate a sweeping Labor victory.

The dividing line was decided Thursday in preparing regulations for the first annual tomato fair June 19.

If you grow up to 49 plants you're an amateur. If you grow 50 or more you're a pro.

Prizes will be awarded in both classes.

Palmer Lake Area News

By MARIAN McINTYRE McDONOUGH — 481-2323

Mr. and Mrs. William Proctor and family were guests one evening recently at the home of Mrs. David Gibbs in Monument.

Frank McDonough is ill at Penrose Hospital, which he entered May 2. His condition is somewhat improved.

Mrs. Arthur Bradley had to return to Penrose Hospital for further treatment. She hopes to be home in a day or two.

Mrs. Helen Andrews, of Castle Rock, and Mrs. Myra Gibbs entertained the Cherry Extension Homemakers Club Wednesday last.

Mrs. Deane Younger and Mrs. Norma Lavelett, who attended "Color is a Key to a Decorating Plan" at the Fabrics project in Colorado Springs, agve an interesting report at the Extension Homemakers Club meeting. A ham luncheon was served at one o'clock.

The Rogers McDonoughs spent Sunday and stayed overnight with their daughter, Mrs. Ira R. Davis, and grandsons, Robert and Rogers, at their home in Denver.

Mrs. Henry Rasmussen spent the weekend at her Palmer Lake home.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Roesken returned Wednesday from spending several weeks in the east where they were called by the death of Mr. Roesken's father.

Mrs. Edward Schade entertained her two table bridge club in her home on Wednesday evening.

The Palmer Lake Extension Homemakers Club workshop met Tuesday at the Town Hall.

Mrs. Charlean Rice has purchased the Claude Woolford house and expects to move in shortly.

The George Dunns have arrived to spend the season at their Glen Park home.

The Norman Footes have returned from a visit in Washington, D.C., and Omaha.

A recent donation to the Palmer Lake Historical Society Museum was an old glass bottle on which is cut the likeness of an elephant. The bottle was found in Glen Park by Anne McDonald and presented to the Society. It is presumed to have come from the old bottling works once located near the Glen. Another recent gift was a lovely blouse, worn by the late Miss Caroline Feist of Glen Park. This was donated by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lennhoff.

Palmer Lake Historical Society will meet Thursday evening May 21 at the Town Hall at 8 p.m. The speaker will be Hazel Howe of Colorado Springs, who will talk on, "Silver Plume." Miss Howe was born in Akron, Colo., and attended Colorado Springs High School and Colorado State College of Education. She has spent 21 summers in Silver Plume and has written a book, "Story of Silver Plume," which went into its second edition. Three years ago she opened a Historical Museum in the old schoolhouse at Silver Plume. She belongs to The State Historical Society, Pikes Peak Historical Society, Business and Professional Women and is a corresponding member of Denver Westerners. She teaches physical education and remedial reading at South Junior High School in Colorado Springs. Following the program refreshments will be served. The public is invited to attend this event.

U.S. Captain Faces Desertion Charges

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP)—Capt. Alfred Svenson, delivered into U.S. custody by Soviet authorities a week ago after spending a year in East Germany, has been charged with desertion and larceny, the U.S. Army announced today.

Svenson, a naturalized citizen of Lithuanian birth, drove across the border to East Germany on May 4, 1963, in an Army jeep. His use of the vehicle, which the East Germans returned, is the basis of the larceny charge.

The Army announced on May 7 that Soviet authorities had handed Svenson over. ADN, the East German news agency, said he had been expelled after "showing himself unworthy of the asylum offered him." It gave no details.

The Army said a medical examination showed Svenson to be in good condition. He is being held in the stockade at Mannheim, Germany.

Truman, Johnson See Funeral of Cannon

ELSBERRY, Mo. (AP)—With President Johnson, and former President Harry S. Truman somberly looking on Thursday, this small, rural community buried its most famous son, Rep. Clarence Cannon.

Cannon, who became one of the most influential men in Washington, will lie beside his parents in the cemetery outside his home town. He died Tuesday at the age of 85 in Washington.

Residents of northeast Missouri's ninth district first sent him to Congress in 1922. He remained there 41 years, 19 of them as chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

Most of the town's 1,500 residents gathered to pay their final respects. The crowd swelled to an estimated 10,000 as mourners came from throughout the rolling hills surrounding this Mississippi River community. People lined the sidewalks, four deep, outside the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. Paule Grimes delivered the eulogy.

A 43-man delegation from the House of Representatives and Missouri's two senators, Stuart Symington and Edward V. Long, also travelled from Washington for the service.

LOOKING UP

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Motion Picture Association of America reported that revenues of member companies in 1963 showed a five per cent rise after staying static from 1957 through 1962. There had been a gradual decline from 1947 to 1957. Preliminary reports indicate a possibly greater gain in 1964 than last year.

Jobs Go Begging in 8 Big-Pay Fields

WASHINGTON, D.C. It is reported that a nationwide shortage of trained people exists in eight big-pay fields: Accounting, Business Law, Income Tax, Business Management, Sales, Traffic & Transportation, Stenotype Machine Shorthand and Drafting.

Men and women who wish to qualify for the thousands of available positions are invited to send for a free booklet describing opportunities in any one of these eight fields. This booklet tells you how you can train in spare hours at home, without losing a single day's pay from your present job. You proceed at your own pace. No previous experience is required to get started.

To get your free booklet, print your name, address and the field of your choice on a post card and mail it directly to LaSalle Extension University, A Correspondence Institution, Chicago, Dept. 28-365, Box B-87, c/o Gazette Telegraph. Adv.

Youth Gets Fine, For Violations

Benedict D. Barella was fined $60 and sentenced to 60 days in County Jail Thursday by Justice of the Peace H. C. McShane for having no operator's license and driving with an expired temporary permit. The judge said this "was at least the third time" the defendant had been picked up for having no operator's license. Barella, 19, 814 S. Wahsatch Ave., was arrested May 2, on North Hancock Avenue by Police Officer Q. Conrad.

Raymond Joseph Pedrosa, 19, 540 E. Bijou St., was unable to pay a $35 fine and costs for hit and run and careless driving and was sent to jail. He was ticketed May 2 by Conrad on East Platte Avenue.

Having no operator's license and misuse of plates cost Wesley Thomas Beavor, 19, Oklahoma City, Okla. $15 and costs. The incident happened Tuesday on South Tejon Street and the officer was James O. Hermansen of the police.

INSURANCE COSTS

NEW YORK (UPI)—Expenditures of Americans for various kinds of personal and family insurance, including pensions, have jumped from $14.3 billion in 1950 to $51.8 billion in 1963, the Institute of Life Insurance reports.

ANTICIPATION — Irving Speers, 64, Wichita, Kan., hopes to cash a $10 Missouri bond issued in 1862 and now worth estimated $176,000. He's filed suit in federal court to collect after Missouri officials said bond is unredeemable because money was used against federal government in Civil War. (AP Wirephoto)

Driver Argues But Judge Imposes Fine

A 33-year old woman said Thursday in Municipal Court that she thought she should have been given a warning instead of a ticket for violating the right turn ordnance because she seldom goes dowotown.

Mrs. Mary Gowens, 2423 E. Bandelier Dr., said she'd read about the ordnance in the papers but thought it concerned another intersection rather than the one at Pikes Peak Avenue where she was ticketed April 18 by Patrolman William Sutton.

She also said she knew a woman who had received a "fine" but didn't have to pay it, and thought everyone should be treated equally.

Sutton testified that he had "great difficulty in explaining the violation" to Mrs. Gowens.

Judge Allan Asher pointed out to the woman that drivers have an obligation to constantly observe traffic signs, found her guilty, and imposed a $5 fine.

Mrs. Gowens said she already had eight points against her and this would mean three more, leaving her only one to go, and she couldn't afford to loose her right to drive. The judge told her to be extra careful in the future or this could happen.

In a companion case, Judge Asher found Gary Johnson, 17, 1011 Prairie Rd., guilty of careless driving, imposing a $10 fine, and found Henry Mallory, 73, 507 N. Tejon St., innocent of careless driving.

Otis Earl Hasty, 22, Monument, was found not guilty of charges of reckless and careless driving and injury to city property. He was represented by Leo Rector.

Buford Selvy, 40, of Denver failed to appear in court on a careless driving charge and his $15 bond was ordered forfeited.

Wallace Claims Popular Support For Campaign

By REX THOMAS

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Cecil Jackson dumped the 366 letters onto the conference table and said: "This is how the governor is financing his campaign. On small contributions from thousands of people from across the country who believe in his fight. And they're all spontaneous."

"See for yourself," Gov. George C. Wallace's legal advisor continued. "Read the letters if you want to. See where they're from. We dont have any big contributor. The average is from $1 to $15."

Jackson, who keeps things going in the governor's office while Wallace and the others are following the campaign trail, said the donations "have increased noticeably since Wisconsin."

The letters on the table contained cash and checks totaling $2,785, and came from 19 states. Jackson said the total is a little bigger than usual because it was the weekend mail instead of a one-day batch of letters. He said about $2,000 a day would be closer to the average receipts.

Campaign funds don't all come in the mail. Wallace has received thousands of dollars handed to him or brought to his office from virtually every sizeable office in Alabama. Labor union members have been especially active, aiming at a campaign goal of $1 a worker.

Altogether, it adds up to untold thousands of dollars. But says Jackson, it costs a lot of money to put on a presidential campaign. And it goes out as fast as it comes in.

"We hope to have enough left over," he added wistfully, "to pay back the $20,000 which some of the cabinet members borrowed to get the campaign going when we started in the Wisconsin primary."

Just how much has been contributed to the Wallace fund? How much has been spent? The answers will have to wait for a final accounting, said Jackson.

Wallace himself, back home briefly Thursday for a speech at Auburn University, said, "We're spending it as fast as we can get it in order to keep going."

However spontaneous some donations may be, organized fund-raising drives are going on in some parts of the nation, notably in the South.

Torpedo Confiscated From Cuban Exiles

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A homemade radio controlled torpedo—tested on an open lake near Miami International Airport—has been confiscated from two Cuban exiles.

Cuban underground sources speculate the 11-foot long torpedo was intended for use against the Cuban freighter Las Villas, reportedly loaded in France on May 4 with 300 trucks for Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government. Exiles said the freighter was due to pass near Florida en route to Havana.

Fred Patton, supervising U.S. Customs agent in Miami, said in a statement Thursday: "An unarmed torpedo was seized while it was being transported by two Cuban exiles. We don't know the intended specific use. The matter is still under investigation."

Customs agents refused to say if the Cubans were under arrest.

Japan Agrees to Join Nikita Atom Bomb Plan

TOKYO (AP)—Japan agreed today to back Premier Khrushchev's call for a joint offensive to ban all nuclear weapon tests—provided the Soviets accept an adequate inspection system.

Japanese Premier Hayato Ikeda spilled out Japan's position to Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, who brought Khrushchev's proposal when he arrived Thursday for a two-week visit.

Mikoyan did not comment on Japan's insistence on inspection safeguards, which is similar to the position of the Western powers with which the Soviet Union has refused to agree.

Justice Fines Driver $50 on Two Charges

Leslie Marvin Lewis was fined $50 and costs by Justice of the Peace James F. Quine Thursday for careless driving and hit and run. Lewis, 29, 220½ S. 10th St., was ticketed April 25 on West Colorado Avenue by Police Officer Q. Conrad.

State Patrolman J. Fred Henderson gave a ticket to Maurice A. Halvert, 43, 320 N. Nevada Ave., for making an improper turn on 8th Street Saturday. A fine of $5 and costs was imposed.

Driving a vehicle with defective mufflers cost Russell Lowell Reidsema, 23, Box 302, $5 and costs. The defendant was cited on North Nevada Avenue April 28 by State Patrolman J. E. McDaniel.

Karen Rejeanne Hayes, 17, 1207 Laveta Way was fined $20 and costs for speeding. According to State Patrolman J. Fred Henderson she was driving at 80 miles per hour in a 40 zone on South 8th Street May 8.

STUDENT DROWNS

STERLING (UPI)— Norman T. Yokokoji, 19, a student at Northeastern Junior College, drowned Wednesday in North Sterling Reservoir. The body of the Fort Lupton, Colo., youth was recovered about an hour after the incident. Logan County sheriff's officers said the student had been swimming with three other students when he apparently came down with the cramps.

By G. VAN DER HEUVEL

WASHINGTON — It's enough to give the Republicans the weeping willies. They not only have to contend with the most cyclonic President in history but the most active First Lady since Mrs. Roosevelt.

Now, they've also got to face young Lynda Bird, who may have broken her engagement to her young Navy lieutenant but is obviously still very much in love with politics. During her father's poverty tour, she showed that she'll be a wow in the election campaign this fall.

Lynda Bird is just 20 and a sophomore in college here. She is tall, rather pretty, and like other girls her age, interested in dances and dates and parties. But she also has a rather remarkable interest in national affairs.

PLEASING COMBINATION BUSTING OUT ALL OVER

In a way, she is a rather pleasing combination of her father and her mother. She has her mother's soft Southern charm and accent, her gracious ways with people. She has her father's evangelical spirit and political instincts. And all these traits were bursting out all over the poverty trip.

At nearly ever stop of the six-state tour through the South, she was introduced after the President had made a brief but fervent speech. She spoke without notes but with considerable feeling and touches of humor. She seemed to be as at home on the platform as her parents.

In front of the court house in Gainesville, Ga., for example, she quipped that her father told her she was not only a drop-out from school that day but a stand-in for her mother. And then, getting serious, she appealed to her more youthful listeners:

"We are the group that is making the Peace Corps work and we want to make the job corps work too. Someone asked me 'What can I do. I am just one person in millions.' . . . Maybe in the evenings you could teach somebody to write who doesn't know how. It does not take a college degree to be able to teach someone to be able to read and write . . .

ONES WHO WILL LEAD U.S. IN ANOTHER 30 YEARS

"The young people, my generation, we are going to be the ones who are leading the country in another 30 years. I want to ask you also for your heart and your hand to help all of us in our war against poverty."

All the time she talked, Johnson strained to hear everything she said and to gauge the reaction of the crowd, bubbling over with fatherly pride.

Margaret Truman made some public appearances when her father was in the White House but no one can recall a real precedent for the father-daughter political team that now seems to be in the making.

Young John F. Kennedy Jr. is just like his father — he wants fast decisions. As the late President's secretary, Mrs. Evelyn Lincoln, puts it, "You don't just sit there and dream when he asks you something."

When the 3-year-old dropped into her office across from the White House recently, he spotted a model of his father's Air Force I plane and his face lit up.

"Oh, is that for me's" he enthused.

Mrs. Lincoln hesitated. The model is scheduled to be turned over to the Kennedy Memorial Library.

"Well, make up your mind," John-John told her impatiently.

Actually, Mrs. Kennedy does not bring the boy to Mrs. Lincoln's office very often — there is too much hurt in it. Every time he sees her, he asks: "Now can I see my daddy?"

Pearl Mesta may have the fame and the name, but the biggest party-maker in the world, bar none, is a tall, handsome, soft-spoken blonde in the White House — Mrs. Bess Abell. She can whip up a party for 300 or 3,000 as fast as most women can figure out what to feed the kids for lunch.

Green Mountain Falls News

By CAROLYN McADAMS — 687-9065

The first meeting of the newly elected and installed Town Council was held Monday evening, May 4, in the Town Hall, Mayor Orville (Rusty) Houchin presiding. All council members were present. The annual spring clean-up for the town will begin this week, with the two city trucks driven by Walt Peters and Paul Stafford picking up trash on Mondays for two weeks. Residents are asked to please clean their own premises and place trash at the edge of the road. All that cannot be collected on Monday will be picked up Tuesday during the clean-up drive. Some 8 or 10 boys are to be hired to clear the Fountain Creek and Green Mountain Falls Park. The lake has been drained for its annual cleaning and will be stocked with 500 pounds of rainbow trout from the Hutchins Trout farm, reading for opening day May 30. B. O. Whitaker has been hired as one of the lake attendants, with another man needed. The water situation which has been discussed pro and con for a long time, is presently in a stalemate, several proposals being considered by the Town Council before one is feasible enough to present to a community meeting.

The Ute Pass Community Association held a regular board meeting Tuesday evening, May 5, with a quorum present (all but one member). It was voted to pave the parking area, in front of the porch, up to the street, with black top construction. This is to be done right away. Lt. Col. Ret. Charles Stull, president of the association, led a discussion on handling and operating the newly installed fire extinguishers in the building. Mr. Stull served in the Army explosive disposal work for 20 years before his retirement. Being well qualified for meeting any type of fire hazards he wished as many as possible to understand how to operate the fixtures in case of an emergency. Elmer Tekser was authorized to investigate the cost of a slide projector for community property.

Ten members of the Green Mountain Falls Chipita Park volunteer fire department will finish their five weeks and ten hours training in First Aid May 15, and receive their cards.

The first bulletin from Paint Pony Country Club has been mailed and invitations issued to over 250 guests for the spring opening party, Saturday, May 16, courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Dar Elder and Mrs. Edith Hughes. Many innovations have been made for this year at the club, with a full staff for all the activities. Saturday night will be party night for members and their guests. Ladies' Day luncheon, with cards and golfing, will be planned by Trulie Elder and Edith Hughes. The golf course, tennis court and swimming pool are being reconditioned and a new room furnished for the pool table. A special art exhibit, of Mexican-Indian character studies, will be on display for a few weeks at the beginning of summer.

House guests for a week with Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hendrickson were Mr. Hendrickson's brothers and their wives for a family reunion. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Vic L. Hendrickson., of Brentmortle, Ark., with Mrs. Rex Fields, a sister, from Bartlesville, Okla. Also arriving for the visit was Mrs. Ted Hendrickson, of Mission, Kan. Weekend guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lawrence of Council Grove, Kan., who were here to supervise the remodeling of their summer home "Sky Lodge." A dinner party for the guests was given Saturday at the Crystal Park Restaurant by Mr. and Mrs. Hendrickson.

Mrs. Mary Ann Davis is preparing the Columbine Lodge, famous landmark hotel and motel in the center of town, for its opening May 28. Mrs. Davis will be the manager until the middle of June, when the owners Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hoegh, of Hindsdale, Ill. arrive.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Anderson, Peacock Mountain, announce the birth of a daughter, named Heather Louise, April 30. They have a son, Eric, age 3½. Maternal grandmother, Mrs. J. L. Settele, of Fairplay, Colo., was here for a week, enjoying her only grandchildren.

Ending their bowling season for this term, the Crystola Inn team rolled off a tie for third place and won the trophy. Among the good scores were Kenneth Lofland, 526, and Jack Elston., 553.

The teams' standing in the Ute Classic Mixed Scratch League ended with KRDO in 2nd place, also having the high team game for the season of 795 and winning a $10 purse. Garden Lane came in 4th place; B and B tires 5th, with Ruth Ryan capturing the trophy for high series of 648; Neals Candies, 6th; Townhouse Lounge, 7, and American Electric, 8. Alice Adamsheck was given a trophy for the season's high game of 235.

The VFW League held a banquet and dance May 9, at the VFW Hall for some 250 persons, closing its bowling season, for the 12 teams. Winning first place with the 1-2-3 high series and 2nd high game for the season was the First Industrial Bank team, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lofland; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Adamsheck and Roy Speckman. Guest of the team was Frank Bartley, Green Mountain Falls and vice president of the First Industrial Bank who was presented a sponsor's trophy about 24 inches high with the figures of 5 bowlers. Each of the players was given a small trophy, championship patch for the 1963-64 season and a purse of $129.32 to be divided was presented.

Fifteen members of the 4-H Horse Club with their mounts were present May 7, at the Rodeo Grounds in Woodland Park right after school. Elected as president was Miss Candy Tillman, and as vice president, Kim French. Jerry Martin is horse leader for the club. He gave all the horses an inspection. Members of the 4-H Judging team, Candy Tillman, Sharoan Ryan, Regina Dillon, Ellen Evans and Margie Bleam, spent the day May 9 in Simla, Colo., where they judged six classes. Included were dinner place settings; menu for teenagers; coat linings; curtain material; texture and color for home furnishings and material for bed spread flounces. This 4-H Economics Judging team will represent Teller County and won the trip to Fort Collins for the state contest in June. Mrs. Edward Tillman accompanied the 4-H girls to Simla.

Three generations of mothers and daughters attended the Mothers and Daughters Banquet May 5, held at the Village Christian Church. Mrs. Eilene Prigmore introduced her mother, Mrs. Laura Jones, and Mrs. Jones presented her mother, Mrs. Nellie Need, who was awarded a carnation corsage for being the oldest (young) mother present.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bucher returned home Friday evening, May 8, from an extended visit with their daughter and family in Houston, Texas. They were met at the train by Mr. and Mrs. George Roth, who drove them up Ute Pass to their Trails End residence in Paint Pony Country Club.

The Wednesday work day at the Church in the Wildwood was attended by Ruth Roth, Florence Salisbury, Maxine Haynes, Margaret Jackson, Polly Lamb, Laura Jones and Sallie Bush, all members of the Women's Fellowship. The final work day will be June 3, when a report of items made for the annual Fair is to be given.

The May 4 meeting of the Ute Pass Saddle Club was attended by 39 persons, with new members Mrs. Polly Bartley, Gregg Bartley and Jill Pettit, and guests Sharaon Behm and Peggy Longacre. Carla Pickett was appointed publicity chairman, replacing Nancy Woods. The tryout for Saddle Club Queen will be held May 23 at Pickett Field, at 2 p.m. The summer schedule was announced, beginning with Fun Day May 10; a Trail Ride, May 17, at 11:30 a.m. each one to bring a sack lunch. Gymkhanas will be held on June 21, July 19, Bronc Day, August 1; September 6 and on September 27 a CCHA Show in Woodland Park. The time for all events to start is 1 p.m.. A social hour after the meeting was held. Refreshents were served by Carol Giles and Barbara Gafford.

TEEN TWIST

NEW YORK (UPI)—Today's twisting teen-agers are expected to "twist" consumer goods markets into a new shape when they're in their twenties.

Population projections prepared by the Department of Commerce indicate that by 1975 the U.S. male population aged 20-29 will have jumped 47 per cent over the 1965 level, says Meinhard - Commercial Corp., factoring and financing subsidiary of C.I.T. Financial Corporation, Females aged 20-29 will be up 45 per cent, the firm adds.

Adjustment Board Tables Building Addition Requests

A petition filed by A. E. Pezoldt for permission to construct an addition between two buildings at 3112 E. Highway 24, was tabled Thursday afternoon by the El Paso County Board of Adjustment.

Tabling of the petition until the June meeting followed a protest against the petition by John Ceresa, local developer, who said that Pezoldt should not be given permission to erect the addition until proper sanitation facilities are installed and the area around Pezoldt's Nob Hill Trading Post is cleaned up.

Ceresa also charged that Pezoldt does not have a city water tap, although Pezoldt stated that he did have one. There was also conflict between the two men over two water lines, one of which was installed by Pezoldt, the other by Ceresa.

The adjustment board requested that Pezoldt bring a letter from the City-County Health Department to the next meeting which the petitioner said would give him a clean bill as far as sanitation facilities are concerned. The board will investigate the businessman's water situation.

In other action, the board denied the petition of Mrs. Charles Fairchild for permission to change the use of land in the 3100 block on West Colorado Avenue to a go-cart track in a C-2 Suburban Business district.

The petition was denied on the basis of an item in the county code which specified that a business which emits noisy vibrations will not be permitted in a C-2 zone.

Opposition to the petition came from motel owners in the area who said that the go-cart track would create a nuisance and would make it difficult for them to rent their rooms to visitors who wish to rest.

Burton Jenkins withdrew his petition for permission to erect two dog kennels for commercial use on a tract in an A-4 Agricultural district located on Northgate Road. The application was for interpretation of the use in the zone. Board members suggested that Jenkins should have appeared before the County Planning Commission. The petitioner withdrew his request and plans to submit it to the planners.

Several of Jenkins' neighbors appeared at the hearing and were prepared to present their case in opposition to the petition. They did not do so, however, after Jenkins withdrew his petition.

In other action, the board granted 11 petitions and tabled two others. Petitions granted included the following:

Church of God Holiness by D. Rigdon for permission to construct a covered patio to an existing non-conforming church building and change the use of the church building to a business building in a C-2 Suburban Business district located at 628 N. Circle Dr.

Alsco Products by Lester Roth for permission to build a covered patio in an R-1 Residence district located at 502 Grand Blvd. partly within a rear yard setback that does not conform with the zoning law.

Broadmoor Hotel, Inc., by John Huebsch for permission to erect a 20-foot sign on the south side of the Cheyenne Mountain Zoo road in an R-Residence district.

Harry Harper for permission to change the use of land to a trailer court in an M-Industrial district located at 3600 N. El Paso St.

Earl Tjaden for permission to construct an open covered porch onto an existing dwelling in an R-1 Residence district located at 1133 Richards Ave.

Elmer B. Sievwright, Jr., for permission to construct a covered patio on an existing dwelling in an R-2 Residence district located at 301 Rose Dr., Security.

R. Corwin Johnson for permission to construct a one-family dwelling with basement in an R-2 Residence district at 3510 Temple Dr.

Arnold Hatch for permission to build an addition to an existing non-conforming dwelling in an R-2 Residence district located at 515 Laurel St.

J. C. Penkhus for permission to errect two 12-unit apartment houses, two stories in height, in an M-Industrial district at 3201 and 3203 N. Hancock Ave.

Orval Busch for permission to change the use of land to a trailer court in a C-2 Suburban Business district located at the rear of 3400 N. Cascade Ave.

Richard Bourne for permission to move a one-family dwelling onto a lot in a M-Industrial district located at 2704 Howbert St.

James Polley for permission to change the use of land to a junkyard surrounded by a six-foot solid fence i nan M-industrial zone located at 530 N. 30th St.

Tabled were petitions by Jim Shoemaker for permission to construct a detached garage on a house in an R-2 Residence district located at 3421 N. Institute St., and one by Floyd Sellers for permission to build an addition onto an existing non-conforming dwelling at 3128 Virgin-

Law Professors Urge Reading of Bible in Schools

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two law professors today urged the House Judiciary Committee to vote against a proposed constitutional amendment to permit prayers and Bible readings in public schools.

Prof. Pau A. Freund of Harvard University said there is still too much misunderstanding and emotional unrest to consider making "the first breach in the bulwark of the Bill of Rights."

Prof. Paul A. Freund of Har-University of Michigan said it would be "mistaken and unwise" to amend the Constitution in order to overturn the Supreme Court's decisions banning official prayers and required Bible reading in the schools.

Another lawyer, William B. Ball, former professor of constitutional law at Villanova University and now general counsel to the Pennsylvania Catholic Welfare Committee, told the committee an amendment at this time "is not plainly necessary."

Freund, in prepared testimony, said the Supreme Court decisions involved were "a sound and necessary reflection of the constitutional guarantees of the First Amendment."

Only some overwhelming need, based on the fullest possible understanding of the issue involved, could justify changing the First Amendment, he said. These conditions are not met in the present situation, he added.

Kauper, who was more critical of the Supreme Court decisions and found some merit in the arguments for an amendment, said a close examination of the constitutional change proposed by Rep. Frank J. Becker, R-N.Y., sponsor of the chief amendment, led him to oppose it.

It would restrict the First Amendment, he said in prepared testimony, and open the way for states to bring sectarian religious exercises into the schools.

Ball, although opposing an amendment at this time, said in his prepared testimony that if "ultraseparationists" succeed in divorcing religion from public life completely an amendment will become necessary.

A witness who opposed the Becker amendment Thursday was Raymond J. Fening, representing the men of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church of Middletown, Ohio.

Fening, whose statement did not make clear where he stood on the Becker amendment, left no doubt when he was asked. He called it "vindictive and essentially punitive" as a measure aimed at the Supreme Court and said he was firmly opposed to it.

Daily hospital costs averaged $37 last year, four times more than in 1946.

PUBLIC NOTICE
OF
SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 3
EL PASO COUNTY, COLORADO
May 27, 1964

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN That at a special election to be held on Wednesday, May 27, 1964, in School District No. 3, El Paso County, Colorado, at the Administration Building, 701 Widefield Drive, in said District, there will be submitted to such qualified registered electors of the District who, during the twelve months next preceding the date of election, shall have paid an ad valorem school tax upon property situated within the School District and owned by said person, the following question:

"Shall the Board of Education of School District No. 3, in the County of El Paso and State of Colorado, contract a bonded indebtedness of said District in the amount of $350,000 for the purpose of erecting and furnishing school buildings, erecting and furnishing additions to existing school buildings and for purchasing school grounds within and for said District, said bonds to bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding 4¼% per annum and to mature serially, as follows:

Amount	Maturity
$10,000	1965 to 1969, inclusive
15,000	1970 to 1974, inclusive
20,000	1975 to 1979, inclusive
25,000	1980 to 1984, inclusive

Said bonds may be redeemable at the option of the District at such time or times and with such premium or premiums, if any, as may later be determined by Resolution of the Board of Directors?"

To be properly registered, the name of any voter otherwise qualified must appear upon the registration list of the voting precinct in which he resides made according to law for the next preceding general election of County Officers in El Paso County. In the event said voter is not so registered, he may appear before the County Clerk of El Paso County or the School District No. 3 Administration Building, 701 Widefield Drive, Security, Colorado not less than 10 days nor more than 20 days prior to the time of said school election, and upon making oath that he is not a registered elector of said [illegible] and upon answering all the questions required for registration for a general election, may have his name placed upon the registration list for said school election by said [illegible].

The polling place for the reception of ballots on said question shall be the [illegible] Building. The polls will be open at 7:00 o'clock A.M. of said day, and will remain open continuously until the hour of 7:00 o'clock P.M. of said day.

Ballots to be used in voting upon the question submitted will be furnished by the Secretary of the Board of Education [illegible] to the Judges of Election to the voters. Each elector voting shall be given a ballot whereon shall be printed the question to be voted upon and the words "FOR THE BONDS" and "AGAINST THE BONDS", and the voter shall indicate his approval or disapproval of the proposition submitted by [illegible] opposite the group of words on his ballot which expresses his choice.

Persons who are fully qualified to vote at said election but who will be unable to appear at the polls on election day, may obtain an application for absentee ballot from the Secretary of the School District at the Administration Building, 701 Widefield Drive, Security, Colorado, not later than 5:00 o'clock P.M. [illegible] the 20th day of May, 1964, to determine whether absentee ballot on said question [illegible].

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Board of Education of School District No. 3, in the County of El Paso and State of Colorado, has caused this notice to be given this 18th day of April, 1964.

Buddhist Rights Are Restored in Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Premier Nguyen Khanh signed a decree today officially recognizing the Buddhist Church in South Viet Nam and abolishing restrictions imposed on the faith by the French and the Ngo Dinh Diem regime.

The decree abrogated a hold-over decree from the French regime in Indochina, which gave the Roman Catholic Church favored treatment. That decree sparked Buddhist demonstrations last summer which Diem harshly repressed, a major factor in his overthrow.

The new decree permits the Buddhist Church to own property and accept legacies. Under the old decree the Buddhist Church was not allowed to own property outside its pagodas and accept legacies. The Catholics were permitted both.

The majority of Viet Nam's population is Buddhist. Khanh signed the decree after Buddhist leaders complained he was acting too slowly on their behalf.

UNDAMAGED BY WAIT

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (AP) — Thirty - two years ago Anton Weinkauf was working on the wiring of an organ at Holy Name Catholic Church when his watch slipped out of his pocket and down an opening to a false ceiling several feet below. He was unable to retrieve it.

FIGHT AGAINST MENTAL ILLNESS—Rev. C. W. Bryan (left), president of the El Paso County Association for Mental Health, shows the poster for Mental Health Day to Colorado Springs Mayor Harry W. Hoth, as Mrs. Stewart Hinds, director of the Mental Health Association, watches. On May —, this United Fund agency will stage a day long program at the Emory John Brady Hospital, to which all residents of the region are invited between the hours of 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. May 19 is Community Mental Health Day.

Five Parades On Air Force Academy Slate

Love a parade? The Air Force Academy during the remaining weeks of May and the first week of June will be a fine place for you.

Between this Friday and June 2, a total of five parades are scheduled at the Academy. In addition, approximately 750 cadets and the Academy Band and Drum and Bugle Corps will march Saturday in the Colorado Springs Armed Forces Day parade.

Friday's parade will be held at 5:10 p.m. on the parade ground east of the academic area.

The following Friday, a parade will also be held at 5:10.

A parade is also scheduled for Saturday, May 23, at 11:05 a.m.

Another regularly scheduled event at the Academy open to the public is the daily noon meal formation (except Sundays) at 11:35 a.m. The formation can be seen from the Court of Honor overlook east of Harmon Hall.

Beginning Friday, public demonstrations at the Planetarium will be held Monday through Saturday at 10:30 a.m. and 2:00 and 3:15 p.m. and Sundays at 2:00 and 3:15.

The public may also inspect facilities in the academic area during a special Armed Forces Day open house this Saturday from 12:30 to 4:00 p.m.

SIMULATED FLYING

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A new simulator system, for training pilots to make quick visual adjustment from aircraft instruments to actually seeing terrain has been developed for Research-Technology Division at Wright - Patterson Air Force Base.

Link Division of General Precision Inc. of Binghamton, N.Y., is producing 14 units in addtion to the prototype for the Air Force under a $3.8 million contract.

Mental Health Two-Year Study Planned in Area

A two - year study to assist local communities in taking a close look at their own mental health picture, is one of the goals of the Region VIII Mental Health Planning Committee, comprising citizen groups of El Paso, Cheyenne, Kit Carson, Teller and Lincoln counties, it was announced.

The planning project was formed under the authorization of the Director of the Department of Institutions, as an outcome of a statewide workshop held in late 1963.

The plan divides the state into regions, for the study, planning and creation of "new, comprehensive, community mental health centers where a growing proportion of the mentally ill, no longer isolated in far away hospitals, can stay at home and become well at home," a spokesman said.

The announcement said that construction of the centers would be partially financed by Federal funds authorized by the Congress in 1963, toward the prevention and treatment of mental illness.

A FAMILY AFFAIR

The Du Quoin Fair has been the scene of the famed Hambletonian Race since 1957.

Gene Hayes' son, Bill, assumes the vice presidency of the fair. D. W. Hayes, Don's son, is secretary.

"It is my sincere hope that the Hambletonian will remain in Du Quoin indefinitely," Hayes sad.

Baby Carriage Used To Transport Beer

ROME, N.Y. (AP)—A policeman stopped two men pushing baby carriages at 5 a.m. Wednesday and discovered five cases of beer in the vehicles.

The men admitted, police said, that they had stolen the beer Tuesday from a grocery store and hoped to avoid suspicion by using the baby carriages to transport it.
